Restoring the Classic in Sociology Alan R. traditionalization and social integration across time Arguing that sociology has eliminated the importance of the past history and tradition in favour of the transience of the present he revisits the Habermas Gadamer debate to argue that tradition is the ground of the classic and the classic something that must prove itself anew in subsequent situations He uses the work of Durkheim Simmel and Weber to illustrate this process Making a distinction between classic and canon which parallels that between agency and structure he allows the reader to appreciate the separate value of both This major contribution to the field is essential reading for scholars and students of sociology and social theory
