Jazz Toni Morrison Trilogy 2 By Toni Morrison:

Toni Morrison and the Geopoetics of Place, Race, and Be/longing Marilyn Sanders Mobley, 2024-07-05 In this interdisciplinary work of literary criticism Toni Morrison scholar Marilyn S Mobley endeavors to apply geopoetics toward establishing a new framework for understanding Morrison's famous call to create and allow for spaces for the reader to come into the text

Toni Morrison Valerie Smith, 2014-09-22 This compelling study explores the inextricable links between the Nobel laureate's aesthetic practice and her political vision through an analysis of the key texts as well as her lesser studied works books for children and most recent novels Offers provocative new insights and a refreshingly original contribution to the scholarship of one of the most important contemporary American writers Analyzes the celebrated fiction of Morrison in relation to her critical writing about the process of reading and writing literature the relationship between readers and writers and the cultural contributions of African American literature Features extended analyses of Morrison's lesser known works most recent novels and books for children as well as the key texts

Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition Justine Baillie, 2013-08-01 Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2014 Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition explores Toni Morrison's construction of alternative and oppositional narratives of history and places her work as central to the imagining and reimagining of American and diasporic identities Covering the Nobel Prize winning author's novels up to Home as well as her essays dramatic works and short stories this book situates Morrison's writings within both African American and American writing traditions and examines them in terms of her continuous dialogue with the politics philosophy and literary forms of these traditions Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition provides a comprehensive analysis of Morrison's entire oeuvre from her early interrogation of Black Power to her engagement with fin de siècle postcolonial critiques of nationalism and twenty first century considerations of ecology Justine Baillie goes on to argue that Morrison's aesthetic should be understood in relation to the historical political and cultural contexts in which it and the African American and American literary traditions upon which she draws have been created and developed

Toni Morrison and the Bible Shirley A. Stave, 2006 This collection of essays critically interrogates Toni Morrison's use of the Bible in her novels examining the ways in which the author plays on the original text to raise issues of spirituality as it affects race gender and class Ideal for courses on Morrison or on explorations of the intersection of religion and literature this collection treats its topic with sophistication considering religion in its broadest possible sense and examining syncretic theologies as well as mainstream religions in its attempt to locate Morrison's work in a spiritual theological nexus

Postmodernism in Pieces Matthew Mullins, 2016 Postmodernism in Pieces performs a postmortem on what is perhaps the most contested paradigm in literary studies breaking postmodernism down into its most fundamental orthodoxies and reassembles it piece by piece in light of recent theoretical developments in Actor Network Theory object oriented philosophy new materialism and posthumanism

Postmodern Belief Amy Hungerford, 2010-07-01 How can intense religious beliefs coexist with pluralism in America today Examining the role of the religious imagination in contemporary religious practice and in some of the best known works of American literature from the past fifty years Postmodern Belief shows how belief for its own sake a belief absent of doctrine has become an answer to pluralism in a secular age Amy Hungerford reveals how imaginative literature and religious practices together allow novelists poets and critics to express the formal elements of language in transcendent terms conferring upon words a religious value independent of meaning Hungerford explores the work of major American writers including Allen Ginsberg Don DeLillo Cormac McCarthy Toni Morrison and Marilynne Robinson and links their unique visions to the religious worlds they touch She illustrates how Ginsberg's chant infused 1960s poetry echoes the tongue speaking of Charismatic Christians how DeLillo reimagines the novel and the Latin Mass why McCarthy's prose imitates the Bible and why Morrison's fiction needs the supernatural Uncovering how literature and religion conceive of a world where religious belief can escape confrontations with other worldviews Hungerford corrects recent efforts to discard the importance of belief in understanding religious life and argues that belief in belief itself can transform secular reading and writing into a religious act Honoring the ways in which people talk about and practice religion Postmodern Belief highlights the claims of the religious imagination in twentieth century American culture

Creating Memory and Cultural Identity in African American Trauma Fiction

Patricia San José Rico, 2019-03-19 How do contemporary African American authors relate trauma memory and the recovery of the past with the processes of cultural and identity formation in African American communities Patricia San José analyses a variety of novels by authors like Toni Morrison Gloria Naylor and David Bradley and explores these works as valuable instruments for the disclosure giving voice and public recognition of African American collective and historical trauma

Toni Morrison's Secret Drive David S. Goldstein, Shawnrece D. Campbell, 2022-02-24 The late Toni Morrison was the first African American to win the Nobel Prize for Literature A powerful writer she wove stories depicting the largely overlooked Black experience in America and exploring the intersection of gender and race through the lives of Black women Morrison's writing continues to move people and push readers to reassess their beliefs about what it means to be Black in America Synthesizing some 250 scholarly works about Morrison's writing this book examines eight novels as well as the short story Recitatif They are analyzed for techniques used to deepen meaning and emotional weight and reveal Morrison's mastery over prose

Toni Morrison Linda Wagner-Martin, 2022-02-08 A reading of the oeuvre of Toni Morrison fiction non fiction and other drawing extensively from her many interviews as well as her primary texts Toni Morrison A Literary Life second edition provides an overview of Morrison's intellectual growth as an artist Linda Wagner Martin aligns Morrison's novels with the works of Virginia Woolf and William Faulkner assessing her works as among the most innovative and most significant worldwide of the past fifty plus years The revised edition includes new discussion of God Help the Child The Origin of Others and The Source of Self-Regard These additions present and intensify scholarship on Morrison's major literary contributions but also trace her significant role as a public intellectual bringing to light the consistency of Morrison's aesthetic and political visions Toni Morrison's Beloved and the Apotropaic Imagination Kathleen Marks, 2002 Toni Morrison's Beloved and the Apotropaic Imagination investigates Toni Morrison's Beloved in light of ancient Greek influences arguing that the African American experience depicted in the novel can be set in a broader context than is usually allowed Kathleen Marks gives a history of the apotropaic from ancient to modern times and shows the ways that Beloved's protagonist Sethe and her community engage the apotropaic as a mode of dealing with their communal suffering Apotropaic from the Greek meaning to turn away from refers to rituals that were performed in ancient times to ward off evil deities Modern scholars use the term to denote an action that in attempting to prevent an evil causes that very evil Freud employed the apotropaic to explain his thought concerning Medusa and the castration complex and Derrida found the apotropaic's logic of self sabotage consonant with his own thought Marks draws on this critical history and argues that Morrison's heroine's effort to keep the past at bay is apotropaic a series of gestures aimed at resisting a danger a threat an imperative These gestures anticipate mirror and put into effect that which they seek to avoid one does what one finds horrible so as to mitigate its horror In Beloved Sethe's killing of her baby reveals this dynamic she kills the baby in order to save it As do all great heroes Sethe transgresses boundaries and such transgressions bring with them terrific dangers for example the figure Beloved Yet Sethe's action has ritualistic undertones that link it to the type of primal crimes that can bring relief to a petrified community It is through these apotropaic gestures that the heroine and the community resist what Morrison calls cultural amnesia and engage in a shared past finally inaugurating a new order of love Toni Morrison's Beloved and the Apotropaic Imagination is eclectic in its approach calling upon Greek religion Greek mythology and underworld images and psychology Marks looks at the losses and benefits of the kind of self damage self agency the apotropaic affords Such an approach helps to frame the questions of the role of suffering in human life the relation between humans and the underworld and the uses of memory and history Publishers website Ethics and Aesthetics in Toni Morrison's Fiction Mariangela Palladino, 2018-01-22 Ethics and Aesthetics in Toni Morrison's Fiction investigates Morrison's aesthetics in terms of narrative's ethical import Morrison's writing is concerned with ethically debatable issues and it offers a problematic representation of human experiences in African American history Whilst previous critical studies consider ethics in relation to events in the story Palladino explores its intersection with aesthetics Narrativizing the moral law Morrison's imperative is to relate the past and to find ways to tell what is often unspeakable The quest for ways to narrate horrific facts is a quest for an aesthetics which includes an appeal to the reader and thus necessarily engages with the ethical This study foregrounds the equivocal as a key feature of narrative ethics Monuments of the Black Atlantic Joanne M. Braxton, 2004 With Aldon Nielson the editors of this volume agree that the middle passage may be the great repressed signifier of American historical consciousness The essays collected here illustrate that the repressed memory of crossing lives not only in the academy in oral traditions and in the stone walls of slave fortresses but in the liturgy as well as the spiritual and religious practices throughout the African Diaspora Descendants of African slaves living in the wide Diaspora are bearers of an unforgetful strength that endures and endures manifesting itself in every aspect of culture Black writers artists and musicians in the New World have tested the limits of cultural memory finding in it the inspiration to speak the unspeakable CrossRoutes, the Meanings of "race" for the 21st Century Paola Boi, 2003 This collection reflects the still urgent project of historical recuperation as well as an examination of literary representations and other cultural manifestations of the Black Diaspora Disciplinary work within the boundaries of African American Studies has been enhanced by more general considerations of the history of race and racism in globalized contexts The articles assembled here reflect recent empirical research as well as challenging theoretical considerations Contributions address particular formations of racialized modernity owed to the impact of the Atlantic slave trade and slavery and thus broaden the approach to the Middle Passage to improve our understanding of it as a constitutive transatlantic phenomenon in the widest possible sense Litpop: Writing and Popular Music Rachel Carroll, Adam Hansen, 2016-05-13 Bringing together exciting new interdisciplinary work from emerging and established scholars in the UK and beyond Litpop addresses the question how has writing past and present been influenced by popular music and vice versa Contributions explore how various forms of writing have had a crucial role to play in making popular music what it is and how popular music informs literary writing in diverse ways The collection features musicologists literary critics experts in cultural studies and creative writers organised in three themed sections Making Litpop explores how hybrids of writing and popular music have been created by musicians and authors Thinking Litpop considers what critical or intellectual frameworks help us to understand these hybrid cultural forms Finally Consuming Litpop examines how writers deal with music s influence how musicians engage with literary texts and how audiences of music and writing understand their own role in making Litpop happen Discussing a range of genres and periods of writing and popular music this unique collection identifies theorizes and problematises connections between different forms of expression making a vital contribution to popular musicology and literary and cultural studies Against Amnesia Nancy J. Peterson, 2001-04-23 An important study in American literature

Character and Satire in Post War Fiction Ian Gregson, 2008-04-01 This monograph analyses the use of caricature as one of the key strategies in narrative fiction since the war Close analysis of some of the best known postwar novelists including Toni Morrison Philip Roth Joyce Carol Oates Angela Carter and Will Self reveals how they use caricature to express postmodern conceptions of the self In the process of moving away from the modernist focus on subjectivity postmodern characterisation has often drawn on a much older satirical tradition which includes Hogarth and Gillray in the visual arts and Dryden Pope Swift and Dickens in literature Its key images depict the human as reduced to the status of an object an animal or a machine or the human body as dismembered to represent the fragmentation of the human spirit Gregson argues that this return to caricature is symptomatic of a satirical attitude to the self which is particularly characteristic of contemporary culture Beyond Innocence, Or, The Altersroman in Modern Fiction Linda A. Westervelt, 1997 In this groundbreaking work Linda A Westervelt defines an important yet previously unidentified and therefore unnamed type of novel the altersroman or age novel Fictions focusing on a protagonist's confrontation with mortality toward the end of middle age are likely to become ever more prominent in a Western world in which the average age of the population increases and more people reach late middle age and old age Working from a diverse sample of modern literature Westervelt analyzes the variety of responses to the life evaluation Some characters achieve a level of affirmation that allows renewal redirection or simply peace while others confront feelings of disgust or despair that so little time is left them Her altersromane are books about seeking wisdom though not everyone of this age becomes wise The use of the term altersroman highlights the fact that the altersroman is a classification comparable to but also clearly distinguishable from the bildungsroman wherein characters make the transition from youth to adulthood Westervelt contrasts her older protagonists characteristics with the equivalent characteristics in the bildungsroman through an examination of Don Quixote part 2 as well as six American novels The Ambassadors by Henry James The Professor's House by Willa Cather The Mansion by William Faulkner The Angle of Repose by Wallace Stegner A Book of Common Prayer by Joan Didion and Jazz by Toni Morrison These seven works though remarkably different share the common features of the altersroman Westervelt articulates the traits clearly rests them on the psychological literature and then shows in depth how the characteristics of the altersroman can enrich and more deeply inform our reading of a significant subset of modern literature that previously went unheralded Readers can use Westervelt's analysis to identify altersromane in literature other than their own and she begins this process by identifying exemplars written in other languages Beyond Innocence or the Altersroman in Modern Fiction introduces readers to the altersroman as a tool for classification and analysis and demonstrates the power and utility of that tool It offers a meaningful and enriching complement to the more established category of the bildungsroman

Modernist Experiments in Genre, Media, and Transatlantic Print Culture Jennifer Julia Sorensen, 2016-12-08 The years from 1890 through 1935 witnessed an explosion of print both in terms of the variety of venues for publication and in the vast circulation figures and the quantity of print forums Arguing that the formal strategies of modernist texts can only be fully understood in the context of the material forms and circuits of print culture through which they were produced and distributed Jennifer Sorensen shows how authors and publishers conceptualized the material text as an object as a body and as an ontological problem She examines works by Henry James Jean Toomer Djuna Barnes Katherine Mansfield and Virginia Woolf showing that they understood acts of reading as materially mediated encounters Sorensen draws on recent textual theory media theory archival materials and paratexts such as advertisements illustrations book designs drafts diaries dust jackets notes and frontispieces to demonstrate how these writers radically redefined literary genres and refashioned the material forms through which their literary experiments reached the public Placing the literary text at the center of inquiry while simultaneously expanding the boundaries of what counts as that Sorensen shows that modernist generic and formal experimentation was deeply engaged with specific print histories that generated competitive media ecologies of competition and hybridization The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Psychoanalysis Vera J. Camden, 2021-12-16 Combining literature and psychoanalysis this collection foregrounds the work of literary creators as foundational to psychoanalysis Narrative Conventions and Race in the Novels of Toni Morrison Jennifer Lee Jordan Heinert, 2012-11-12 This study analyzes the relationship between race and genre in four of Toni Morrison's novels The Bluest Eye Tar Baby Jazz and Beloved Heinert argues how Morrison's novels revise conventional generic forms such as bildungsroman folktales slave narratives and the formal realism of the novel itself This study goes beyond formalist analyses to show how these revisions expose the relationship between race conventional generic forms and the dominant culture Morrison's revisions critique the conventional roles of African Americans as subjects of and in the genre of the novel and re-write roles which instead privilege their subjectivity This study provides readers with new ways of understanding Morrison's novels Whereas critics often fault Morrison for breaking with traditional forms and resisting resolution in her novels this analysis shows how Morrison's revisions shift the narrative truth of the novel from its representation in conventional forms to its interpretation by the readers who are responsible for constructing their own resolution or version of narrative truth These revisions expose how the dominant culture has privileged specific forms of narration in turn these forms privilege the values of the dominant culture Morrison's novels attempt to undermine this privilege and rewrite the canon of American literature
