Modern Spiritualism and the Church of England, 1850-1939 Georgina Byrne, 2010 Shows how some of the ideas about the afterlife presented by spiritualism helped to shape popular Christianity in the period From the moment of its arrival in Britain in 1852 modern spiritualism became hugely popular among all sections of society As well as offering mysterious and entertaining's ance phenomena spiritualism was underpinned by a belief that the living could communicate with the departed and even come to know what life after death looked like This book offering the first detailed account of the theology of spiritualism examines what happened when the Church of England itself already grappling with questions about the nature of the afterlife met with such a vibrant and confident presentation Although this period saw a gradual liberalising in the Church's own theology of heaven and hell this was not communicated to the wider public as long as sermons and liturgy remained largely framed in traditional language Over time spiritualism already embedded in common culture explicitly influenced the thinking of some Anglican clergy and implicitly began to permeate and shape popular Christianity to the extent that even some of spiritualism's harshest critics made use of its colourful imagery This study sets one significant aspect of Christian doctrine alongside an attractive alternative and provides a fascinating example of the negotiation of belief the way in which in the interface between Church and culture religious belief came to be refreshed and redefined GEORGINA BYRNE is an ordained Anglican priest and currently Director of Ordinands for the Diocese of Worcester and a Residentiary Canon at Worcester Cathedral

The House by the Churchyard Sheridan Le Fanu, 2007-07 Set in the village of Chapelizod near Dublin in the 1760s the story opens with the accidental disinterment of an old skull in the churchyard and an eerie late night funeral This discovery relates to murders both recent and historical whose repercussions disrupt the complacent pace of village affairs
