SCM Core Text: Christian Doctrine Mike Higton, 2013-01-25 The SCM Core Text Christian Doctrine offers an up to date accessible introduction to one of the core subjects of theology Written for second and third year university students it shows that Christian Doctrine is not a series of impossible claims to be clung to with blind faith Mike Higton argues that it is rather a set of claims that emerge in the midst of Christian life as Christian communities try to make enough sense of their lives and of their world to allow them to carry on Christian communities have made sense of their own life and the life of the wider world in which they are set as life created by God to share in God's own life They have seen themselves and their world as laid hold of God's life in Jesus of Nazareth and as having the Spirit of God's own life actively at work within them This book explores these and other central Christian doctrines and in each case shows how the doctrine makes sense and how it is woven into Christian life It will help readers to see what sense it might make to say the things that Christian doctrine says and how that doctrine might affect the way that one looks at everything the natural world gossip culture speaking in tongues politics dieting human freedom love High Noon justice computers racism the novels of Jane Austen parenthood death and fashion

Never Again Jeremy Cameron, 2017-03-22 Elderly British men display a variety of annoying habits They write letters to the newspapers they drink too much they reminisce about the old days they make lewd comments to younger women they shout at the television screen and they go for long walks and get lost Jeremy Cameron chose the last of these options Trying to emulate Patrick Leigh Fermor's feat of 1933 he walked from Hook of Holland to Istanbul Leigh Fermor was a legendary figure Scholar multilingual beautiful prose stylist war hero tough guy charmer and famous lover Cameron is none of these things and he also suffers from a heart condition Rest assured that there will be no tedious details of operations or stoicism in this book Nor will there be descriptions of understated generosity quiet irony or British phlegm The main point of travel is to recognise the virtues of staying at home When at home it is not possible to get bogged down in Alpine snow fall over on one's face on Kosovan tarmac or suffer a comprehensive mugging on deserted roads in Greece Nor does one have to speak foreign languages eat foreign food or above all drink terrible tea It is about two thousand miles from Hook of Holland to Istanbul Thirteen countries lie in wait for the walker They have many wonderful sights and much fascinating history Readers will not find them in this book They will however find a number of stories of varying authenticity and some very dubious observations about life By the time Turkey arrived Cameron was utterly and completely fed up with the whole process Never again would he do anything quite so stupid He is currently walking round all the places in England beginning with the letter Q

Science and Religion in Neo-Victorian Novels John Glendening, 2013-04-17 Criticism about the neo Victorian novel a genre of historical fiction that re imagines aspects of the Victorian world from present day perspectives has expanded rapidly in the last fifteen years but given little attention to the engagement between science and religion Of great interest to Victorians this subject often appears in neo Victorian novels including those by such well known authors as John Fowles A S Byatt Graham Swift and Mathew Kneale This book discusses novels in which nineteenth century science including geology paleontology and evolutionary theory interacts with religion through accommodations conflicts and crises of faith In general these texts abandon conventional religion but retain the ethical connectedness and celebration of life associated with spirituality at its best Registering the growth of nineteenth century secularism and drawing on aspects of the romantic tradition and ecological thinking they honor the natural world without imagining that it exists for humans or functions in reference to human values In particular they enact a form of wonderment the capacity of the mind to make sense of creatively adapt and enjoy the world out of which it has evolved in short to endow it with meaning Protagonists who come to experience reality in this expansive way release themselves from self anxiety and alienation In this book Glendening shows how by intermixing past and present fact and fiction neo Victorian narratives with a few instructive exceptions manifest this pattern

Transoceanic Perspectives in Amitav Ghosh's Ibis Trilogy Juan-José Martín-González, 2021-06-23 Transoceanic Perspectives in Amitav Ghosh's Ibis Trilogy studies Ghosh's Sea of Poppies 2008 River of Smoke 2011 and Flood of Fire 2015 in relation to maritime criticism Juan Jos Mart n Gonz lez draws upon the intersections between maritime criticism and postcolonial thought to provide via an analysis of the Ibis trilogy alternative insights into nationalism's cosmopolitanism and globalization He shows that the Victorian age in its transoceanic dimension can be read as an era of proto globalization that facilitates a materialist critique of the inequities of contemporary global neo liberalism The book argues that in order to maintain its critical sharpness postcolonialism must re direct its focus towards today's most obvious legacy of nineteenth century imperialism capitalist globalization Tracing the migrating characters who engage in transoceanic crossings through Victorian sea lanes in the Ibis trilogy Mart n Gonz lez explores how these dispossessed collectives made sense of their identities in the Victorian waterworlds and illustrates the political possibilities provided by the sea crossing and its fluid boundaries

Patagonia Chris Moss, 2016-08-09 Patagonia is the ultimate landscape of the mind Like Siberia and the Sahara it has become a metaphor for nothingness and extremity Its frontiers have stretched beyond the political boundaries of Argentina and Chile to encompass an evocative idea of place A vast triangle at the southern tip of the New World this region of barren steppes soaring peaks and fierce winds was populated by small tribes of hunter gatherers and roaming nomads when Ferdinand Magellan made landfall in 1520 A fateful moment for the natives this was the start of an era of adventure and exploration Soon Sir Francis Drake and John Byron and sailors from Europe and America would be exploring Patagonia's bays and inlets mapping fjords and channels whaling sifting the streams for gold in the endless search for Eldorado As the land was opened up in the nineteenth century a crazed Frenchman declared himself King A group of Welsh families sailed from Liverpool to Northern Patagonia to found a New Jerusalem in the desert Further down the same river Butch and Sundance took time out from bank robbing to run a small ranch near the Patagonian Andes All these and later travel writers have left sketches and records memoirs and diaries evoking Patagonia's grip on the imagination From the empty plains to the crashing seas from the giant dinosaur fossils to glacial sculptures the landscape has inspired generations of travellers and artists

Southern Imagining Elleke Boehmer, 2025-12-30 A new compass for global reading looking at the world from the far southern latitudes A northern viewpoint is most often the default while the south the far southern latitudes occupied by Australia New Zealand Argentina and southern Africa among others seems far away and ignorable In Southern Imagining Elleke Boehmer offers an alternative perspective using literary scientific and cultural material to explore how we look at the world from the south Reading she argues is a transformative means of reversing our usual planetary orientation and rearranging our perceptual geography Boehmer examines writing from across southern continents and islands considering how we imaginatively inhabit the farthest reaches of our planet Creators ranging from the Portuguese epic poet Luís de Camões to Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Charles Darwin Katherine Mansfield Jorge Luis Borges and ancient Indigenous storytellers capture the edgy and austere experiences of the far south For Boehmer imaginative work stimulates and shapes our phenomenological understanding Southerners often see themselves as far away from where things count as outsiders internalising the wider global sense of their relative insignificance Conversely when northerners read or hear legends narratives songs and poems from the south it is as if they are located in the south at least for the duration of the reading or listening Boehmer suggests that the south tilted world map re centred through song and story invites us to claim a more involved sense of belonging to our planet both its north and its south The writers of the south disrupt conventional ways of seeing and invite us to inhabit our globe differently
