Venture Capital in Germany and the U.S.: Differences and the Influence of Culture Lars Abraham, 2009-10-30 Inhaltsangabe Introduction In today's modern economy a country's or region's competitiveness lies in its capability to innovate. Whilst earlier old and established companies were reliable producers of innovation as well as jobs that is changing. The big corporations are outsourcing and downsizing and the new technologies are emerging from companies that did not exist 20 years ago. This quotation taken from the Handbook of Research on Venture Capital points out the increasing relevance of the Schumpeterian growth regime of today's advanced economies which means that growth and wealth is unlikely to be maximized if most new business developments are carried out by old long existing corporations. While in Europe only few global champions have been created in the past 50 years the United States economy seems to be capable of continuously creating great leading edge companies. Why is Europe lagging behind in enabling new ventures to become global champions? Why are successful high growth companies like Amazon, AMD, AOL, Apple, Cisco, Systems, eBay, Genentech, Intel, Microsoft, Oracle, Sun, Microsystems, Yahoo and recently Google all US based corporations and not of European or Japanese origin? One reason is seen in the outstanding capability of the US economy to put innovative business ideas from individuals, universities and other research institutions into practice and thus create with the help of a well developed venture capital industry new global champions. A strong and sophisticated VC industry is widely recognised for providing a major contribution to turn innovation into internationally successful high growth corporations and therewith foster economic growth. Taking Germany as the largest economy in Europe this thesis will try to work out the main differences of the VC market in Germany which is still considered as lagging behind and its correspondent in the United States. While most of the previous comparative studies focus on single aspects of the VC market and the VC investment process this work will try to provide a brief but comprehensive empirical analysis of the entire venture capital investment process from fundraising to exiting investments As business in general and the venture capital industry in particular is considered to be increasingly influenced by socio economic and cultural factors this thesis draws special attention to differences related to the influence of culture on both VC markets Hence it will be Gründungsmanagement Michael Dowling,Hans J. Attraktivitätsprüfung des Wirtschaftsstandortes USA für deutschsprachige Unternehmensgründer Thomas Kattnigg, 2006-04-07. Inhaltsangabe: Einleitung. Hohes Wirtschaftswachstum und eine durch den Global Competitiveness Report 2005 auf den zweiten Rang errechnete Marktattraktivität lassen die USA als zuerst attraktiven Wirtschaftsstandort erscheinen. Im Speziellen sind Großinvestoren und globale Unternehmen die Nutznießer der Vorteile des Wirtschaftsstandortes USA. Immer wieder sorgten milliardenschwere Fusionen, feindliche Übernahmen und grenzüberschreitende Unternehmensverflechtungen im letzten Jahrzehnt für Schlagzeilen in internationalen Wirtschaftsblättern. Durch den weltweiten Abbau von Handelsbeschränkungen, die Liberalisierung von ausländischen Direktinvestitionen (FDIs), erleichterte Regulierungen und nicht zuletzt die neuen Medien sorgen für das Voranschreiten der Globalisierung. Dies führt weiters zu erhöhtem Konkurrenzdruck und gestiegenen Märkten, welches Unternehmen die Frage nach neuen Absatzmöglichkeiten nahe legt. Im Jahre 2000 konnte ein Rekordstand von Auslandsinvestitionen verzeichnet werden. Diesem Internationalisierungsprozess steht die USA gefolgt von dem asiatischen Raum als größtes Empfängerland entgegen. Somit hat sich das Land der unbegrenzten Möglichkeiten als attraktivster Markt für ausländische Investoren positioniert. Im Speziellen liegen Bundesstaaten wie etwa Kalifornien mit seiner schillernden Metropole Los Angeles im Augenmerk vieler Investoren und Unternehmensgründer. Die Region Los Angeles gesondert betrachtet, liegt mit einem Bruttoinlandsprodukt von mehr als 470 Milliarden Dollar theoretisch auf Rang 16 unter den größten Volkswirtschaften der Welt, gleich hinter Südkorea und Russland. Anders betrachtet, kann man von einem kumulierten Bruttoinlandsprodukt von Südkorea, Indonesien, Thailand, Malaysia und den Philippinen sprechen. Eine weitere Besonderheit liegt in der Tatsache, dass Los Angeles über mehr Technologie-basierende Unternehmen verfügt als der Wirtschaftsknoten Silicon Valley, welcher sich ebenfalls in der Wirtschaftsmacht Kalifornien angesiedelt befindet. Der wirtschaftliche Erfolg von milliardenschweren Fusionen und

Investitionen liegt somit auf der Hand. Doch wie stehen nun die Chancen bei der Gründung eines KMU in den USA für einen deutschsprachigen Entrepreneur? Ist dies auch ohne einen milliardenschweren finanziellen Rückhalt durch das Mutterunternehmen möglich? Geht man noch einen Schritt weiter und lässt sich diese Arbeit zum Auftrag durchführen, darf man die Frage nicht nur auf die Durchführbarkeit einer
