Alexander Von Humboldt Leben Und Werk:

Alexander von Humboldt Beate I. Allert, Christopher R. Clason, Niall A. Peach, Ricardo Quintana-Vallejo, 2023-07-15
Alexander von Humboldt Perceiving the World provides an interdisciplinary exploration into Humboldt's approach to seeing and describing the many subjects he pursued. Though remembered primarily as an environmental thinker, Humboldt's interests were vast and documented not just in his published works but also in his extensive correspondence with scientists, artists, poets, and philosophers internationally. Perceiving the World covers Humboldt's perceptions during intercontinental travels and scientific discoveries as well as how he visualized nature, geography, environments, and diverse cultures, including Indigenous Peoples. This collection draws heavily on the English translations of Humboldt's work housed in the Purdue University Archives, which were collected by John Purdue. The book is divided into three parts: Humboldt's contributions to science since the nineteenth century; his work on nature, climates, environments, and the cosmos; and his lasting cultural impact, including his imaging techniques, modes of visual presentation, and contributions to the arts. Humboldt's intricate approach to perception still resonates today, as his nuanced and unique way of seeing the world was just as important as what he wrote.

Geography and Enlightenment David N. Livingstone, Charles W. J. Withers, 1999-12-15
Geography and Enlightenment explores both the Enlightenment as a geographical phenomenon and the place of geography in the Enlightenment. From wide-ranging disciplinary and topical perspectives, contributors consider the many ways in which the world of the long eighteenth century was brought to view and shaped through map and text exploration and argument within and across spatial and intellectual borders. The first set of chapters charts the intellectual and geographical contexts in which Enlightenment ideas began to form, including both the sites in which knowledge was created and discussed and the different means used to investigate the globe. Detailed explorations of maps created during this period show how these new ways of representing the world and its peoples influenced conceptions of the nature and progress of human societies, while studies of the travels of people and ideas reveal the influence of far-flung places on Enlightenment science and scientific credibility. The final set of chapters emphasizes the role of particular local contexts in Enlightenment thought. Contributors are Michael T. Bravo, Paul Carter, Denis Cosgrove, Stephen Daniels, Matthew Edney, Anne Marie Claire Godlewska, Peter Gould, Michael Heffernan, David N. Livingstone, Dorinda Outram, Chris Philo, Roy Porter, Nicolaas Rupke, Susanne Seymour, Charles Watkins, and Charles W. J. Withers.

The Spatial Reformation Michael J. Sauter,2019-01-11 In The Spatial Reformation Michael J Sauter offers a sweeping history of the way Europeans conceived of three dimensional space including the relationship between Earth and the heavens between 1350 and 1850 He argues that this spatial reformation provoked a reorganization of knowledge in the West that was arguably as important as the religious Reformation Notably it had its own sacred text which proved as central and was as ubiquitously embraced Euclid's Elements Aside from the Bible no other work was so frequently reproduced in the early modern era According to Sauter its penetration and suffusion throughout European thought and experience call for a deliberate reconsideration not only of what constitutes the intellectual foundation of the early modern era but also of its temporal range The Spatial Reformation contends that space is a human construct that is it is a concept that arises from the human imagination and gets expressed physically in texts and material objects Sauter begins his examination by demonstrating how Euclidean geometry when it was applied fully to the cosmos estranged God from man enabling the breakthrough to heliocentrism and by extension the discovery of the New World Subsequent chapters provide detailed analyses of the construction of celestial and terrestrial globes Albrecht Dürer's engraving Melencolia the secularization of the natural history of the earth and man and Hobbes's rejection of Euclid's sense of space and its effect on his political theory Sauter's exploration culminates in the formation of a new anthropology in the eighteenth century that situated humanity in reference to spaces and places that human eyes had not actually seen The Spatial Reformation illustrates how these disparate advancements can be viewed as resulting expressly from early modernity's embrace of Euclidean geometry
