On the Corner Daniel Matlin, 2013-11-01 In July 1964 after a decade of intense media focus on civil rights protest in the Jim Crow South a riot in Harlem abruptly shifted attention to the urban crisis embroiling America's northern cities On the Corner revisits the volatile moment when African American intellectuals were thrust into the spotlight as indigenous interpreters of black urban life to white America and when black urban communities became the chief objects of black intellectuals perceived social obligations Daniel Matlin explores how the psychologist Kenneth B Clark the literary author and activist Amiri Baraka and the visual artist Romare Bearden each wrestled with the opportunities and dilemmas of their heightened public stature. Amid an often fractious interdisciplinary debate, black intellectuals furnished sharply contrasting representations of black urban life and vied to establish their authority as indigenous interpreters. In time, however, Clark Baraka and Bearden each concluded that acting as interpreters for white America placed dangerous constraints on black intellectual practice. On the Corner reveals how the condition of entry into the public sphere for African American intellectuals in the post civil rights era has been confinement to what Clark called the topic that is reserved for blacks.

Reflect Yourself: Exploring, Assessing, Understanding, and Improving Your Life Michael P. McNally, 2015-05-12. Self-help gurus often claim to have discovered the formula for a successful life. Just follow steps A, B, and C; they assure you, and happiness will be yours. The problem is success and happiness mean different things to different people, and following someone else's path won't necessarily get you where you want to be. Reflect Yourself: Exploring, Assessing, Understanding, and Improving Your Life takes a different approach. Rather than providing a road map to a predetermined destination, Michael P. McNally gives you the tools you need to chart the terrain of your own psyche. Once you understand who you are, it becomes possible to look beyond your day-to-day routine and identify what you need to do to give your life meaning. Building

Community George Manning, Kent Curtis, Steve McMillen, 1996. Psychoanalysis Jeffrey Berman, 2023-12-01.

Psychoanalysis: An Interdisciplinary Retrospective offers in-depth discussions of and conversations with six psychoanalytic writers: Christopher Bollas, Nancy Chodorow, Sander L. Gilman, Adam Phillips, and Allen and Joan Wheelis. All are genuinely interdisciplinary in their work, bridging multiple cultural and professional positions, but all are deeply rooted in the humanities. They are all also highly controversial, challenging and critiquing conventional psychoanalytic wisdom while also devoting themselves to expanding psychoanalytic knowledge. Drawing on interviews as well as his own readings, Jeffrey Berman examines the continuities and discontinuities in each writer's work while also exploring the interrelationships between psychoanalysis and the humanities. The book ultimately offers a portrait of psychoanalysis as a work in progress, a plurality of visions that might more aptly be termed psychoanalyses. Journeys of Faith Mike Brock, 2023-06-20. Journeys of Faith examines the contributions of the leading figures of the humanistic psychology movement, with particular attention to their spiritual journeys. Rising to prominence in America during the post-World War II years, humanistic psychology is experiencing a resurgence in the present day in response to the need for a psychological approach that addresses meaning and purpose in life. The key players, Abraham Maslow, Carl Rogers, Erich Fromm, and Rollo May, all rejected the orthodoxy of their religious inheritance in favor of a more humanistic approach and, in the process, discovered a renewed spirituality that they hoped would address the concerns of a world yearning for something to believe in. While the humanistic psychologists confronted the world's problems through the lens of psychology, other thinkers such as the evolutionary biologist Julian Huxley approached them through different, though equally humanistic, perspectives. Others still, such as Paul Tillich and Martin

Buber and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin confronted the times through a religious lens The influence of the centuries long Jewish tradition of scholarship and social justice and the frequent examples of friendship and professional cooperation between the secular and the religious worlds provide critical subthemes for the lasting appeal of humanistic psychology
