Legacies of the Homeland Paramjeet Singh,2018-04-07 This book is not intended to provide a list of the 100 best books ever written and published by Punjabi authors Given the sheer range of books written by Punjabi authors and the unpredictability of individual taste any such definitive list is quite impossible Secondly the choice has been restricted to books that were written by them either in Punjabi Hindi or Urdu but have been translated into English Thus personal choice restricted by availability has dictated this selection The choice of books includes autobiographies novels short stories poems and plays Research books religious books and books written originally in English have not been included From the Introduction I am amazed at the scholarship the passion and the love with which Paramjeet Singh has written this book It will be a reference volume for all times Nirupama Dutt Poet Journalist Translator Mr Singh s effort is commendable as he is making available some of the rarest of gems of Punjabi literature to the non Punjabi readers I congratulate Mr Singh on putting together this selection and hope that non Punjabi readers of this book would find new horizons of cultural experience opening up before them Of course for Punjabi readers it may be yet another opportunity to experience a sense of genuine pride in their rich legacy of language literature and culture Prof Rana Nayar PARTITION: HISTORY AND FICTIONAL

INGENUITY Dr. RAJU J PATOLE,2017-01-12 The Partition of India 1947 is undoubtedly the most cataclysmic event in India s contemporary history India s freedom was accompanied by a holocaust of unconscionable horror that bit deeply into the memories of its inhabitants¹ In terms of its scale and its wide ranging impact Partition remains the singularly most important event and turning point Ten to twelve millions people moved within few months between India and Pakistan The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France,2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to

Turkish For some works e g Virgil s Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available

Black Margins Sa'adat Hasan Manto,2003 Along with Manto s open letter to Nehru that reveals his state of mind after the Partition this collection captures the best of Manto s literary powers Part of the Pakistan Writers Series which presents English translations of Urdu fiction from Pakistan Black Margins encompasses the range of Manto s thematic and formalistic concerns The Oxford India Anthology of Modern Urdu Literature Mehr Afshan Farooqi,2008 The Fiction volume includes both short stories and extracts from novels and novellas Beginning with Muhammad Hadi Ruswa 1857 1931 it moves on to Premchand Ghulam Abbas Krishan Chander Rajender singh Bedi Intizar Husain Qurratulain Hyder Abdullah Hussein and Naiyer Masud among others and finally Syed Muhammad Ashraf Indian English and the Fiction of National Literature Rosemary Marangoly George,2013-11-21 Tracks the establishment of a national literature in English for independent India over the course of the twentieth century Memories of Madness Khushwant Singh,2002-09-11 Independence for India in 1947 came with a price division on the basis of religion In the communal riots that followed hundreds of thousands were killed and millions rendered homeless And the tragic legacy of Partition haunts the subcontinent even today Memories of Madness brings together works by three leading writers who witnessed the insanity of those months Train to Pakistan Khushwant Singh s debut novel tells the story of a village in Punjab Mano Majra where Muslims and Sikhs have co existed peacefully till one night in 1947 when a ghost train arrives from across the new border bearing corpses of butchered refugees As mistrust grows into hate and the people of Mano Majra lose their humanity it is left to an outcast a Sikh dacoit in love with a Muslim girl to avert another carnage Bhisham Sahni s Tamas is a harrowing portrait of a small frontier town in the grip of communal frenzy Based on the author s own experience of riots in Rawalpindi this celebrated novel describes the murder and mayhem triggered off by the discovery of a pig s carcass outside a mosque The matchless stories of Saadat Hasan Manto the greatest short story writer in the Urdu language round off this collection In addition to his most famous story Toba Tek Singh the selection includes ten other sketches and stories in which Manto turns his unflinching gaze on history s criminals victims and unlikely heroes As moving as they are disturbing the stories in this volume are of immense relevance in these times for they constitute a chilling reminder of the consequences of communal politics

Community, Gender and Violence Pārtha Caṭṭopādhyāya,Partha Chatterjee,Pradeep Jeganathan,2000 This work questions the role of women and the nation especially among minorities It examines many topics such as Tamil nationalism the new woman in Indian cinema women and minorities in the context of law and the issue of violence Riddles of Belonging Christi A. Merrill,2009 Can the subaltern joke Christi A Merrill answers by invoking riddling oral based fictions from Hindi Rajasthani Sanskrit and Urdu that dare to laugh at what traditions often keep hidden whether spouse abuse ethnic violence or the uncertain legacies of a divinely wrought sex change Herself a skilled translator Merrill uses these examples to investigate the expectation that translated work should allow the non English speaking subaltern to speak directly to the English speaking reader She plays with the trope of speaking to argue against treating a translated text as property as a singular material object to be carried across as trans latus implies She refigures translation as a performative telling in turn from the Hindi word anuvad to explain how a text might be multiply possessed She thereby challenges the distinction between original and derivative fundamental to nationalist and literary discourse humoring our melancholic fixation on what is lost Instead she offers strategies for playing along with the subversive wit found in translated texts Sly jokes and spirited double entendres she suggests require equally spirited double hearings The playful lessons offered by these narratives provide insight into the networks of transnational relations connecting us across a sea of differences Generations of multilingual audiences in India have been navigating this Ocean of the Stream of Stories since before the 11th century arriving at a fluid sense of commonality across languages Salman Rushdie is not the first to pose crucial questions of belonging by telling a version of this narrative the work of non English language writers like Vijay Dan Detha whose tales are at the core of this book asks what responsibilities we have to make the rights and wrongs of these fictions come alive age after age

The Idea of India Sunil Khilnani, 2016-01-15 Sunil Khilnani's exciting book addresses the paradoxes and ironies that have surrounded the project of inventing India a project that has brought Indians considerable political freedom and carried their enormous democracy to the verge of being Asia's greatest free state but that has also left many of them in poverty and that is now threatened by divisive religious nationalism Khilnani's superb historical analysis conveys modern India's energy fluidity and unpredictability in its democracy and its voting patterns in its visions of economic development in its diverse cities and devotion to village culture and in its current disputes over its political identity Throughout he provokes and illuminates this fundamental question Can the original idea of India survive its own successes

The Pity of Partition Ayesha Jalal, 2013-02-21 A history of partition seen through the life and fiction of one of the subcontinent's most important modern writers Saadat Hasan Manto 1912-1955 was an established Urdu short story writer and a rising screenwriter in Bombay at the time of India's partition in 1947 and he is perhaps best known for the short stories he wrote following his migration to Lahore in newly formed Pakistan Today Manto is an acknowledged master of twentieth century Urdu literature and his fiction serves as a lens through which the tragedy of partition is brought sharply into focus In The Pity of Partition Manto's life and work serve as a prism to capture the human dimension of sectarian conflict in the final decades and immediate aftermath of the British raj Ayesha Jalal draws on Manto's stories sketches and essays as well as a trove of his private letters to present an intimate history of partition and its devastating toll Probing the creative tension between literature and history she charts a new way of reconnecting the histories of individuals families and communities in the throes of cataclysmic change Jalal brings to life the people locales and events that inspired Manto's fiction which is characterized by an eye for detail a measure of wit and irreverence and elements of suspense and surprise In turn she mines these writings for fresh insights into everyday cosmopolitanism in Bombay and Lahore the experience and causes of partition the postcolonial transition and the advent of the Cold War in South Asia The first in depth look in English at this influential literary figure The Pity of Partition demonstrates the revelatory power of art in times of great historical rupture TLLS, the Times Literary Supplement ,1987
