11 era a flood of memoirs has wrestled with anxieties both personal and national European Perspectives on John Updike Laurence W. Mazzeno, Sue Norton, 2018 From his first book publication in 1958 the American writer John Updike attracted an international readership His books have been translated into twenty three languages and he has always had a strong following in the United Kingdom and in Europe Although Updike died in 2009 interest in his work remains strong among European scholars No recent volume however collects diverse European views on Updike's oeuvre The current book fills that void presenting essays that perceive Updike's renditions of America through the eyes of scholar readers from both Western and Eastern Europe back cover Promised Lands Derek Rubin, 2010-11-09 An anthology of previously unpublished stories

Formations Amrita Ghosh,Rohit K. Dasgupta,Bhakti Shringarpure,2024-12-15 India s Imperial Formations explores the ways in which empire building occurs and consolidates through the Indian and diasporic cultural landscape where a collusion with whiteness Hindu fundamentalism casteism and religious and racial bigotry are rampant and create hegemonic imaginaries of an India that denies a democratic space of multiple Indias to coexist together India is not only home to the world s largest film industry but also has one of the oldest media ecosystems today with a prolific output in television radio print and digital media These systems shape hearts and minds in the large nation and also have significant impact in the region as well as in the world due to India s vast diaspora population This book argues that Indian culture industries are a crucial site to investigate constructions of Islamophobia casteism sinophobia sexism colorism and anti Blackness Within this work the authors highlight the urgent need to evaluate the complicity of Indian and diasporic cultural production in perpetuating a casual and sometimes even aggressive normalization of bigotry and discrimination towards minoritized communities This polemical book is written by three scholars of culture gender and postcolonial studies providing an accessible yet rigorous study of these issues The Political Economy of Migration and Post-industrialising Australia Patrick Brownlee,2020-08-31

During the 1980s and 1990s Australia s migration intake turned rapidly towards recruiting business professionals managers and entrepreneurs to support the country s entry into an economic system marked by global value chains This book analyses the policy idea termed Productive Diversity introduced by the Australian government as a way of conceptualising the belief that migrants would bring business acumen and a global outlook to help Australia compete as a trading nation The book examines this germinal period of Australia s economic reorientation through a close inspection of policy documents parliamentary hearings economic and migration statistics and interviews with the architects of the policy It provides a comprehensive account of how the policy framework emerged how it was implemented and studies the rationale in recruiting self starters and managers to connect with global trade flows This work will be of interest to students and researchers of migration studies especially Australian migration diversity policies sociology multiculturalism economics development studies and Asia Pacific studies The methods and data will also be of value to political economists and policy makers Cultural Heritage and Slavery Stephan Conermann,Claudia Rauhut,Ulrike Schmieder,Michael Zeuske,2023-11-20 In the recent cultural heritage boom community based and national identity projects are intertwined with interest in cultural tourism and sites of the memory of enslavement Questions of historical guilt and present responsibility have become a source of social conflict particularly in multicultural societies with an enslaving past This became apparent in the context of the Black Lives Matter movement in 2020 when statues of enslavers and colonizers were toppled controversial debates about streets and places named after them re-ignited and the European Union apologized for slavery after the racist murder of George Floyd. Related debates focus on museums on artworks acquired unjustly in societies under colonial rule, the question of whether and how museums should narrate the hidden past of enslavement and colonialism including their own colonial origins with respect to narratives about presumed European supremacy and the need to establish new monuments for the enslaved, their resistance and abolitionists of African descent. In this volume we address this dissonant cultural heritage in Europe with a strong focus on the tangible remains of enslavement in the Atlantic space in the continent. This may concern for instance the residences of royal noble and bourgeois enslavers, charitable and cultural institutions, universities, banks and insurance companies financed by the traders and owners of enslaved Africans, merchants who dealt in sugar, coffee and cotton, and the owners of factories who profited from exports to the African and Caribbean markets related to Atlantic slavery.

Citizenship After Orientalism Engin F Isin, 2015-10-14 This collection offers a postcolonial critique of the ostensible superiority or originality of Western political theory and one of its fundamental concepts, citizenship. The chapters analyse the undoing, uncovering and reinventing of citizenship as a way of investigating citizenship as political subjectivity. If it has now become very difficult to imagine citizenship merely as nationality or membership in the nation-state, this is at least in part because of the anticolonial struggles and the project of reimagining citizenship after orientalism that they precipitated. If it has become difficult to sustain the orientalist assumption, the question arises: how do we investigate citizenship as political subjectivity after orientalism? This book was originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies.

Seeking Home Leslie Harper Worthington, Jürgen Grandt, 2024-01-12 Appalachian people are frequently depicted as poorly educated whites who isolate themselves in mountain hollows. In Seeking Home, editors Leslie Harper Worthington and Jürgen E Grandt turn that stereotype upside down by showcasing Appalachia's ethnic diversity through a lively collection of essays discussing fiction, poetry, letters and songs. This distinct collection begins with a personal narrative in which Worthington relates how she discovered her own home through teaching Lee Smith's Fair and Tender Ladies. Other essays range from the anticipated Ron Rash, Barbara Kingsolver, Harriette Simpson Arnow to the unanticipated Charles Frazier's magical realism, a Confederate soldier's journals and three different examinations of Appalachian poets. Adding further texture to the collection are essays examining the diversity in Appalachian music, including Cherokee song and dance, a discussion of Appalachian mining songs, and an examination of recording technology and authenticity. Seeking Home confirms that just as there are many Souths, there are also many Appalachias. The region is multifaceted, multicultural, and all we have to do is be willing to examine the variety.

LESLIE HARPER WORTHINGTON is the dean of Academic Programs and Services at Gadsden State Community College in Alabama. She is the author of Cormac McCarthy and the Ghost of Huck Finn. JÜRGEN E GRANDT is an associate professor of English at the University of North Georgia. He is the author of Shaping Words to Fit the Soul: The Southern Ritual.

Managing Ethnic Diversity After 9/11 Ariane Chebel d'Appollonia, Simon Reich, 2010 America s approach to terrorism has focused on traditional national security methods under the assumption that terrorism s roots are foreign and the solution to greater security lies in conventional practices Europe offers a different model with its response to internal terrorism relying on police procedures Managing Ethnic Diversity after 9 11 compares these two strategies and considers that both may have engendered greater radicalization and a greater chance of home grown terrorism Essays address how transatlantic countries including the United Kingdom the United States France Germany Spain Italy and the Netherlands have integrated ethnic minorities especially Arabs and Muslims since 9 11 Discussing the securitization of integration contributors argue that the neglect of civil integration has challenged the rights of these minorities and has made greater security more remote
