Life and Times of Michael K J.M. Coetzee, 2015-05-28 In a South Africa torn by civil war Michael K sets out to take his mother back to her rural home On the way there she dies leaving him alone in an anarchic world of brutal roving armies Imprisoned Michael is unable to bear confinement and escapes determined to live with dignity Life and Times of Michael K goes to the centre of human experience the need for an interior spiritual life for some connections to the world in which we live and for purity of vision This is a truly astonishing novel I finished Life Times of Michael K in a state of elation for all the misery and suffering it contains I cannot recommend it highly enough Evening Standard Life & Times of Michael K J. M. Coetzee, 1983 Coetzee here tells the story of a handicapped young man who has worked as a municipal gardener in Cape Town His mother is dying and she wishes to return to her birthplace out in the veldt Without the required transit passes mother and son set out on a journey that will end in death for her and in a new but temporary life on an abandoned farm for him His respite in isolation and peace does not last long however grotesque reality soon returns to trouble this quiet new world Against the solitude of this private drama Coetzee paints an eloquent and pained picture of his homeland and of the bureaucrats doctors army deserters and camp guards who reveal the stress and gualms of their existence and who uneasily sense that there is no conclusion to their troubles and no future for their lives Life and Times of Michael K by J. while still addressing the ethical tensions of the South African crisis As a form of situational metafiction Coetzee's writing reconstructs and critiques some of the key discourses in the history of colonialism and apartheid from the eighteenth century to the present While self conscious about fiction making it takes seriously the condition of the society in which it is produced Attwell begins by describing the intellectual and political contexts surrounding Coetzee's fiction and then provides a developmental analysis of his six novels drawing on Coetzee's other writings in stylistics literary criticism translation political journalism and popular culture Elegantly written Attwell's analysis deals with both Coetzee's subversion of the dominant culture around him and his ability to see the complexities of giving voice to the anguish of South Africa Gastronomy David Bevan.1988 Postcolonial Narrative and the Work of Mourning Sam Durrant, 2004-01-01 A cross cultural analysis of the work of Coetzee Harris and Morrison demonstrating that the fundamental task of postcolonial narrative is the work of mourning The Booker Prize and the Legacy of Empire Luke Strongman, 2021-12-28 This book is about the Booker Prize the London based literary award made annually to the best novel written in English by a writer from one of those countries belonging to or formerly part of the British Commonwealth The approach to the Prize is thematically historical and spans the award period to 1999 The novels that have won or shared the Prize in this period are examined within a theoretical framework mapping the literary terrain of the fiction Individual chapters explore themes that occur within the larger narrative formed by this body of novels collectively invoked cultures social trends and movements spanning the stages of imperial heyday and decline as perceived over the past three decades Individually and collectively the novels mirror often in terms of more than a single static image British imperial culture after empire contesting and reinterpreting perceptions of the historical moment of the British Empire and its legacy in contemporary culture The body of Booker novels narrates the demise of empire and the emergence of different cultural formations in its aftermath The novels are grouped for discussion according to the way in which they deal with aspects of the transition from empire to a post imperial culture from early imperial expansion through colonization retrenchment decolonization and postcolonial pessimism to the emergence of tribal nationalisms and post imperial nation states The focus throughout is primarily literary and contingently cultural

The Cambridge Introduction to J. M. Coetzee Dominic Head, 2009-03-26 An overview for students and readers of the work career and international context of the author of Disgrace Secretary of the Invisible Mike Marais, 2009 How do individuals who are part of a community respond to the stranger as a stranger i e without simply positioning this outsider in opposition to the community in which they are located How may individuals receive something unknown and therefore surprising into their world without compromising it by identifying it in the terms of that world In this study Mike Marais traces the various ways in which Coetzee's fiction from Dusklands through to Slow Man repeatedly poses such questions of hospitality It is shown that the form of ethical action staged in Coetzee's writing is grounded not in the individual's willed and rational achievement but in his or her invasion and possession by the strangeness of the stranger This ethic of hospitality

Marais argues has a strong aesthetic dimension for Coetzee the writer is inspired to write by being acted upon by a force from beyond the phenomenal world The writer is a secretary of the invisible She or he is responsible to and for the invisible Marais maintains that this understanding of writing as an involuntary response to that which exceeds history is evident from the first in Coetzee's fiction In readings of the novels of the apartheid era he traces this writer's rueful ironic awareness of the limited even incidental form of political engagement that may emanate from such an aesthetic He then goes on to argue that if it is the writer s obligation to render visible the invisible writing must be a task that can never be completed What is more such writing is thus bound to be iterative in form With this in mind he traces the structural similarities between Coetzee's writing of the apartheid period and his post apartheid and Australian writing arguing that the later texts are self reflexively aware of their endlessly repetitive nature These contentions are developed incrementally through close readings of the individual novels that focus on recurring metaphors of hospitality visitor the stranger the house the castaway the invisible the dream and the child A Companion to the Works of J. M. Coetzee Timothy J. Mehigan, Tim Mehigan, 2014-02 New essays providing critical views of Coetzee's major works for the scholar and the general reader J M Coetzee is perhaps the most critically acclaimed bestselling author of imaginative fiction writing in English today He received the Nobel Prize for Literature in 2003 and is the first writer to have been awarded two BookerPrizes The present volume makes critical views of this important writer accessible to the general reader as well as the scholar discussing Coetzee's main works in chronological order and introducing the dominant themes in the academic discussion of his oeuvre The volume highlights Coetzee s exceptionally nuanced approach to writing as both an exacting craft and a challenging moral ethical undertaking It discusses Coetzee's complex relation to apartheid and post apartheid South Africa the land of his birth and evaluates his complicated responses to the literary canon Coetzee emerges as both a modernist and a highly self aware postmodernist a champion of the truths of aliterary enterprise conducted unrelentingly in the mode of self confession Contributors Chris Ackerley Derek Attridge Carrol Clarkson Simone Drichel Johan Geertsema David James Michelle Kelly Sue Kossew MikeMarais James Meffan Tim Mehigan Chris Prentice Engelhard Weigl Kim L Worthington Tim Mehigan is Professor of Languages in the Department of Languages and Cultures at the University of Otago New Zealand and Honorary Professor in the Department of Languages and Comparative Cultural Studies at the University of Queensland Australia Nadine Gordimer Dominic Head, 1994-11-10 The award to Nadine Gordimer of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1991 was an affirmation of her distinctive contribution to twentieth century fiction and to the creation of a literature that challenges apartheid In this study which may be used as an introduction as well as by those already familiar with Gordimer's work Dominic Head discusses each of her novels in detail paying close attention to the texts both as a reflection of events and situations in the real world and as evidence of her constant rethinking of her craft Head shows how Gordimer's concerns apparent in her earliest novels are developed through increasing stress on the politics of textuality and he pursues the implications of this development to consider how Gordimer's later work contributes to postmodernist fiction and to a recentering of political engagement in an era of uncertainty The Cambridge Companion to J.M.
