Pure and Programme Music in the Romanticism

Magda Polo Pujadas,2019-10-04 One of the most difficult challenges a music theoretician faces be it historically philosophically or in other aspects is that of correctly and precisely framing the meaning that music has in a specific moment deducing the why and revealing the secret hidden within The book Pure and Programme Music in the Romanticism a rigorous and indispensable study to understand music in the period in which music as an expression of feelings begins to reach the threshold of the sublime primarily focusing attention on what pure and programme music represent Both types of music are instrumental but the difference between them is that the first one pure music exists on its own and for its own sake establishing an iron clad alliance with the form Programme music is inspired by other forms of artistic expression especially literature and is indelibly linked with the content However halfway between these two types of music a new one is born absolute music This music is the result from the dialectic established between the pure and programme exactly in the middle of two opposing philosophies that of Idealism and that of Materialism All of this context described in this book is what defines the essence of Romantic music but also what allows us to understand the music of the twentieth century and that of today because the controversy between pure music and programme music has represented in the history of western musical thought the turning point that led to the creation of the Gesamtkunstwerk Total Work of Art and the relationship between music and film for example as well as other artistic expressions L'aventure d'Abraham Marguerite Rosenstiehl,Dany

If as a corollary of urbanization many artists seized as early as the nineteenth century and most of the twentieth century the city as object and scene of their reflection on a world under construction it was not the same for rural areas Generally speaking until recently the countryside's representations have been shaped by the writings of a ruling class However in recent decades alongside the country novels or terroir novels that follow in line with the rustic current initiated in the nineteenth century more demanding literary productions have emerged These writings often fed by the sense of loss and the end of a certain agricultural lifestyle are also exploring the contemporary reconstructions of rural areas little publicized They redefine a new regionality less militant and certainly less connoted in its nostalgic link to the land This book revisits rural areas and their representations in contemporary writing in both popular and high culture in order to draw a global landscape of current rural areas and new regionalities Bibliographie de la France, 1865 La politique étrangère des États-Unis depuis 1945 Eric Nguyen, 2004
