Intersectionality and Women's Access to Justice in Africa J. Jarpa Dawuni, 2022-10-17 Intersectionality and Women's Access to Justice edited by J Jarpa Dawuni propounds layered intersectionality as a paradigm for examining how gendered factors affect women's access to justice whether as judges or litigants Through intersectional and decolonial frameworks the contributors analyze the lived experiences of women and their access to justice by situating the courtroom as both a spatial and a temporal arena for seeking justice as litigants and for seeking access to the bench as judges This book examines patterns of mutually reinforcing discriminatory practices that women share based on common gender identities and depending on which identities are at play at a given point in time in both traditional and statutory courts The book provides recommendations for various justice sector providers

Measuring Livelihoods and Environmental Dependence Arild Angelsen, Helle Overgaard Larsen, Carsten Smith Olsen, 2012-11-12 Thousands of surveys on rural livelihoods in developing countries are being done every year Unfortunately many suffer from weaknesses in methods and problems in implementation Quantifying households dependence on multiple environmental resources forests bush grasslands and rivers is particularly difficult and often simply ignored in the surveys The results therefore do not reflect rural realities In particular the hidden harvest from natural resources is generally too important to livelihoods for development research policies and practice to ignore Fieldwork using state of the art methods and in particular well designed household questionnaires thus becomes an imperative to adequately capture key dimensions of rural welfare This book describes how to do a better job when designing and implementing household and village surveys for quantitative assessment of rural livelihoods in developing countries It covers the entire research process from planning to sharing research results It draws on the experiences from a large global comparative project the Poverty Environment Network PEN to develop more robust and validated methods enriched by numerous practical examples from the field The book will provide an invaluable guide to methods and a practical handbook for students and professionals

History, status and future of common carp (Cyprinus carpio L.) as an exotic species in Malawi Orton V. Msiska, Barry A. Costa-Pierce, 1993-01-01 Malawi Samuel Decalo, 1995 Landlocked Malawi is a poor agrarian Central African state stretching west along the elongated lake of the same name The country first came to global prominence because of the explorations and anti slavery pleas of Dr Livingstone and once again in the 1950s when Nyasaland as it then was refused to be merged by Britain with the two Rhodesias in the Central African Federation Dr Hastings Banda led the nationalist movement a campaign of civil disobedience that forged a nation and finally gained the fragile country independence as Malawi Professor Decalo lists the most pertinent and recent books and articles on Malawi and briefly refers the reader to an additional 250 works

Faith at the Frontiers of Knowledge Ross, Kenneth R., 2018-05-22 Unity of knowledge is not easily achieved in today's Africa where often there is little conscious interaction between traditional beliefs Christian faith and modern secularity The challenge is taken up in this book as scholars from a variety of disciplines wrestle with the relation of faith and science at the frontiers of knowledge The results are important alike for the integrity of faith for scientific advance and for the attainment of creative cultural unity in society Readers with such concerns at heart will find much food for thought as they traverse the broad frontiers explored in these wide ranging essays
