Aerofilms Book Of England From The Air:

The Aerofilms Book of England from the Air Aerofilms Limited, 1979-01-01 The Aerofilms Book of England from the Air Annabel Walker, 1993 The Aerofilms Book of England from the Air Annabel Walker (journaliste).), 1988 The Aerofilms Book of Britain from the Air Bernard Stonehouse, 1982 The Aerofilms Book of Britain from the Air Bernard Stonehouse, 1989 The Really Practical Guide to Primary Geography Marcia Foley, Jan Janikoun, 1996 Substantially revised to incorporate the contents of the 1995 Revised Order and its major implications for geography teaching Includes two brand new chapters on the growing early years sector and OFSTED inspections A whole range of different ways to organise the geography curriculum is discussed with examples The resources sections have been updated and expanded England's Lost Transport Heritage from the Air Allan Brodie, 2025-03-21 Britain was the first country in the world to industrialise and alongside new means of production came novel forms of transport including steam trains and steamships in the 19th century and jet aircraft and hovercrafts in the middle of the 20th century Aerofilms flying across the country from 1919 onwards recorded the country's complex infrastructure of road rail and maritime transport that was in place between the wars and the company was evolving alongside and was part of the new aviation industry that was being created While flying across the country Aerofilms remarkable photographers also recorded how Britain communicated with its imperial territories The collection includes images of the country's vast merchant fleet of liners and cargo vessels as well as the flying boats that formed an international network before jets came to dominate the sky Aerofilms were there to record the first flight of the ill fated airship R101 Much of this interesting transport history that the company's photographers witnessed has now disappeared or has been relegated to being museum exhibits This book uses Aerofilms photographs to tell the story of England's lost transport heritage from Roman roads to supersonic Concorde The Remote Sensing Sourcebook David J. Carter, 1986 Aerofilms James Crawford, Katy Whitaker, Allan Williams, 2014 The Aerofilms company recorded one of the most tumultuous periods of British history This gloriously illustrated book draws on thousands of aerial photographs to present a vivid picture of a nation in the first half of the twentieth century The British Journal of Photography, 1995 England's Motoring Heritage from the Air John Minnis, 2014 The arrival of aerial photography came at a particularly significant moment in terms of the visual appearance of England This selection of photographs makes use of the Aerofilms collection acquired by English Heritage in 2007 When Aerofilms fliers first went up in the skies in 1919 they captured a country that had more or less been preserved in aspic in 1914 What we are looking at in many of the earliest photographs in this book is essentially Edwardian England with towns and villages generally quite compact with fields reaching almost up to the High Streets in many cases and little sign of the sprawl that was to engulf them in the 1920s and 30s This fantastically illustrated book shows just how radically that position changed over the ensuing half century We trace the outward expansion of places brought about by the availability of the car the new suburbs and ribbon development We see how new arterial roads came into being to meet the needs of motor transport and how the centre of cities start to be rebuilt to accommodate it We witness the growth of sprawl around road junctions on the edge of built up areas and the arrival of new types of building there to service both cars and people the filling station the roadhouse We see how the car encouraged more people to go further afield for sport and pleasure to the seaside the races or to new forms of attractions such as the amusement park in the country And we see how public transport changes over the period from trams to buses with the advent of new facilities such as bus stations The scale of traffic congestion becomes apparent by the late 1930s In addition the impact on the landscape of large motor factories and provision for motor sport is made clear England's Military Heritage from the Air Mark Bowden, Allan Brodie, 2024-05-28 England's Military Heritage from the Air presents the story of the country's rich military heritage using photographs from the Aerofilms Collection Covering over 6 000 years it reflects the changing threats faced by England from enemies without and conflicts within The book covers everything from hillforts to aircraft carriers and includes the castles battle sites ships and aircraft that have witnessed the changing character of warfare Ending with how victory and sacrifice are commemorated and remembered England's Military Heritage from the Air is a tribute to the courage skill and endurance of the people who have suffered yet prevailed Liverpool and Manchester Photographic Journal ,1979 Petersen's Photographic Magazine ,1980 The Cumulative Book Index ,1992 A world list of books in the English language National Union Catalog ,1982 Includes entries for maps and atlases Air Pictorial ,1980 Whitaker's Book List ,1991 National Union Catalog , 1979 Library of Congress,1980
