The Literary Manuscripts and Letters of Hannah More Nicholas D. Smith, 2016-12-05 The result of extensive archival investigation, this meticulously researched book collects and describes for the first time the extant literary manuscripts and letters of the celebrated Bluestocking writer and Evangelical philanthropist Hannah More (1745-1833). Participating in the ongoing recovery of eighteenth-century women writers, Nicholas D. Smith's survey is an indispensable reference work not only for More scholars but for those researching the careers of many of her contemporaries. Features include an extended narrative analysis of the manuscripts that plots More's participation in the manuscript culture of the period and contextualizes the individual entries in the index; provenance details for the more substantial manuscript holdings in British and North American repositories; and identification of numerous autograph manuscripts and transcripts in public and private collections. More than 1,500 letters in 95 locations in Britain and North America have been inventoried, and precise dates and internal locators are supplied when known. More's letters, the majority of which have never been published, are a largely untapped source of primary materials for scholars and students researching such diverse subjects as the literary activities and opinions of the Bluestocking circle; women's conduct and education; publishing and the book trade; the national debate over the abolition of the slave trade; the rise of the Evangelical movement; the conservative reaction to the American and French revolutions; and the Napoleonic wars.

Samuel Richardson and the Art of Letter-Writing Louise Curran, 2016-03-17 Examines Samuel Richardson's letters and novels and explores the interconnection between fiction and correspondence in eighteenth-century literature.
