When All The World Was Young By Ferrol Sams:

When All the World Was Young Ferrol Sams, 2001-12-26 The final installment in Sam's epic trilogy about coming of age in the South Doctor Margie Don Roper, 2013-03-29 Marjorie Ferrell was always a bit precocious. She could count to a hundred before she was three and when she showed up for the first grade it only took the authorities a day or two to recognize that she belonged in the second. She completed college in three years and was accepted as one of three women in the medical school class of 1943 which she completed in another three aided by wartime acceleration of the program. When she opened a medical practice in her hometown of Bullard, Texas, folks could only think of her as the little girl they remembered riding her bicycle down Main Street. However, they soon realized they had a hero in the making and quickly dubbed her Dr. Margie. This is her story.

PACE'S POST: Ramblings Of Wisdom From A Middle-Aged Doc Victor Pace, 2021-04-03 As a family medicine physician with 29 years of medical experiences and 55 years of life experiences, this book is a compilation of values, ideas, and journeys. The purpose is to help enrich and balance out one's mind, body, and soul. The words written are intended for all adolescent and adult age groups crossing all spectrums. You love traveling, hobbies, activities, family time, philosophical ideals. It's all here wrapped up in one book. After O'Connor Hugh Ruppersburg, 2003 Georgia has produced some of the major figures of modern literature including Carson McCullers, Erskine Caldwell, and most notably Flannery O'Connor. While such writers are firmly established in American literary history, all too few readers are aware of how the state's tradition of literary excellence persists in the present day. The thirty stories in After O'Connor were written during the past fifteen years by authors who were born in Georgia or spent a significant part of their lives and careers in this state. Embracing the social, cultural, and ethnic variety in today's Georgia, After O'Connor both advances and helps redefine the great southern storytelling tradition.

Contemporary Fiction Writers of the South Joseph M. Flora, Robert Bain, 1993-08-23 The extraordinary flowering of Southern literary talent in the early twentieth century, the Southern Literary Renaissance, has continued virtually unabated, showing increasing vitality in recent decades. These newer fiction writers, poets, dramatists, and journalists reflect in their work the changing social conditions of the South while also presenting traditional Southern values and qualities. Their astonishing output constitutes a phenomenon worthy of being called a Second Southern Literary Renaissance. Joseph M. Flora and Robert Bain, editors of the acclaimed Fifty Southern Writers before 1900 and Fifty Southern Writers after 1900, found that they could only begin to suggest the continuing abundance and significance of Southern writing in the latter volume. Retaining the same format, they have developed two new volumes for the contemporary period. The first, focusing on fiction, comprises forty-nine talented novelists, including such popular figures as Pat Conroy, Gail Godwin, T. R. Pearson, Anne Tyler, and Alice Walker. The companion volume, Contemporary Poets, Dramatists, Essayists, and Novelists: A Bio-Bibliographical Sourcebook, forthcoming from Greenwood Press, will cover primarily poets, playwrights, and essayists as well as fiction writers who have made major contributions to these other genres.

The essays written by scholars and critics present in each case a biographical sketch an analysis of the writer s style and major themes an assessment of reviews and scholarship a chronological list of works and a bibliography of selected criticism Considered individually and comparatively and with attention to the editors introductory essay these bio bibliographical studies clearly demonstrate the state and strength of Southern letters
