Africas Power Infrastructure Investment Integration Efficiency Directions In Development:

Africa's Power Infrastructure Orvika Rosnes, Maria Shkaratan, 2011 Africa's Power Infrastructure Investment Integration Efficiency is based on the most extensive data collection exercise ever undertaken on infrastructure in Africa the Africa Country Infrastructure Country Diagnostic AICD Data from this study have provided new insights on the extent of a power crisis in the region characterized by insufficient capacity low electricity connection rates high costs and poor reliability and on what can be done about it The continent faces an annual power sector financing gap of about 21 billion with much of the existing spending channeled to maintain and operate high cost power systems leaving little for the huge investments needed to provide a long term solution Meanwhile the power crisis is taking a heavy toll on economic growth and productivity This book asserts that the current impediments to economic growth and development need to be tackled through policies and investment strategies that renew efforts to reform state owned utilities build on the lessons of private participation in infrastructure projects retarget electrification strategies expand regional power trade and mobilize new funding resources Further development of regional power trade would allow Africa to harness larger scale and more cost effective energy sources reducing energy system costs by US 2 billion and carbon dioxide emissions by 70 million tons annually But reaping the promise of regional trade depends on a handful of major exporting countries raising the large volumes of finance needed to develop generation capacity for export it also requires a large number of importing countries to muster the requisite political will With increased utility efficiency and regional power trade in play power costs would fall and full cost recovery tariffs could become affordable in much of Africa This will make utilities more creditworthy and help sustain the flow of external finance to the sector which is essential to close the huge financing gap

Directions in Development : Africa's Power Infrastructure : Investment, Integration, Efficiency Anton A. Eberhard, 2011

Ending Africa's Energy Deficit and the Law Yinka Omorogbe, Ada Okoye Ordor, 2018 With the inclusion of access to energy in the sustainable development goals the role of energy to human existence was finally recognized Yet in Africa this achievement is far from realized Omorogbe and Ordor bring together experts in their fields to ask what is stalling progress examining problems from institutions catering to vested interests at the continent's expense to a need to develop vigorous financial and fiscal frameworks The ramifications and complications of energy law are labyrinthine this volume discusses how energy deficits can burden disabled people women and children in excess of their more fortunate counterparts as well as considering environmental issues including the delicate balance between the necessity of water for drinking and cleaning and the use of water in industrial processes A pivotal work of scholarship the book poses pressing questions for energy law and international human rights

The Power of the Mine Sudeshna Ghosh Banerjee, Zayra Romo, Gary McMahon, Perrine Toledano, Peter Robinson, Inés Pérez Arroyo, 2014-12-09 The mining industry could play a key role in Africa's energy sector since it requires power in large quantity and reliable quality to run its processes The integration of mining with power system development with appropriate risk mitigation mechanisms could bring a win win solution to utilities mines and people at large

Handbook on Electricity Markets Glachant, Jean-Michel, Joskow, Paul L., Pollitt, Michael G., 2021-11-12 With twenty two chapters written by leading international experts this volume represents the most detailed and comprehensive Handbook on electricity markets ever published

From the Bottom Up Bernard Tenenbaum, Chris Greacen, Tilak Siyambalapitiya, James Knuckles, 2014-01-23 This report describes the four basic types of on and off grid small power producers emerging in Africa and highlights the regulatory and policy questions that must be answered by electricity regulators rural energy agencies and ministries to promote commercially sustainable investments by private operators and community organizations

Energy Transitions and the Future of the African Energy Sector Victoria R. Nalule, 2020-10-12 This book explores current developments in the African energy sector and highlights how these are likely to be affected by the ongoing global efforts to transition to a low carbon economy It analyses the legal regulatory and policy frameworks at the national and regional level as they relate to Energy transition in Africa and discusses how regionalism is increasingly utilized to tackle energy access and climate change challenges Using case studies from across the continent several key thematic issues including gender justice social license to operate local content and conflict of energy laws are covered in detail The authors also uniquely examine the progressive nature of global energy use and introduce the new concept of Energy Progression This book will be an invaluable reference for researchers and policymakers looking for a comprehensive overview of the field

Disruptive Technologies, Innovation and Development in Africa Peter Arthur, Kobena T. Hanson, Korbla P. Puplampu, 2020-05-29 This book examines how disruptive technologies and innovation underpin the attainment of a broader development agenda in Africa Contributors show how distinctive forms of technological innovation can impact critical development processes For example disruptive technologies can deepen the ongoing democratic and governance waves in Africa specifically in the area of contested elections Similarly innovations in agriculture the environment and energy promote changes in value chain agriculture and the use of sensors to manage e waste and sustainable energy conservation are also transforming established practices Furthermore the role of disruptive technologies and innovation in education health financial services and the nature of paid work cannot be ignored Individually and collectively the authors discuss and highlight the mechanisms and initiatives that can contribute to the realization of the development goals of African countries especially in a period where disruptive technologies are rapidly changing how things are done As a result this book which represents one of the most recent systematic efforts to bring together dialogue on disruptive technologies in Africa will be of particular use and benefit to a wide and an eclectic audience

Public-Private Partnerships in Sub-Saharan Africa James Leigland, 2020 Public private partnerships have been widely promoted in the international development community as solutions to severe infrastructure problems in low income countries since the 1990s This book summarizes the growing body of evidence on the actual performance of PPPs and develops a more realistic perspective on their practical value

Regional Infrastructure

Systems Colin Turner, 2018-09-28 As the international economy globalises there is a need for national infrastructure systems to adapt to form a global infrastructure system This network of networks aids mobility between national systems as a means of supporting their territorial needs and preferences This reflects a strategic approach to state infrastructuring as nations seek to utilise these physical systems to support and enhance their territoriality Providing a thorough examination through the lens of economic infrastructure the book addresses the forces of integration and fragmentation in global networks This book explores the trend towards the development of regional infrastructure systems within the context of territorial strategy Regional systems emerge out of states seeking to position themselves within the international system Colin Turner identifies the diverse processes that are driving regional infrastructures as well as examining the formal and informal patterns of integration that are shaping developments This book is ideal for international political economy and regional development scholars who seek an advanced understanding of current regional infrastructure systems It will also serve as a vital tool for practitioners who need to understand the implications for policy making Le potentiel transformateur de l'industrie minière en Afrique Sudeshna Ghosh Banerjee, Zayra Romo, Gary McMahon, Perrine Toledano, Peter Robinson, Inés Pérez Arroyo, 2015-02-17 Africa needs power power to enhance the welfare of its people and expand its economies But Sub Saharan Africa's power sector has the lowest generation capacity in the world Two thirds of the regional population remains without electricity and even those with access consume the least among the world's regions Businesses say unreliable electricity is a major hurdle Meanwhile vast energy resources remain untapped One possible solution is to leverage the mining industry's substantial need for power as an anchor for energy infrastructure development The Power of the Mine A Transformative Opportunity for Sub Saharan Africa is the first study to systematically analyze both the potential and the challenges of power mining integration The findings show that industry demand for electricity can be a game changer Mining operations often devote a quarter or more of operating costs to electricity This consistent high volume demand can spur development of national power systems thus expanding electrification for the populace As a result citizens can also benefit from safe adequate access to electricity Countries benefit from larger exports and tax revenues more business and job opportunities and higher GDP Utilities benefit from having creditworthy mining partners as a core source of revenue that attracts investment And mines benefit from the significant cost reductions a stable power grid provides The Power of the Mine will be of interest to policymakers researchers and business analysts engaged in energy infrastructure development

Infrastructure in Africa Ncube, Mthuli, Leyeka Lufumpa, Charles, 2017-03-31 This book presents a comprehensive exploration of the state of infrastructure in Africa and provides an integrated analysis of the challenges the sector faces based on extensive fieldwork across the continent providing an important resource for researchers students policymakers and NGOs Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Development Andrew McGregor, Lisa Law, Fiona Miller, 2017-11-06 Southeast Asia is one of the most diverse regions in the world hosting a wide range of languages ethnicities religions economies ecosystems and political systems Amidst this diversity however has been a common desire to develop This provides a uniting theme across landscapes of difference This Handbook traces the uneven experiences that have accompanied development in Southeast Asia The region is often considered to be a development success story however it is increasingly recognized that growth underpinning this development has been accompanied by patterns of inequality violence environmental degradation and cultural loss In 30 chapters written by established and emerging experts of the region the Handbook examines development encounters through four thematic sections Approaching Southeast Asian development Institutions and economies of development People and development and Environment and development The authors draw from national or sub national case studies to consider regional scale processes of development tracing the uneven distribution of costs risks and benefits Core themes include the ongoing neoliberalization of development issues of social and environmental justice and questions of agency and empowerment This important reference work provides rich insights into the diverse impacts of current patterns of development and in doing so raises questions and challenges for realizing more equitable alternatives It will be of value to students and scholars of Asian Studies Development Studies Human Geography Political Ecology and Asian Politics

Shedding Light on Electricity Utilities in the Middle East and North Africa Daniel Camos,Robert Bacon,Antonio Estache,Mohamad Mahgoub Hamid,2017-12-04 The electricity sector in the Middle East and North Africa MENA is in the grip of an apparent paradox The region holds the world s largest oil and gas reserves and has been able to universalize access to electricity in most economies but it may not be able to make the investments required to meet the future power needs of its fast growing populations The annual investments to keep pace with the demand for electricity have been estimated at about 3 percent of the region s projected GDP In most of the region s economies however financial constraints limit the ability to make those investments The power sector needs to find its own financing sources and quickly Shedding Light on Electricity Utilities in the Middle East and North Africa provides quantitative evidence on how better utility management sustainable pricing and selective context specific reforms would free enough resources to make the needed investments and lower the operating costs of the sector The solution involves cutting costs and raising revenues through well targeted and well identified improvements These improvements would generate more financing than the sector s investment needs The report provides detailed evidence of the size of the potential gain in each of the 14 MENA economies covered The analysis is based on the MENA Electricity Database a new dataset covering 67 electricity utilities as well as a sample of utilities in comparable economies from other regions The authors hope that their benchmarking efforts will provide a regional and utility level frame of reference for sector performance in the region The book will be of interest to managers of electricity utilities regulators policy makers and other stakeholders concerned with the performance of utilities in the region

The African Union Ten Years After Muchie, Mammo,Lukhele-Olorunju, Phindil,Akpor, Oghenerobor B. ,2013-10-20 This book looks at the first ten years of the African Union This is the second in a series of books that will be produced each year from annual conferences held on the multi faceted issue of African liberation The key themes of the book explore ways of improving the effectiveness of the African Union fostering unity amongst African countries through entrenchment of pan Africanism and building ownership of the African Union by the African people and their communities In addition the thoughts of key figures of pan Africanism and black emancipation such as Sylvester Williams and Franz Fanon are re positioned to even greater contemporary relevance Through its promotion of Ethiopianism pan Africanism and the African renaissance we trust that this book will add new interest and a fresh perspective to how Africans move forward together into a post colonial era where policies and actions are determined by the united agency of liberated Africans the world over
