Parr, 2006 This volume seeks to explore developments in the study of sixteenth and seventeenth century Spanish literature over the past decade through the prism of a homage volume that recognizes the contributions of James A Parr In his ground breaking 1974 essay in Hispania he challenged Hispanists to take note of developments in the fields of English and Comparative Studies not to jump on the bandwagon but to explore the emerging approaches to textual study in order to identify and adapt those aspects that could help to illuminate the field In his own work Parr followed that advice with studies that incorporated new approaches to genre theory narratology and canonicity in order to explore dramatic and prose texts and Don Quixote The studies in this anthology make use of many of Parr's innovations indicating that his work has had a long lasting impact on the field of Golden Age Hispanism Affect and American Literature in the Age of Neoliberalism Rachel Greenwald Smith, 2015-04-20 Rachel Greenwald Smith's Affect and American Literature in the Age of Neoliberalism examines the relationship between contemporary American literature and politics Through readings of works by Paul Auster Karen Tei Yamashita and others Smith challenges the neoliberal notion that emotions are the property of the self The Implosion of Negativity Andreas Hau, 2010 Dissertation im Fachbereich Nordamerikanische Literatur und Kultur der Universität des Saarlandes The Implosion of Negativity ist die erste Monografie zu Paul Austers Frühwerk Bis 1980 betätigte sich Auster zehn Jahre lang fast ausschließlich als Lyriker um danach nie wieder ein Gedicht zu veröffentlichen The Implosion of Negativity versucht zu ergründen wie es zu diesem Bruch kam und analysiert detailliert Austers poetisches Vorleben Dabei werden bislang unbeachtete Einflüsse wie Martin Buber und Paul Celan zutage gefördert Die abschließende Untersuchung von The New York Trilogy zeigt exemplarisch welche neuen interpretatorischen Ansätze die Kenntnis von Austers vergessenem Frühwerk ermöglicht Der untote Lyriker wird zum Phantom das unablässig Austers Romane heimsucht und antreibt Die Dissertation The Implosion of Negativity ist in englischer Sprache verfasst Der Anhang enthält eine deutsche Zusammenfassung eine umfassende Bibliographie und ein persönliches Interview mit Paul Auster Englischer Klappentext For most readers and critics Paul Auster's oeuvre begins with The New York Trilogy yet his major success as a novelist was preceded by a decade of almost obsessive devotion to poetry The Implosion of Negativity is the first book length study of Paul Auster's early work From his dense intensely lyric sequences of the early 1970s to the more discursive style of Auster's final book of poems Facing the Music 1980 and on to his experimental prose of the early eighties The Implosion of Negativity traces a fascinating journey through the author's formative years

Andreas Hau s dissertation begins with a detailed analysis of Auster s early long poem Unearth examines overlooked influences such as Paul Celan and Martin Buber and continues with Auster s exploration of his Jewish heritage in Wall Writing his rediscovery of the American objectivists in Disappearances and his encounters with the visual arts in Fragments from Cold Subsequent Postmodern Counternarratives Christopher Donovan,2005-02-10 This book provides a wide ranging discussion of realism postmodernism literary theory and popular fiction before focusing on the careers of four prominent novelists Despite wildly contrasting ambitions and agendas all four grow progressively more sympathetic to the expectations of a mainstream literary audience noting the increasingly neglected yet archetypal need for strong explanatory narrative even while remaining wary of its limitations presumptions and potential abuses Exploring novels that manage to bridge the gap between accessible storytelling and literary theory this book shows how contemporary authors reconcile values of posmodern literary experimentation and traditional realism Beyond Cognitive Metaphor Theory Monika Fludernik,2012-03-29 In this innovative collection an international group of scholars come together to discuss literary metaphors and cognitive metaphor theory The volume presents recent approaches to metaphor illustrates a range of successful applications of the new cognitive models to literary texts and provides an assessment of cognitive metaphor theory from a literary point of view Imaginary Films in Literature ,2015-11-09 Since cinema is a composite language describing a movie is a complex challenge for critics and writers and greatly differs from the ancient and successful genre of the ekphrasis the literary description of a visual work of art Imaginary Films in Literature deals with a specific and significant case within this broad category the description of imaginary non existent movies a practice that is more widespread than one might expect especially in North American postmodern fiction Along with theoretical contributions the book includes the analyses of some case studies focusing on the borders between the visual and the literary intermedial practices of hybridization the limits of representation and other related notions such as memory fragmentation desire genre authorship and censorship The French Atlantic Triangle Christopher L. Miller,2008-01-11 A study of representations of the French Atlantic slave trade in the history literature and film of France and its former colonies in Africa and the Caribbean Melancholy and the Archive Jonathan Boulter,2011-05-19 Melancholy and the Archive examines how trauma history and memory are represented in key works of major contemporary writers such as David Mitchell Paul Auster Haruki Murakami and Jose Saramago The book explores how these authors construct crucial relationships between sites of memory the archive becomes a central trope here and the self that has been subjected to various traumas various losses The archive be it a bureaucratic office Saramago an underground bunker Auster a geographical space or landscape Mitchell or even a hole Murakami becomes the means by which the self attempts to preserve and conserve his or her sense of history even as the economy of trauma threatens to erase the grounds of such preservation as the subject or self is threatened so the archive becomes a festishized site wherein history is housed accommodated created even fabricated The archive in Freudian terms becomes a space of melancholy precisely as the subject preserves not only a personal history or a culture's history but also the history of the traumas that necessitates the creation of the archive as such Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction Peter Ferry, 2014-08-21 Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction is an interdisciplinary study that presents masculinity as a key thematic concern in contemporary New York fiction. This study argues that New York authors do not simply depict masculinity as a social and historical construction but seek to challenge the archetypal ideals of masculinity by writing counter hegemonic narratives. Gendering canonical New York writers namely Paul Auster, Bret Easton Ellis, and Don DeLillo illustrates how explorations of masculinity are tied into the principal themes that have defined the American novel from its very beginning. The themes that feature in this study include the role of the novel in American society, the individual and urban society, the journey from innocence to awareness of masculinity, the archetypal image of the absent and/or patriarchal father, the impact of homosocial relations on the everyday performance of masculinity, male sexuality and the male individual, and globalization. What connects these contemporary New York writers is their employment of the one of the great figures in the history of literature, the flâneur. These authors take the flâneur from the shadows of the Manhattan streets and elevate this figure to the role of self-reflexive agent of male subjectivity through which they write counter hegemonic narratives of masculinity. This book is an essential reference for those with an interest in gender studies and contemporary American fiction.

Narrative Care: Biopolitics and the Novel Arne De Boever, 2013-03-28 If the September 11 terror attacks opened up an era of crises and exceptions of which we are yet to see the end, it is perhaps not surprising that care has emerged in the early twenty-first century as a key political issue. This book approaches contemporary narratives of care through the lens of a growing body of theoretical writings on biopolitics. Through close readings of J. M. Coetzee's Slow Man, Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go, Paul Auster's The Book of Illusions, and Tom McCarthy's Remainder, it seeks to reframe debates about realism in the novel ranging from Ian Watt to Zadie Smith as engagements with the novel's biopolitical origins, its relation to pastoral care, the camps, and the welfare state. Within such an understanding of the novel, what possibilities for a critical aesthetics of existence does the contemporary novel include?

Bi-directionality in the Cognitive Sciences Marcus Callies, Wolfram R. Keller, Astrid Lohöfer, 2011 Cognitive science is the interdisciplinary study of the human mind. As far as the exact relationship between the cognitive sciences and other fields is concerned, however, it appears that interdisciplinary exchange often remains unrealized, possibly because of the uni-directional application of theories, concepts, and methods, which impedes the productive transfer of knowledge in both directions. In the course of the cognitive turn in the humanities and social sciences, many disciplines have selectively borrowed ideas from core cognitive sciences like psychology and artificial intelligence. The day-to-day practice of interdisciplinarity thus thrives on one-directional borrowings. Focusing on cognitive approaches in linguistics and literary studies, this volume explores bi-directionality, a genuine transdisciplinary interchange in which both disciplines are borrowing and lending. The contributions take different perspectives on bidirectionality some extend uni directional borrowing practices and point to avenues and crossroads while others critically discuss obstacles challenges and limitations to bi directional transfer
