Advancing The Regional Commons In The New East Asia Politics In Asia:

Advancing the Regional Commons in the New East Asia Siriporn Waijwalku, Kong Chong Ho, Osamu Yoshida, 2016-01-22

Advancing the Regional Commons in the New East Asia highlights a number of interests which members of ASEAN and Plus Three countries collectively recognize. This set of common interests includes not only economic development but also social development. Written by nationals in their respective countries, the different chapters in this volume highlight the different foundations for such common interests and these reflect the different constructive ways in which ASEAN and Plus Three countries come to see a multi-strand cooperative partnership. The task of advancing the regional commons will involve efforts to recognise and nurture ASEAN's and Plus Three's common interests in terms of broad social development, managing regional security issues, the development of a regional infrastructure and ensuring collective progress for all member countries. ASEAN becomes a community in 2015 and the idea of embracing, protecting, sustaining and advancing the regional commons become a vital process. Concurrently, APT has also realized that its contribution to the achieving goal of community and promoting regional commons is absolutely critical for both ASEAN and the Plus Three countries. Academics will find in this volume a clear analytical treatment of issues which regional groupings are currently facing and this can provide the basis for a comparative analysis. This volume will also be of interest to students and the general public looking for a systematic introduction to the successful implementation of cooperative ventures and also an assessment of the new collaborative energies which shape this dynamic region.

Institutional activities have remarkably transformed East Asia, a region once known for the absence of regionalism and regime building efforts. Yet the dynamics of this Asian institutionalization have remained an understudied area of research. This book offers one of the first scholarly attempts to clarify what constitutes institutionalization in East Asia and to systematically trace the origins, discern the features and analyze the prospects of ongoing institutionalization processes in the world's most dynamic region. Institutionalizing East Asia comprises eight essays grouped thematically into three sections. Part I considers East and Southeast Asia as focal points of inter-state exchanges and traces the institutionalization of inter-state cooperation first among the Southeast Asian states and then among those of the wider East Asia. Part II examines the institutionalization of regional collaboration in four domains: economy, security, natural disaster relief and ethnic conflict management. Part III discusses the institutionalization dynamics at the sub-regional and inter-regional levels. The essays in this book offer a useful source of reference for scholars and researchers specializing in East Asia, regional architecture and institution building in international relations. They will also be of interest to postgraduate and research students interested in ASEAN, the drivers and limits of international cooperation as well as the role of regional multilateralism in the Asia Pacific region.

Regional Community Building in East Asia Lee Lai To, Zarina Othman, 2016-09-01

This volume is a collection of papers written by nationals or former nationals of the respective country in ASEAN and Northeast Asia Unlike other works written by scholars outside ASEAN or East Asia it offers an insider's point of view of the 10 ASEAN states China Japan and South Korea on regional community building While a nationalist perspective may permeate throughout the study it is also clear that pursuing regional cooperation is considered to be important by the respective author denoting the non exclusivity between nationalism and regionalism and the mutual reinforcement of the two Each author of this volume has made a deliberate effort to introduce and survey the developmental challenges and experiences of his or her country from a historical perspective All authors without exception have emphasized the importance and advantages in staying with ASEAN or linking up with ASEAN by China Japan and South Korea in political security economic and socio cultural terms Their papers also reveal that the self help and self strengthening mechanism emphasized by the ASEAN Plus Three process will take time to bear fruits In the meantime it seems that bilateral interactions and cooperation between ASEAN and Northeast Asian states remain to be more dominant as shown in this study One can argue that bilateral interactions are the building block of multilateralism interactions To be sure there is a deliberate effort in this study to highlight unity in diversity in East Asia in general and ASEAN in particular

Political Survival and Yasukuni in Japan's Relations with China Mong Cheung, 2016-06-17 What role does the political survival of prime ministers play in Japan's relations with China over the Yasukuni issue Three Japanese prime ministers including Nakasone Yasuhiro Hashimoto Ryutaro and Abe Shinzo complied with China's demands and stopped visiting the controversial Shrine in 1986 1997 and 2007 respectively By contrast the Yasukuni controversy intensified between 2001 and 2006 when a popular Prime Minister Koizumi Junichiro was determined to pay regular homage to the Yasukuni Shrine annually Prime Minister Abe who previously demonstrated restraint over the issue in his first term between 2006 and 2007 visited the Yasukuni unexpectedly in 2013 but not in 2014 or 2015 To explain this variation this book presents an alternative interpretation of Japan's official responses toward China's pressure over the Yasukuni issue between 1985 and 2015 by applying a political survival approach that highlights the domestic political legitimacy of the Japanese prime minister or the ruling party This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Sino Japanese relations Japan's foreign policy and international relations

Japan's Security and Economic Dependence on China and the United States Keisuke Iida, 2017-07-06 With the rise of China Japan and many East Asian countries are caught between maximizing profit from economic ties with her and strengthening alliances with the United States to prevent China from overpowering them Liberals and realists thus debate over the likelihood of either security tensions easing up or economic interdependence getting reduced eventually On the other hand Iida introduces a new theory that reinterprets the relationship between state security and economic interdependence among countries in the Asia Pacific region Based on case studies of recent episodes in East Asia and especially on the experiences of Japan this book highlights an interesting dynamic between security and economic interdependence risk avoidance By understanding how risk avoidance affects the behavior of these countries in terms of security and economics it becomes evident how they eventually settle into what Iida calls Cool Politics and Lukewarm Economics

Chinese Foreign Policy

Under Xi Tiang Boon Hoo, 2017-02-17 There has been a discernable calibration of Chinese foreign policy since the ascension of Xi Jinping to the top leadership positions in China The operative term here is adjustment rather than renovation because there has not been a fundamental transformation of Chinese foreign policy or setting up of a new kitchen in foreign affairs Several continuities in Chinese diplomacy are still evident The People's Republic of China PRC has not wavered from its overarching strategy of rising through peaceful development The PRC is still an active participant and leader in or shaper of global and regional regimes even as it continues to push for reforms of the extant order towards an arrangement which it thinks will be less unjust and more equitable It seeks to better link up with the international track perhaps even more so under Xi's stewardship Yet amidst these continuities it is clear that there have been some profound shifts in China's foreign policy From the enunciation of strategic slogans such as the Asian security concept and major country diplomacy with Chinese characteristics the creation of the China led and initiated Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank the pursuit of Xi's signature foreign policy initiative the One Belt One Road to a purportedly more assertive and resolute defense of China's maritime territorial interests in East Asia examples of these foreign policy calibrations both patent and subtle abound In short this has not been a complete metamorphosis but there are real changes with important repercussions for China and the international system The burning questions then are What Where How and Why What are these key foreign policy adjustments Where and how have these occurred in Chinese diplomacy And what are the reasons or drivers that inform these changes This book seeks to capture these changes Featuring contributions from academics think tank intellectuals and policy practitioners all engaged in the compelling business of China watching the book aims to shed more light on the calibrations that have animated China's diplomacy under Xi a leader who by most accounts is considered the most powerful Chinese numero uno since Deng Xiaoping
