Social and Environmental Disclosure by Chinese Firms Yingjun Lu, Indra Abeysekera, 2024-11-01 Given the increased social and environmental problems in China this book looks into the social and environmental disclosure practices of socially responsible Chinese listed firms by constructing a stakeholder driven three dimensional disclosure index The book contains a three part study the first part explores the current status of social and environment disclosure practices The second part empirically examines the relationship between corporate social and environmental disclosure and various influencing factors i e stakeholders power and corporate characteristics The third part empirically examines the link between corporate social responsibility CSR reporting i e publishing a CSR report and the quality of the CSR report and socially responsible reputation The book finds that the CSR report provided more stakeholder relevant social and environmental disclosure than the annual report It also finds that corporate characteristics such as firm size profitability and industry classification are all statistically significant factors influencing the social and environmental disclosure of the Chinese firms studied Shareholders significantly influenced firms social and environmental disclosure and creditors significantly influenced firms disclosure related to their environmental performance The final part of the study reports that publishing a CSR report and CSR reporting quality had a positive influence on firms socially responsible reputations and that the CEO chairman duality negatively influenced firms socially responsible reputation This book will be of interest to those who are keen to learn more about corporate social responsibilities in the context of Chinese firms

Coastal and Marine Geospatial Technologies D.R. Green, 2010-03-11 In 2005 the CoastGIS symposium and exhibition was once again held in Aberdeen Scotland in the UK the second time that we have had the privilege host this international event in the city of Aberdeen This was the 6th International Symposium Computer Mapping and GIS for Coastal Zone

Management a collaboration between the International Cartographic Association's ICA Commission on Marine Cartography and the International Geographical Union's IGU Commission on Coastal Systems The theme for 2005 was Dealing and Building a Marine and Coastal Spatial Data Infrastructure As a major coastal event the CoastGIS series of conferences always attracts an international audience of coastal researchers managers and practitioners who use one or more of the geospatial technologies e.g. GIS GPS digital mapping remote sensing databases and the Internet in their work The CoastGIS series is fundamentally an international event which over the years has gained a strong following attracting delegates from around the globe Hosted by the University of Aberdeen at the Aberdeen Exhibition and Conference Centre AECC once again CoastGIS 2005 provided an opportunity to communicate the results of a wide range of innovative scientific research into coastal and marine applications of the geospatial technologies including remote sensing Geographical Information Systems GIS Global Positioning Systems GPS databases data models the Internet and online mapping systems

Ancient Lakes: Biodiversity, Ecology and Evolution Andrew Rossiter, Hiroya Kawanabe, 2000-08-22 Scattered over several continents the ancient lakes of the world have a unique uninterrupted history dating back beyond 100 000 years Ancient lakes are in effect aquatic islands in which a complex of ecology genetics and evolutionary constraints have shaped in isolation their biotas over hundreds of thousands to millions of years The diverse faunas achieve some of the highest levels of diversity known to any habitat offering unique opportunities as natural laboratories for studying the mechanisms of evolution and speciation in situ This internationally authored volume contains the latest research results and theories to emerge from a diverse range of studies in these lakes Containing exciting new findings in the ecology evolution and systematic studies of ancient lake biotas together with many suggested areas for future research it will be essential reading for all those with a general interest in ecology evolution and natural history In this volume expert scientists present the latest results and perspectives from their research on the organisms of the ancient lakes Diverse in its taxonomic coverage and themes and international in its authorship and coverage Ancient Lakes will appeal to all biologists interested in evolution ecology and biodiversity Ancient lakes are increasingly recognised as important models of evolution and speciation This volume presents a diverse range of exciting new hypotheses and perspectives on ancient lake biotas Information is included on Russian and Chinese faunas available in English here for the first time

Design and Manufacture for Sustainable Development (2003) Bernard Hon, 2004-01-16 The increasing demand for energy raw materials and goods arising from world population growth the emerging concept of sustainable development is concerned with meeting such challenges The widely accepted Brundtland definition of sustainable development states that it is the ability to meet the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs The papers in this volume are from a conference organised by the University of Liverpool in September 2003 and are dedicated to the holistic study and interchange of ideas on the theory technology tools methodology for the entire product life cycle within the framework of sustainable development Design and Manufacture for Sustainable Development 2003 brings together industry leaders and the cutting edge of academic research in this critical area and includes Life cycle engineering from methodology to enterprise culture teaching mechanical engineering course relating to the environment Biodegradable plastics for hygienic disposable products Assessment for product sustainability An exploration of the role values play in designer decision making and how this effects ecodesign outcomes Laser technology applied to sustainable demolition and high energy re usable bricks Sustainability principles for product design Public perceptions of sustainability energy efficiency and recycling how these can inform the design process Applications of Paleoenvironmental Techniques in Estuarine Studies Kaarina Weckström, Krystyna M. Saunders, Peter A. Gell, C. Gregory Skilbeck, 2017-02-13 The aim of this edited volume is to introduce the scientific community to paleoenvironmental studies of estuaries to highlight the types of information that can be obtained from such studies and to promote the use of paleoenvironmental studies in estuarine management Readers will learn about the the application of different paleoecological approaches used in estuaries that develop our understanding of their response to natural and human influences Particular attention is given to the essential steps required for undertaking a paleoecological study in particular with regard to site selection core extraction and chronological techniques followed by the range of indicators that can be used A series of case studies are discussed in the book to demonstrate how paleoecological studies can be used to address key questions and to sustainably manage these important coastal environments in the future This book will appeal to professional scientists interested in estuarine studies and or paleoenvironmental research as well as estuarine managers who are interested in the incorporation of paleoenvironmental research into their management programs Contingent Valuation R. Francis,2012-03-12 Invasive non native species are a major threat to global biodiversity Often introduced accidentally through international travel or trade they invade and colonize new habitats often with devastating consequences for the local flora and fauna. Their environmental impacts can range from damage to resource production e.g. agriculture and forestry and infrastructure e.g. buildings, road and water supply to human health. They consequently can have major economic impacts. It is a priority to prevent their introduction and spread as well as to control them. Freshwater ecosystems are particularly at risk from invasions and are landscape corridors that facilitate the spread of invasives. This book reviews the current state of knowledge of the most notable global invasive freshwater species or groups based on their severity of economic impact, geographic distribution outside of their native range, extent of research and recognition of the ecological severity of the impact of the species by the IUCN. As well as some of the very well known species, the book also covers some invasives that are emerging as serious threats. Examples covered include a range of aquatic and riparian plants, insects, molluscs, crustacea, fish, amphibians, reptiles and mammals as well as some major pathogens of aquatic organisms. The book also includes overview chapters synthesizing the ecological impact of invasive species in fresh water and summarizing practical implications for the management of rivers and other freshwater habitats.
