to oral anticoagulation therapy is common Percutaneous occlusion of the left atrial appendage is a mechanical alternative to oral anticoagulation therapy for stroke prevention Current guidelines recommend considering left atrial appendage occlusion in patients with contraindications for long term oral anticoagulation use This thesis investigates the effectiveness and safety of percutaneous left atrial appendage occlusion in everyday clinical practice The objectives were to optimize the procedure improve post procedural care and achieve better patient selection This thesis consists of two parts The first part focuses on the procedural aspects of percutaneous left atrial appendage occlusion providing insights into how patients can be optimally treated with this procedure in contemporary practice For example by using mini and micro probes during transesophageal echocardiography thus eliminating the need for general anesthesia The second part addresses post procedural treatment and clinical outcomes after left atrial appendage occlusion It demonstrates among other things that cardioversion can safely occur after left atrial appendage occlusion that left atrial appendage occlusion remains effective in the long term in everyday clinical practice that it is meaningful to perform left atrial appendage occlusion in patients who have experienced thromboembolic complications despite anticoagulation use and also describes some predictors of the feared complications of thrombus formation on the device

Atrial Appendage Occlusion (LAAO) for Patients with Atrial Fibrillation who Cannot Take Anticoagulant Medications, 2019 310/2 -Percutaneous Occlusion of the Left Atrial Appendage in Non-valvular Atrial Fibrillation for the Prevention of Thromboembolism National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (Great Britain), 2010 Left Atrial Appendage Occlusion (LAAO) in Patients with Atrial Fibrillation who Have Contraindications to Oral Anticoagulation, in Response to an Enquiry from the National Advisory Committee for Heart Disease, 2019 The Evolving Role of Left Atrial Appendage Occlusion Raffael Armando Ghenzi, 2017 Percutaneous Left Atrial Appendage Occlusion for the Prevention of Stroke in Non-valvular Atrial Fibrillation, 2015 Documents related to percutaneous LAAO consultation carried out by NHC Occlusion of the Left Atrial Appendage Using Catheter-delivered Hydrogels for Prevention of Thromboembolic Phenomena Andrew David Zimbroff, 2013 The Left Atrial Appendage once thought to be a relatively insignificant portion of cardiac anatomy has currently been realized to possess important pathological associations 1a particularly in its role in promoting serious frequent thromboembolic events common in individuals suffering from Atrial Fibrillation Prior approaches to mitigating these events have either required invasive procedures proved less than fully effective or presented with problematic sequelae of their own This work will present a new procedure that addresses both the prevention of the thromboembolic events and the correction of the shortcomings of the major prior methods utilized A compliant hydrogel that can conform to the geometry of the appendage is proposed as a more effective method of occluding the chamber This material would be transported to the LAA in liquid form via a multi lumen catheter and then solidify within the chamber to form a solid plug Previous research has identified a candidate hydrogel comprised of PEG tetra thiol and Dextran vinyl sulfone as a candidate hydrogel for this application Experimental work has investigated fluid properties of the material as well as degradation and swelling properties of the material Results from this experimentation were used for fluid transport analysis and for evaluation of anchoring force of the hydrogel within the chamber Finally subfunctions of the occlusion procedure were modeled and tested During the actual procedure a catheter balloon will isolate the appendage from the rest of the heart A model was developed to study interactions between the appendage and this balloon Additionally due to fast solidification time hydrogel components in the surgical procedure will be mixed in a mixing chamber at the tip of the catheter Potential mixing chamber designs were modeled and a ternary diffusion model was developed to better understand hydrogel mixing Prototypes for both these subfunctions were built and tested as well Additional analysis looked at the overall occlusion procedure and how various subfunctions interacted with each other
