Manifold Time Manifold 1 By Stephen Baxter:

The Anthology At The End Of The Universe Glenn Yeffeth, 2005-03-11 Every aspect of the science fiction classic The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy is analyzed in a variety of quirky ways in this collection of essays. Topics include the logistics of the restaurant at the end of the universe, how the Internet is creating the real Hitchhiker's Guide, an assessment of Viconia poetry, and an analysis of computing. The essays are written by both science fiction greats such as Cory Doctorow, Lawrence Watt Evans, Stephen Baxter, Jacqueline Carey, and Alastair Reynolds, and up and coming writers. Up Through an Empty

House of Stars David Langford, 2003-08-01 At last Up Through an Empty House of Stars brings together the best of the never before collected SF reviews and articles that helped build David Langford's towering reputation since 1980. Complementing the review columns collected in The Complete Critical Assembly and the knockabout essays and squibs in The Silence of the Langford, this volume's 100 glittering selections mix serious critical insight with the inimitable Langford wit. In 2002 David Langford won his sixteenth Hugo award as Best Fan Writer for critical and humorous commentary on SF. In the same year his occasionally scandalous SF newsletter Ansible won its fifth Hugo. Langford also received the 2001 Hugo for best short story and the 2002 Skylark Award. Here he shines a unique light on classics like Ernest Bramah, G. K. Chesterton, Robert Heinlein, and Jack Vance, and analyses major SF and major clunkers and minor eccentrics of the 1980s, 1990s, and early 2000s, continuing to the latest by such current stars as Gene Wolfe and China Miéville. Plus witty asides on crime fiction and its SF links, gleeful examination of writing so bad it's almost good, and even at his most serious turns of phrase to make you laugh aloud. The Time Machine Hypothesis Damien Broderick, 2019-07-12 Every age has characteristic inventions that change the world. In the 19th century it was the steam engine and the train. For the 20th, electric and gasoline power, aircraft, nuclear weapons, even ventures into space. Today the planet is awash with electronic business chatter and virtual reality entertainment so brilliant that the division between real and simulated is hard to discern. But one new idea from the 19th century has failed so far to enter reality: time travel using machines to turn the time dimension into a two-way highway. Will it come true as foreseen in science fiction? Might we expect visits to and from the future sooner than from space? That is the Time Machine Hypothesis examined here by futurist Damien Broderick, an award-winning writer and theorist of the genre of the future. Broderick homes in on the topic through the lens of science as well as fiction, exploring some fifty different time travel scenarios and conundrums found in the science fiction literature and film. The Stars of Heaven Clifford A.

Pickover, 2004-05-06 Do a little armchair space travel, rub elbows with alien life forms, and stretch your mind to the furthest corners of our uncharted universe. An Informal History of the Hugos Jo Walton, 2018-08-07 Engaged passionate and consistently entertaining An Informal History of the Hugos is a book about the renowned science fiction award for the many who enjoyed Jo Walton's previous collection of writing from Tor.com the Locus Award winning What Makes This Book So Great The Hugo Awards named after pioneer science fiction publisher Hugo Gernsback and voted on by members of the World Science Fiction Society have been presented since 1953 They are widely considered the most prestigious awards in science fiction Between 2010 and 2013 Jo Walton wrote a series of posts for Tor.com surveying the Hugo finalists and winners from the award's inception up to the year 2000 Her contention was that each year's full set of finalists generally tells a meaningful story about the state of science fiction at that time Walton's cheerfully
