After The Crisis Using Storybooks To Help Children Cope

Laurie MacGillivray

After The Crisis Using Storybooks To Help Children Cope:

After the Crisis Cathy Grace, 2010 When a crisis shakes a child's life it is often up to teachers to recognize and identify signs that the child is suffering from continuing stress and to help parents make appropriate decisions regarding next steps. Although most teachers cannot provide therapy to children under traumatic stress they already have the tools they need to help children cope. Storybooks The literature based activities in After the Crisis help children who have been through a trauma. With activities and exercises that can be used in conjunction with 50 children's books teachers can use the discussion starters, writing activities and art activities in After the Crisis to promote children's ability to cope and heal. After the Crisis addresses numerous crises that can affect a child: Earthquakes, Epidemics and mass casualty incidents, Floods, Hurricanes, Tornadoes and major storms, Shelter experiences, Volcano eruptions, Death of a loved one. After the Crisis is the companion book to Preparing for Disaster: What Every Early Childhood Director Needs to Know. The Disaster Planning Handbook for Libraries Mary Grace Flaherty, 2021-10-12 Libraries are in a unique position to aid communities during times of adversity and this comprehensive handbook's practical tools and expert guidance will help ensure that your library is thoroughly prepared for emergency response and recovery. Your library is a vital information hub and resource provider every single day and that's doubly true when calamity strikes. In fact, your library's role as an essential community function during disasters is now encoded in U.S. law. Engaging as a partner in planning and preparedness will build much needed community support should disaster strike and even a basic plan will also save you time and stress later on. No matter where your library is in the disaster planning cycle this handbook will make the process clearer and less daunting. You'll get tools, activities, easy to adapt templates and hands on guidance on such topics as the six phases of disaster response, 15 first hand accounts of library disaster planning or responses helping you identify the library services most needed during a disaster, three essential factors that will shape the form of your disaster plan, preparing for hurricanes, tornadoes, fires, floods and earthquakes, ideas for connecting with your community's emergency response teams, federal government planning resources, pointers on working with state and local governments, a sample Memorandum of Understanding to outline mutual support for a speedier recovery, recommended courses and training many of which are free, targeted advice for archives and special collections, sample building inspection checklists and recommended games to help children and families prepare. Play

Therapy with Children and Adolescents in Crisis, Fourth Edition Nancy Boyd Webb, 2015-07-30 This book aims to provide professionals and clinicians in training with the latest forms of treatment for children and adolescents who have been impacted by crises and trauma. The various treatment options presented here include approaches that focus on the individual as well as many that include a parent in conjoint or filial therapy and others that employ a family treatment model. Many chapters in this book demonstrate the use of a variety of creative methods with young people who have suffered traumatic experiences such as sexual abuse, bullying, immigration, natural disasters and witnessing violence. Literacy in Times of worldwide Storybook Worlds Made Real Kathy Merlock Jackson, Mark I. West, 2022-04-22 Memorable children's narratives immerse readers in imaginary worlds that bring them into the story. Some of these places have been constructed in the real world like Pinocchio's Tuscany or Anne of Green Gables Prince Edward Island where visitors relive their favorite childhood tales. Theme parks like Walt Disney World and Harry Potter World use technology to engineer enchanting environments that reconnect visitors with beloved fictional settings and characters in new ways. This collection of new essays explores the imagined places we loved as kids with a focus on the meaning of setting and its power to shape the way we view the world.

Connecting with Kids Through Stories Denise B. Lacher, Todd Nichols, Melissa Nichols, 2012 This is an accessible guide to using therapeutic stories to help connect with troubled adopted children. It demonstrates how parents and professionals can create their own stories to help children heal and explains the theory behind the therapy. This second edition includes updated research and full sample stories.

Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping Charles Corr, David Balk, 2010-01-15 Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping is a very well researched document and well written by an impressive cadre of scholars. The book is a must read for marriage and family therapists, clergy and pediatric care givers whose work intersects the lives of children and the social and environmental systems in which they live. NCFR's Certified Family Life Educators Newsletter For the resource that offers one of the best bibliographies and guides to resources for the book that contains theory, definitions, treatment modalities, helps, warnings, integration of people and programs, cultural diversity when it comes to all of this we turn to Charles A. Corr and David E. Balk, editors of Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping. It is a book you must have on your shelf but don't let it sit there for too long without making good use of it. Illness, Crisis and Loss Current filled with sound, theory wise clinical acumen, sound research, terrific resources and a multicultural perspective, this book will be a necessary resource for clinicians and educators. Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Senior Consultant, The Hospice Foundation of America. Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT, S, Distinguished Professor of Social Work, Emerita, Fordham University. Children struggling with death related issues require care and competent assistance from the adults around them. This book serves as a guide for care providers including counselors, social workers, nurses, educators, clergy and parents who seek to understand and help children as they attempt to cope with loss. This book comprehensively discusses death and grieving within the context of the physical, emotional, social, behavioral, spiritual and cognitive changes that children experience while coping with death. The chapters also explore new, critical, imaginative, conceptual models and interventions including expressive arts therapy, resilience based approaches, new psychotherapeutic approaches and more. Key features: Presents guidelines for assisting children coping with the loss of parents, siblings, friends or pets. Discusses ethical issues in counseling bereaved and seriously ill children. Provides guidelines for helping children manage their emerging awareness and understanding of death Emphasizes research based culturally sensitive and global implications as well as current insights in thanatology
