individualization has been interpreted as the process in which the all embracing Self unfolds into an infinite variety of different individuals plants animals and men A comparison of the different ways in which the Self manifests itself in the biological and psychological developmental processes or in a visionary image of the undivided Self reveals the same basic structure of expression The Self the one is represented by a circular domain and comprises a basic inner duality the two creating a paradox of conflicting opposites In the undivided Self the two give rise to a trinity in which however a quaternity is hidden The latter expresses itself in this world as the four basic forces the four Elements or the four main archetypes specifying the possibilities or development in space and time Self individualization starts with the first appearance of a primary structure of an individual sub Self This is the fifth basic force the fifth Element Further development is characterized by four generative principles 1st the principle of wholeness connection and integration being oriented to remaining whole or restoring wholeness 2nd the principle of complementarity and compensation a periodic shift between opposing influences 3rd the enstructuring principle causing the relative stability of the spatial appearance of the manifest structure and 4th the principle of gesture resulting in a gradual stepwise development of that structure into a full grown individual

Interbellum Literature Cor Hermans, 2017-07-10 In Interbellum Literature historian Cor Hermans presents a panorama of modernist writing in the ominous period 1918-1940. The book offers in full scope an engaging synthesis of the most stimulating ideas and tendencies in the novels and plays of a wide circle of writers from France: Proust, Gide, Camus, Celine, Tzara, Aragon, Simone Weil, England and Ireland: Virginia Woolf, Orwell, Joyce, Beckett, the USA: Scott Fitzgerald, Arthur Miller, O'Neill, Hemingway, Austria: Musil, Broch, Kafka, Zweig, Roth, and Germany: Hesse, Jung, Bll, Thomas Mann. Caught between world wars they nevertheless succeeded in creating some of the best literature ever. They created a philosophy as well, rejecting bourgeois mechanical society, designing escape routes from the nihilism of the times.

The Reality of Others Gary Cox, 2024-04-24 Hell is other people. So said the great French existentialist philosopher, novelist, and playwright Jean-Paul Sartre. The Reality of Others explores Sartre's infamous maxim in detail: when, where, and why he said it; what he really meant by it; and what it means for us today. In comprehensively answering that crucial question, author Gary Cox provides an in-depth account of what Sartre and other philosophers and psychologists have said about the human condition, the nature of the self, and the intricate ways in which that nature shapes the interpersonal dynamics of our relationships with others. A genuine guide to lowering the temperature of our interactions with others, the book offers invaluable philosophical advice on how to establish more amicable, constructive, and productive human relations both with the people we know intimately and with the strangers we have to deal with each day. Ultimately, the key to not seeing hell in others lies in being calm, rational, moderate, and authentic in our own person while always treating others with consideration and respect, especially when they are making it most difficult for us to do so.
