

afterwords

The most important conversation on Earth starts with a question. What happens when we die? But it's a conversation many people never have, and there's a simple reason. Instead of death, we should be talking about life, the afterlife. Afterwords was written to make that conversation easier. The voices in it are from everyday people who could be your neighbors, friends, and family members: In other words, people very similar to you. More than 1,100 comments and stories will touch, inspire, amuse, and at times, amaze you.

The depth of insight from everyday people in afterwords is a reminder that the afterlife and other eternal questions do not belong just to religions, gurus, or other experts. We each have our own piece of the puzzle, and it's an important one. In whatever way you envision it, putting words to eternity will contribute to your peace of mind here and hereafter. As a bonus, it's a lot of fun! After all, whether we agree or disagree, it's always worth hearing from each other.

"In the tradition of Socrates, educator Dave Morgan asks just the right questions to elicit profound responses about the afterlife, many of which reflect current research on near death experiences and quantum science. And it could not have come at a better time. Science, philosophy, and theology are approaching a point of merger where skepticism will be obsolete. Afterwords is a must read for everyone who wants to discover how all questions about higher knowledge are leading towards the same answers, destinations, and conclusions. Five stars."

—Kevin R. Williams, author of
*Nothing Better Than Death: Insights
From 62 Profound Near-Death Experiences*

Dave Morgan is a retired history teacher. He and his wife Pam live in Colorado, where they share a love of the outdoors and seven grandchildren. Along with many others, he believes humanity is at a crossroads, a crossing dusty with confusion and fear, but also bright with opportunity. It is his belief that the conversation that comes alive in afterwords will be commonplace in the future, and will help us finally understand the spiritual reality that we are in body and in spirit, one people.

Will we keep any of our five senses?

We'll feel, but we won't hurt!
—R.F.

What makes the afterlife different than this one?

*There will be no sense of
"I'm too fat" or "Am I loved?"
Light fills all the holes.*
—S.A.

*Given one question,
what would you ask?*

*Will I finally feel at home,
wherever I am?*
