Loves Music Loves To Dance By Mary Higgins Clark:

Loves Music, Loves To Dance Mary Higgins Clark, 2024-05-07 New York's trendy magazines are a source of peril when a killer enacts a bizarre dance of death using the personal ads to lure his victims. And if the killer has his way, decorator Darcy Scott will be his next date. Full of characters like people we know in situations that suddenly grippingly get turned inside out. Cosmopolitan Media Madness Otto F. Wahl, 1995 From Psycho, Silence of the Lambs, Kojak and Melrose Place from books, music, cartoons, advertising and newspapers, we all derive our images of mental illness. These omnipresent media portrayals are at the least insensitive, inaccurate and unfavorable and at the worst stigmatizing and pernicious. In this important book, Dr. Otto Wahl examines the prevalence, nature and impact of such depictions using numerous examples from film, television and print media. He documents the remarkable frequency of these images and demonstrates how the media has stereotyped the mentally ill through exaggeration, misunderstanding, ridicule and disrespect. Media Madness also shows the damaging consequences of such stereotypes: stigma, rejection, loss of self-esteem, reluctance to seek, accept or reveal psychiatric treatment, discrimination and restriction of opportunity. The forces that shape current images of mental illness are clarified, as are the efforts of organizations and individuals to combat such exploitation.

The Literary Filmography Leonard Mustazza, 2006-05-17 From the very infancy of the film industry, filmmakers have relied heavily upon literature as the foundation for their movie material. Well-known literary works such as Dickens's A Christmas Carol and Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter were adapted to film in the silent era, as were such books as Thomas Dixon Jr.'s The Klansman, basis for the film Birth of a Nation. In recent years, Nick Hornsby's About a Boy and each of Helen Fielding's Bridget Jones's Diary novels were the basis for popular movies bearing the same names. A guide to English language works that have been adapted as theatrical and television films, this volume includes books, both fiction and non-fiction, short stories, newspaper and magazine articles and poems. Entries are arranged alphabetically by literary title, with cross-listings for films made under different titles. Each entry includes the original work's title, author, year of first publication, literary prizes and a brief plot summary. Information on film adaptation, s of the work, including adaptation titles, director, screenwriter, principal cast and the names of the characters they portray, major awards and availability in the most common formats, DVD, VHS, is also offered.

Falling in Love Again Monica Morris, 2013-02-01 When social psychologist Dr. Monica Morris found herself unexpectedly single late in life, the road wasn't an easy one, but she found her way to a new love. In this book, Dr. Morris shares both her experiences and the knowledge she gained along the way, providing an empowering resource for the mature woman looking for romance. The author first addresses the importance of self-assurance and poise and offers numerous ways to bolster self-esteem. She then provides dozens of suggestions for finding that special someone, from personal ads to online dating. Included are details about costs, accessibility and precautions. Dr. Morris even addresses questions regarding sex, living together and independence. Finally, she provides a resource of services, websites and organizations designed to help you find a significant other or to just

Identification Papers Diana Fuss, 2013-09-05 The notion of identification especially in the discourse of feminist theory has come sharply and dramatically into focus with the recent interest in such topics as queer performativity cross dressing and racial passing Identification Papers is the first book to track the evolution of identification's emergence in psychoanalytic theory Diana Fuss seeks to understand where this notion of identification has come from and why it has emerged as one of the most difficult problems in contemporary theory and politics Identification Papers situates the recent critical interest in identification in the intellectual tradition that first gave the idea its theoretical relevance psychoanalysis Fuss begins from the assumption that identification has a history and that the term carries with it a host of theoretical problems conceptual difficulties and ideological complications By tracking the evolution of identification in Freud's work over a forty year period Fuss demonstrates how the concept of identification is neither a theoretically neutral notion nor a politically innocent one Identification Papers closely examines the three principal figures gravity ingestion and infection that psychoanalysis invokes to theorize identification Fuss then deconstructs the psychoanalytic theory of identification in order to open up the possibility of more innovative rethinkings of the political Drawing on literature film and Freud's own case histories and engaging with a wide range of disciplines including critical theory philosophy film theory cultural studies psychoanalysis and feminism Identification Papers will be a necessary starting point in any future theoretical project that seeks to mobilize the concept of identification for a feminist politics
