to examine a relatively neglected geographical area the northern plains states of North and South Dakota from a social and cultural perspective Surveying the values and ideals of the old midd Fair America Robert W. Rydell, John E. Findling, Kimberly Pelle, 2000-03-17 Since their inception with New York's Crystal Palace Exhibition in the mid nineteenth century world's fairs have introduced Americans to exotic pleasures such as belly dancing and the Ferris Wheel pathbreaking technologies such as telephones and X rays and futuristic architectural landscaping and transportation schemes Billed by their promoters as encyclopedias of civilization the expositions impressed tens of millions of fairgoers with model environments and utopian visions Setting more than 30 world's fairs from 1853 to 1984 in their historical context the authors show that the expositions reflected and influenced not only the ideals but also the cultural tensions of their times As mainstays rather than mere ornaments of American life world's fairs created national support for such issues as the social reunification of North and South after the Civil War U S imperial expansion at the turn of the 20th century consumer optimism during the Great Depression and the essential unity of humankind in a nuclear age Cultivating Citizens Lauren Kroiz, 2018-04-03 Cultivating Citizens rethinks the aesthetics and politics of regionalism in the United States during the 1930s and 1940s During this period painters Grant Wood Thomas Hart Benton and John Steuart Curry formed a loose alliance as American Regionalists Some lauded their depictions of the rural landscape and hardworking inhabitants of America's midwestern heartland Others deemed Regionalist painting dangerous regarding its easily understood realism as a vehicle for jingoism chauvinism and even fascism Cultivating Citizens shifts the terms of this ongoing debate over subject matter and style by considering heretofore neglected Regionalist programs of art education and concepts of artistic labor Provided by publisher Becoming Modern in Toronto Keith Walden, 1997-01-01 In Becoming Modern in Toronto Keith Walden shows how the Toronto Industrial Exhibition from its founding in 1879 to 1903 when it was renamed the Canadian National Exhibition influenced the shaping and ordering of the emerging urban culture Gentle Warriors Barbara Stuhler, 1995 Author is an alumna of Evanston Township High School class of 1941 Garlic Capital of the World Pauline Adema, 2010-02-17 According to Pauline Adema you smell Gilroy California before you see it In Garlic Capital of the World the folklorist and culinary anthropologist examines the role of food and festivals in creating a place brand or marketable identity The author scrutinizes how Gilroy California successfully transformed a negative association with the pungent bulb into a highly successful tourism and marketing campaign This book explores how local initiatives led to an iconization of the humble product in Gilroy The city a well established agricultural center and bedroom community south of San Francisco rapidly built a place brand identity based on its now famous moniker Garlic Capital of the World To understand Gilroy's success in transforming a local crop into a tourist draw Adema contrasts the development of this now thriving festival with events surrounding the launch and demise of the PigFest in Coppell Texas Indeed the Garlic Festival is so successful that the event is all that many people know about Gilroy Adema explores the creation and subsequent selling of foodscapes or food themed place identities This seemingly ubiquitous practice is readily visible across the country at festivals celebrating edibles like tomatoes peaches spinach and even cauliflower Food Adema contends is an attractive focus for image makers charged with community building and place differentiation Not only is it good to eat food can be a palatable and marketable symbol for a town or region Infrastructuring Publics Matthias Korn,Wolfgang Reißmann,Tobias Röhl,David Sittler,2019-05-28 The volume scrutinizes publics and infrastructures not separately but in their constitutive interrelations and resonances The contributions originating in a range of disciplinary perspectives share a praxeological approach discussing historical and current processes of mediated cooperation in infrastructuring and making public s by tracing different forms of the production design and historic trajectories of various publics and infrastructures The Arts and the American Home, 1890-1930 Jessica H. Foy,Karal Ann Marling,1995-07 Between 1890 and 1930 the domestic arts as well as the daily life of the American family began to reflect rapid advances in technology aesthetics and attitudes about American culture Pictorial literary musical and decorative arts from this era all reveal a shift from clutter to clarity and from profusion to restraint as modern conveniences ranging from pre stamped needlework patterns to central heat were introduced into the domestic environment However the household arts were also affected by an enduring strain of conservatism reflected in the popularity of historically inspired furnishing styles In this collection of essays ten experts in turn of the century popular and material culture examine how the struggle between modernity and tradition was reflected in various facets of the household aesthetic Their findings touch on sub themes of gender generation and class to provide a fascinating commentary on what middle class Americans were prepared to discard in the name of modernity and what they stubbornly retained for the sake of ideology Through an examination of material culture and prescriptive literature from this period the essayists also demonstrate how changes in artistic expression affected the psychological social and cultural lives of everyday Americans This book joins a growing list of titles dedicated to analyzing and interpreting the cultural dimensions of past domestic life Its essays shed new light on house history by tracking the transformation of a significant element of home life its expressions of art Carnival in the Countryside Chris Rasmussen,2015-08-15 More than a century and a half after its founding the Iowa State Fair is the state s central institution event and symbol During its annual run each August the fair attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors who make the pilgrimage to the fairground to see the iconic butter cow to ride the Old Mill to walk through the livestock barns and to people watch At the same time that they enjoy fried candy bars and roller coasters Iowans also compete to raise the best corn and zucchinis to make the best jams and jellies to rear the finest sheep and goats the largest cattle and hogs and the handsomest horses This tension between entertainment and agriculture goes back all the way to the fair s founding in the mid 1800s as historian Chris Rasmussen shows in this thought provoking history The fair s founders had lofty aims they sought to improve agriculture and foster a distinctively democratic American civilization But from the start these noble intentions jostled up against people s desire to have fun and make money honestly or otherwise not least because the fair had to pay for itself In short the Iowa State Fair has as much to tell us about human nature and American history as it does about growing corn Love Entwined Helen Sheumaker, 2007-06-26 Using a wide array of evidence drawn from poetry fiction diaries letters and examples of hairwork Love Entwined traces the widespread popularity of the craft from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth century
