These conclusions include new insights into Avicenna's revision of Aristotle and Plotinus; specific areas of his theories of psychology and metaphysics; his intellectual interaction with the theologians of his period; the historical and social context in which Avicenna worked; the reception of his thought among Syriac writing authors, among later Ishraqi philosophers, and in Shi'ite peripatetic philosophy. These insights range from new interpretations of his extant corpus to compelling theories on the factors contributing to his philosophical innovations. In many cases, these papers present hitherto unexamined textual evidence that will contribute greatly to a new methodology in Avicenna studies and Arabic Islamic philosophy in general.
