Johnno By David Malouf:

Johnno David Malouf, 1998 Despite Johnno's assertion that Brisbane was absolutely the ugliest place in the world I had the feeling as I walked across deserted intersections past empty parks with their tropical trees all spiked and sharp edged in the early sunlight that it might even be beautiful Johnno is a typical Australian who refuses to be typical His disorderly presence can disturb the staleness of his home town or destroy the tranquillity of a Greek landscape David Malouf David Malouf, 1990 No Marketing Blurb Brodie's Notes on David Malouf's Johnno and An Imaginary Life David Malouf, Henry James Plunkett, 1987-01 Brief summary of the story Chapter summaries Characters Structure Themes Malouf's critical views David Malouf, Johnno, 1997* Embracing the Other Dunja M. Mohr, 2008 In the wake of addressing multiculturalism transculturalism racism and ethnicity the issue of xenophobia and xenophilia has been somewhat marginalized The present collection seeks from a variety of angles to investigate the relations between Self and Other in the New Literatures in English How do we register differences and what does an embrace signify for both Self and Other The contributors deal with a variety of topics ranging from theoretical reflections on xenophobia its exploration in terms of intertextuality and New Zealand Maori historiography to analyses of migrant and border narratives and issues of transitionality authenticity and racism in Canada and South Africa Others negotiate identity and alterity in Nigerian Malaysian Australian Indian Canadian and Caribbean texts or reflect on diaspora and orientalism in Australian Asian and West Indian contexts Johnno Nick Enright, David Malouf, 1986 David Malouf Don Randall, 2013-07-19 Don Randall's comprehensive study situates Malouf within the field of contemporary international and postcolonial writing but without losing sight of the author's affiliation with Australian contexts The book presents an original reading of Malouf finding the unity of his work in the continuity of his ethical concerns for Malouf human lives find their value in transformations specifically in instances of self overcoming that encounters with difference or otherness provoke However the book is fully aware of and informed by the quite ample body of criticism on Malouf and thus provides readers with a broad based understanding of how Malouf's works have been received and assessed It is an effective companion volume for studies in postcolonial or Australian literature for any study project in which Malouf figures prominently Die Konstruktion des Fremden in den Romanen von David Malouf Jörg Heinke, 2005 The Local Meets the Global in Performance Pirkko Koski, Melissa Sihra, 2010-02-19 This anthology explores the ways in which theatre and performance functions at the interstices of contemporary local and global networks Theatre and performance occurs in time and space and exists between the audience and performer as a communicative event This local world of experience and human interactivity is not easily subsumed by global networks or commercial systems and remains a potent force of expression and at times resistance The volume offers a range of critical viewpoints from which to evaluate the interrelationality of the local and the global such as philosophical cosmopolitanism post colonialism feminism class ethnicity gender and the experience of the diasporic or exilic artist The anthology concludes with a reflection between

Janelle Reinelt and Marvin Carlson upon the ideas put forth in the book and the broader connectivities of the local and the global Reinelt and Carlson reveal that these concepts should not be regarded in opposition but rather as entangled something which is reflected in this volume as a whole A number of international productions and performance practices are discussed from diverse geographical and cultural perspectives illuminating the complexity of the local and the global As Reinelt suggests The global local category as a hyphenated concept has become a slogan now a cliché even It first arose because the local was supposed to save the global from totalisation but in fact the global local concept became in reality so complex that this opposition was not useful anymore Carlson's and Reinelt's engagement with the essays and with the broader issues of the global and the local marks an important intervention into how we process experience through theatre and performance in the world today Contributors include Marvin Carlson Shams Eldin Lynette Hunter Pirkko Koski Yana Meerzon Yasushi Nagata Janelle Reinelt Heike Roms Nehad Selaiha Melissa Sihra Juha Sihvola Joanne Tompkins Denise Varney and Farah Yeganeh

By the Book Belinda McKay, Patrick Buckridge, 2011-05-14 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia's playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutinised in Queensland literature for 150 years and writers today maintain that complicated imaginative relationship with the idea of Queensland as both different and paradoxical By the Book looks at Queensland literature in terms of its regional cultures while also devoting chapters to Indigenous writing writing for children and travel writing In the process it rediscovers lost literary traditions and forgotten writers to stir the imagination Re-evaluations of early writers like Rosa Praed and George Essex Evans set contemporary writers like David Malouf Janette Turner Hospital and Venero Armano in a new context

David Malouf Ivor Indyk, 1993 David Malouf is one of Australia's most popular novelists and also one of its most elusive Drawing on the whole range of his work fiction poetry essays his plays and his libretti Ivor Indyk presents Malouf as both a primitive and a romantic a writer who draws deeply on the rhythms of nature in his expression of dark desires which go largely unrecognised in the social domain

Library of Dreams, 2011 LIBRARY OF DREAMS interprets and celebrates a diverse selection of treasures from the rich and varied collections of the National Library of Australia The book examines over 50 of the most popular items page by page in the Library's collections including James Cook's Endeavour journal William Bligh's notebook and list of mutineers The only surviving Australian convict uniform The original manuscript of Waltzing Matilda William John Wills diary Jorn Utzon's models for the design of the Sydney Opera House The manuscripts relating to the trial of Lindy Chamberlain Beautifully illustrated throughout this souvenir publication examines what makes a national treasure and inspires readers to take a closer look at what libraries reveal about Australia's heritage. The publication will appeal to a broad range of readers in particular those with an interest in Australian history and anyone who loves beautiful rare objects and appreciates Australian culture.

On David Malouf Nam Le, 2019-05-07 Here was a very much alive half Lebanese writer from provincial Brisbane no less producing English language writing of the very first order. The poetry was in the prose, it stayed and sprung its rhythms, chorded its ideas, concentrated its images. Every other novel claims to be written in poetic prose, the real thing when you come across it is actually shocking. Nam Le takes the reader on a thrilling intellectual ride in this sharp, bold essay. Encompassing identity, politics, metaphysics, the relationship between life and art, and the Australianness of Malouf's work, it is unlike anything else written about one of Australia's most acclaimed writers. In the Writers on Writers series, leading writers reflect on another Australian writer who has inspired and fascinated them. Provocative and crisp, these books start a fresh conversation between past and present, shed new light on the craft of writing, and introduce some intriguing and talented authors and their work. Published by Black Inc in association with the University of Melbourne and State Library Victoria.

The Culture of Boredom, 2020-04-28 The Culture of Boredom is a collection of essays by well-known specialists reflecting from philosophical, literary, and artistic perspectives in which the reader will learn how different disciplines can throw light on such an appealing, challenging, yet still not fully understood phenomenon. The goal is to clarify the background of boredom and to explore its representation through forgotten, cross-cutting narratives beyond the typical approaches, i.e. those of psychology or psychiatry. For the first time, this experienced group of scholars gathers to promote a cross-border dialogue from a multidisciplinary perspective.

Suburban Space, the Novel and Australian Modernity Brigid Rooney, 2018-11-15 Suburban Space, the Novel and Australian Modernity investigates the interaction between suburbs and suburbia in a century-long series of Australian novels. It puts the often trenchantly anti-suburban rhetoric of fiction in dialogue with its evocative and imaginative rendering of suburban place and time. Suburban Space, the Novel and Australian Modernity rethinks existing cultural debates about suburbia in Australia and elsewhere by putting novelistic representations of suburbs, suburban interiors, homes, streets, forms, and lives over time in dialogue with the often negative idea of suburbia in fiction as an amnesic and conformist cultural wasteland. Suburban space, the novel and Australian modernity shows, in other words, how Australian novels dramatize the collision between the sensory terrain of the remembered suburb and the cultural critique of suburbia. It is through such contradictions that novels create resonant mental maps of place and time. Australian novels are a prism through which suburbs as sites of everyday colonization, defined by successive waves of urban development, are able to be glimpsed sidelong.

Moriarty,2017-04-18 In this book teachers from a variety of backgrounds reflect upon their journeys into and within teaching to discuss the impact of their diverse experiences on the ways in which they teach The authors adopt a variety of autoethnographic approaches in telling stories of transition and profound transformation as they each discuss how certain events in their lives have shaped their professional identities and methods of teaching In telling their stories they also tell stories of the culture and process of education This offers the opportunity to consider the narratives as examples of how individuals and groups respond in different ways to institutional and national policies on education In these chapters the authors offer illumination from a number of perspectives of how practitioners of education make meaning of their lives and work in our changing times By capturing these personal stories this book will inform and support readers who are studying to become teachers and those already working in education by developing their understanding and empathy with the role Autoethnography can develop self knowledge and understanding in the reader and writer of such texts offering unique insights and individual ways of being that will benefit students and staff in a range of educational settings This book values the telling and sharing of stories as a strategy for enabling teachers to learn from one another and help them to feel more supported The book will be useful for teachers and teacher educators students of education and all researchers interested in autoethnography and self narrative
