

2 Optimal auctions (8 points)

A seller tries to sell a single item (which he values at 0) to a set of n bidders. Assume the IPV environment. The values of the bidders are distributed i.i.d. according to the distribution function $F(x) = x$ on the range $[a, b]$ with $b > a \geq 0$.

- (3 points) Assume $n = 2$. In the first price auction, what are the equilibrium bidding functions? $\theta(v) = E[X_{(n-1:n-1)} | X_{(n-1:n-1)} \leq v] = \frac{n-1}{n} \frac{1}{v} \int_a^v x F(x)^{n-2} f(x) dx = \frac{n-1}{(n-a)^{n-1}} \int_a^v (x-a)^{n-2} x dx = \frac{n-1}{n} v + \frac{a}{n}$. Hence, for $n = 2$ it is $\frac{v+a}{2}$.
- (5 points) Completely describe an auction that maximizes the seller's revenue. (You are not expected to compute the obtained revenue.) How does the design change with a change in the values a, b ? First (or second price) auction with reserve price $r = 1 - r + a$ which is $r = \frac{1+a}{2}$. Hence, for $a \geq 1$, there will be effectively no reserve price (for $n \geq 2$). Reason: the seller's value of retaining the good is 0, which is then much lower than selling at the lowest possible price.

3 Selling mechanisms (16 points)

Someone wants to sell a painting. There are 2 potential buyers. Assume the IPV environment and that the buyers' values are drawn from the interval $[0, 1]$ according to the uniform distribution.

- (2 points) Assume that the seller is selling the painting in a second-price sealed bid auction. What are the undominated equilibrium bidding strategies? $\theta(x) = x$.
- (2 points) Assume that the seller is selling the painting in a first-price sealed bid auction. What are the equilibrium bidding strategies? $\theta(x) = \frac{x}{2}$.
- (8 points) Consider now the following selling mechanism: The seller asks buyer 1 to make a bid, but buyer 2 gets the right to buy at this price. That is, if buyer 1 bids b , buyer 2 may buy the object at a price of b or refuse. In the latter case, buyer 1 buys the object at price b . Determine the sequentially rational equilibrium outcome. Buyer 2: buy if $p \geq v_2$. Probability that 1 keeps the object at bid b is b . Hence, bidder 1 maximizes $b(p - b)$ which is maximized at $\frac{1}{2}$.
- (4 points) Compare the three mechanisms with respect to the seller's expected revenue. (You do not have to explicitly calculate revenues. Three revenue equivalence hold here? Why, why not? First and second price yield the same revenue. Consider putting first price and mechanism from 3, we see

	IPV auction	mechanism
$v_1 \geq v_2$	2 points	2 points
$v_2 \geq v_1 \geq \frac{1}{2}$	1 point	2 points
$\frac{1}{2} \geq v_2$	1 point	2 points

Since expected revenue in the mechanism must be lower. Moreover, it can be seen

Advanced Microeconomic Exam With Solution:

Advanced Microeconomics Harald Wiese, 2021-08-11 This textbook for master programs in economics offers a comprehensive overview of microeconomics. It employs a carefully graded approach where basic game theory concepts are already explained within the simpler decision framework. The unavoidable mathematical content is supplied when needed not in an appendix. The book covers a lot of ground from decision theory to game theory from bargaining to auction theory from household theory to oligopoly theory and from the theory of general equilibrium to regulation theory. Additionally, cooperative game theory is introduced. This textbook has been recommended and developed for university courses in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland.

Advanced Microeconomic Theory Felix Munoz-Garcia, 2017-08-11 An introduction to advanced topics in microeconomics that emphasizes the intuition behind assumptions and results, providing examples that show how to apply theory to practice. This textbook offers an introduction to advanced microeconomic theory that emphasizes the intuition behind mathematical assumptions, providing step-by-step examples that show how to apply theoretical models. It covers standard topics such as preference relations, demand theory, and applications, producer theory, choice under uncertainty, partial and general equilibrium, monopoly, game theory, and imperfect competition, externalities, and public goods, and contract theory, but its intuitive and application-oriented approach provides students with a bridge to more technical topics. The book can be used by advanced undergraduates as well as Masters students in economics, finance, and public policy, and by PhD students in programs with an applied focus. The text connects each topic with recent findings in behavioral and experimental economics and discusses these results in context within the appropriate chapter. Step-by-step examples appear immediately after the main theoretical findings, and end-of-chapter exercises help students understand how to approach similar exercises on their own. An appendix reviews basic mathematical concepts. A separate workbook, Practice Exercises for Advanced Microeconomic Theory, offers solutions to selected problems with detailed explanations. The textbook and workbook together help students improve both their theoretical and practical preparation in advanced microeconomics.
