Gill, 2024-04-02 This series aims to provide authoritative guidance on all aspects of the law of international organizations This area of law has over the years developed into a separate field of study within the discipline of public international law While it covers the law of individual organizations such as the United Nations the World Trade Organization the International Criminal Court and the European Union it also includes thematic institutional law topics such as membership decision making legal personality and responsibility of international organizations In these and other areas international organizations face similar questions and share a number of common characteristics The series aims to include works written by practitioners as well as academics

The Vienna Conventions on the Law of Treaties Olivier Corten, Pierre Klein, 2011 The 1969 and 1986 Vienna Conventions on the Law of Treaties are essential components of the international legal order This is the first Commentary on their provisions containing thorough and well structured analyses of each of their Articles It draws on preparatory works and practice and is written by a large collection of experts from the field Jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice Hanqin Xue, 2017-07-03 The International Court of Justice principal judicial organ of the United Nations plays an important and unique role in the peaceful settlement of international disputes As a third party mechanism it is a highly technical and well structured institution Through its continuous and consistent jurisprudence it provides legal certainty stability and predictability to the interpretation and application of international law This special course intends to introduce some general concepts that underlie international adjudication and the basic rules and principles governing the competence and jurisdiction of the Court Notwithstanding its prominence the Court does not have a general and unconditional competence in dispute resolution Its jurisdiction is based on the consent of the States both in general terms as well as in each specific case which reflects the attributes of the State system Jurisdiction is a substantive matter The Court's decision on the question of jurisdiction is no less important than on the merits Nicaragua Before the International Court of Justice Edgardo Sobenes Obregon, Benjamin Samson, 2017-11-21 This book analyses Nicaragua's role in the development of international law through its participation in cases that have come before the International Court of Justice Nicaragua has appeared before the ICJ in fourteen cases either as an applicant respondent or intervening State thus setting an important example of commitment to the peaceful judicial settlement of disputes The Nicaraguan cases have enabled the ICJ to take positions on and clarify a whole range of important procedural jurisdictional and substantive legal issues which have inspired the jurisprudence of international and regional courts and tribunals and influenced the development of international law The book focuses on reviewing Nicaragua's cases before the ICJ using a thematic approach to identify their impact on international law Each chapter includes a discussion of the relevant cases on a particular theme and their impact over time on general as well as specific branches of international law notably through their use as precedent by other international and regional courts and tribunals

Question Time at the ICJ in Contentious Cases Karel Wellens, 2025-09-13 This book written from a practice oriented perspective examines whether and how questioning from the Bench actually achieves its objective i.e. to assist the Court Particular circumstances such as incidental proceedings and the time factor have an impact on the act of questioning while the provisional relevance of issues raised perceived as such by both the Court and the parties may later turn out to be effective and rather important Judicial actors have raised both conceptual and contextual questions as well as procedural and substantive and even hypothetical ones The subject matter of questions depends on the Court's champ opératoire while the parties' litigation strategy and their co-operational duties provide the framework to respond to the Court and to comment on the other party's replies A survey of this practice by both the judicial actors and the parties well established now after almost eight decades constitutes the groundwork for the qualitative analysis of the manner in which questions, replies and comments have found their way into the judicial reasoning of the Court and of individual judges In the overwhelming majority of judgments and individual opinions this judicial engagement has been co-decisive This is the first in depth and comprehensive monograph providing a functional analysis of this managerial tool at the Court's disposal making it essential reading for both scholars and practitioners studying and involved with the Court's jurisprudence Karel Wellens is Emeritus Professor of International Law at the Radboud University Nijmegen in The Netherlands
