African Divination Systems Ways Of Knowing African Systems Of Thought:

African Divination Systems Philip M. Peek,1991 This volume of finely crafted case studies is also the vehicle for an important general theory of divination this is a book overflowing with ideas that will powerfully stimulate further research Journal of Ritual Studies The essays in this collection provide a very useful overview of both the diversity of African divination systems and of recent approaches to their study Choice This unique collection of essays by an exceptional international group of Africanists demonstrates the central role that divination continues to play throughout Africa in maintaining cultural systems and in guiding human action African Divination Systems offers insights for current discussions in comparative epistemology cross cultural psychology cognition studies semiotics ethnoscience religious studies and anthropology

Postcoloniality, Translation, and the Bible in Africa Musa W. Dube,R. S. Wafula,2017-07-14 This book is critically important for Bible translation theorists postcolonial scholars church leaders and the general public interested in the history politics and nature of Bible translation work in Africa It is also useful to students of gender studies political science biblical studies and history of colonization studies The book catalogs the major work that has been undertaken by African scholars This work critiques and contests colonial Bible translation narratives by privileging the importance African oral vitality in rewriting the meaning of biblical texts in the African sociopolitical political and cultural contexts Who Do the Ngimurok Say That They Are? Kevin P. Lines,2018-04-12 How do missiologists describe the cosmologies of those that Christianity encounters around the world Our descriptions often end up filtered through our own Western religious categories Furthermore indigenous Christians adopt these Western religious categories This presents the problem of local Christianities described by Kwame Bediako as those that have not known how to relate to their traditional culture in terms other than those of denunciation or of separateness Kevin Lines s phenomenological study of local religious specialists in Turkana Kenya not only challenges our Western categories by revealing a more authentic complexity of the issues for local Christians and Western missionaries but also provides a model for continued use of phenomenology as a valued research method in larger missiological studies Additionally this study points to the ways that local Christians and traditional religious practitioners interpret Western missionaries through local religious categories Clearly missionaries missiologists anthropologists and religious studies scholars need to do a much more careful job of studying and describing the contextually specific phenomena of traditional religious specialists before relying on meta categories that come out of our Western theology or older overly simplified ethnographies The research from this current study of Turkana religious specialists begins that process in the Turkana context and offers a model for future studies in contexts where traditional religion and Christianity intersect

Along an African Border Sonia Silva,Sónia Silva,2011-06-01 The divination baskets of south Central Africa are woven for a specific purpose The baskets known as lipele contain sixty or so small articles from seeds claws and minuscule horns to wooden carvings Each article has its own name and symbolic meaning and collectively they are known as jipelo For the

Luvale and related peoples the lipele is more than a container of souvenirs it is a tool a source of crucial information from the ancestral past and advice for the future In Along an African Border anthropologist S nia Silva examines how Angolan refugees living in Zambia use these divination baskets to cope with daily life in a new land Silva documents the special processes involved in weaving the baskets and transforming them into oracles She speaks with diviners who make their living interpreting lipele messages and speaks also with their knowledge seeking clients To the Luvale these baskets are capable of thinking hearing judging and responding They communicate by means of jipelo articles drawn in configurations interact with persons and other objects punish wrongdoers assist people in need and much like humans go through a life course that is marked with an initiation ceremony and a special burial The lipele functions in a state between object and person Notably absent from lipele divination is any discussion or representation in the form of symbolic objects of the violence in Angola or the Luvale s relocation struggles instead the consultation focuses on age old personal issues of illness reproduction and death As Silva demonstrates in this sophisticated and richly illustrated ethnography lipele help people maintain their links to kin and tradition in a world of transience and uncertainty

Feminist African Philosophy Abosede Priscilla

Ipadeola,2022-08-26 The book argues that women s perspectives and gender issues must be mainstreamed across African philosophy in order for the discipline to truly represent the thoughts of Africans across the continent African philosophy as an academic discipline emerged as a direct challenge to Western and Eurocentric hegemonies It sought to actualize the project of decolonization and to contribute African perspectives to global discourses There has however been a dominance of male perspectives in this field of human knowledge This book argues that African philosophy cannot claim to have liberated people of African descent from marginalization until the androcentric nature of African philosophy is addressed Key concepts such as Ujamaa Negritude Ubuntu Consciencism and African Socialism are explored as they relate to African women s lives or as models of inclusion or exclusion from politics In addition to offering a feminist critique of African philosophy the book also discusses topics that have been consistently overlooked in African philosophy These topics include sex sexuality rape motherhood prostitution and the low participation of women in politics By highlighting the work of women feminist scholars such as Oyeronke Oyewumi Nkiru Nzegwu Ifi Amadiume Amina Mama and Bibi Bakare Yusuf the book engages with African philosophy from an African feminist viewpoint This book will be an essential resource for students and researchers of African philosophy and gender studies

Religion, Philosophy and Knowledge Gregory W. Dawes,2016-11-07

This book offers a philosophical approach to religion that acknowledges both the diversity of religions and the many and varied dimensions of the religious life Rather than restricting itself to Christian theism it covers a wide range of religious traditions examining their beliefs in the context of the actual practice of the religious life After outlining the aims of religion the book focuses on claims to knowledge What kinds of knowledge do religions purport to offer In what idiom is it couched From what sources do devotees draw their claims to knowledge Are these sources reliable Rather than trying to settle age old questions about religious belief the book offers its readers a set of criteria with which they can make informed decisions in matters of faith

Reviewing Reality W. E. A. van Beek, Philip M. Peek, 2013 From crab divination in the Cameroon to friction oracles in the Congo Basin from reading cast objects in Mozambique to spirit possession in Cote d'Ivoire from Sudanese ebony diviners to South African Xhosa healers divination systems throughout Africa serve their communities by answering questions and resolving problems Divination helps people chart a course in their lives through a deeper understanding of past and present This important book reveals the extraordinary diversity and complexity of African divination systems focusing on self knowledge social reality and intercultural and historical relations Series African Studies Afrikanische Studien Vol 50

African Vodun Suzanne Preston Blier, 1995 This book will be of critical importance not only to those concerned with African American and Caribbean art but also to anthropologists scholars of the African diaspora students of comparative religion and comparative psychology and anyone fascinated by the traditions of vodou and vodun Jacket

Kupilikula Harry G. West, 2005-09-05 On the Mueda plateau in northern Mozambique sorcerers are said to feed on their victims sometimes making lions or transforming into lions to literally devour their flesh When the ruling FRELIMO party subscribed to socialism it condemned sorcery beliefs and counter sorcery practices as false consciousness but since undertaking neoliberal reform the party still in power after three electoral cycles has tolerated tradition leaving villagers to interpret and engage with events in the idiom of sorcery Now when the lions prowl plateau villages suspected sorcerers are often lynched In this historical ethnography of sorcery Harry G West draws on a decade of fieldwork and combines the perspectives of anthropology and political science to reveal how Muedans expect responsible authorities to monitor the invisible realm of sorcery and to overturn or as Muedans call it kupilikula sorcerers destructive attacks by practicing a constructive form of counter sorcery themselves Kupilikula argues that where neoliberal policies have fostered social division rather than security and prosperity Muedans have in fact used sorcery discourse to assess and sometimes overturn reforms advancing alternative visions of a world transformed
