from URBAN DESIGN to LANDSCAPE URBANISM Sariyya ARSLAN, Erkan POLAT, 2025-04-16 Landscape Urbanism is a planning and design theory and a model of practice that argues that the best way to organize cities is through the design of the city's landscape rather than just the design of built or unbuilt areas In this context it is positioned within larger scale cultural historical and theoretical formations Landscape Urbanism is a response to the limited perception or depiction of the current project and site context by both Urban Planners and Architects and Landscape Architects It is also a concept that has been strategically introduced by these design and planning oriented professions and jobs especially in terms of Urban Design as a way to differentiate the context and is used more in a Western oriented way and has been put forward as a response to the increasingly undefined role that Landscape Architects find themselves in Landscape Urbanism describes the ability to produce urban effects that have traditionally been achieved through the construction of buildings on built up areas simply through the organization of horizontal surfaces Although first coined in the mid 1990s the term Landscape Urbanism has adopted many different uses but is most often associated with Urban Design and as a Postmodernist or even New Modernist response to the spatial scale failures of the New Urbanism the departure from comprehensive visions and demands for Modern architecture and Urban Planning

Nature Driven Urbanism Rob Roggema, 2019-10-03 This book discusses the way that a nature driven approach to urbanism can be applied at each of the urban scales architectural design urban design of neighborhoods city planning and landscape architecture and at the city and regional scales At all levels nature driven approaches to design and planning add to the quality of the built structure and furthermore to the quality of life experienced by people living in these environments To include nature and greening to built structures is a good starting point and can add much value The chapter authors have fiducia in giving nature a fundamental role as an integrated network in city design or to make nature the entrance point of the design process and base the design on the needs and qualities of nature itself The highest existence of nature is a permanent ecosystem which endures stressors and circumstances for a prolonged period In an urban context this is not always possible and temporality is an interesting concept explored when nature is not a permanent feature The ecological contribution to the environment and indirect dispersion of species from a temporary location will overall add biodiversity to the entire system Brunei and the Future Transformation of Southeast Asia Gabriel Yit Vui Yong,A.K.M.
