

"Books about social and ecological change too often leave out a vital component: how do we change ourselves so that we are strong enough to fully contribute to this great shift? Active Hope fills this gap beautifully, guiding readers on a journey of gratitude, grief, interconnection, and, ultimately, transformation."

The Psychology of Power and Showing Up Differently in the Climate Crisis Gerard van der Ree, 2025-08-20 How do we respond to the big questions of our time in our daily lives By working out two different themes power relations and the climate crisis this book offers new perspectives and insights on how to translate the abstract into the concrete and the political into the personal Bringing together social theory philosophy and everyday reflexivity it bridges the gaps between the academic and the practical the macro and the micro and public and private life The first of the two essays in this book opens up privilege and power as a psychology It argues that the social positions we inhabit will shape the ways we view ourselves and the world around us The second essay analyses the climate crisis as a multilayered puzzle involving not only collective behaviour but also underlying emotions worldviews and needs Through such a layered view it offers multiple entry points for responding to it in our communities Ultimately this book connects big and abstract societal issues with our everyday lives by highlighting how we already show up in them From there it offers conceptual beginnings for showing up differently

Living Wisdom, Revised and Expanded David G. Benner, 2019-07-24 Much more than knowledge or even understanding wisdom is seeing life through the eyes of an awakened heart and transformed consciousness Rather than being the result of the accumulation of information wisdom comes from acquiring a new mind Buddhists speak of this new mind as enlightenment The Christian name for it is the mind and heart of Christ This is the basis of wisdom Wisdom is grounded in a deep awareness of the sacredness and interconnectedness of everything in existence It is living in alignment with the creative Spirit of Wisdom who inhabits all of creation and is our truest and deepest self It is learning to participate in God's transformational agenda of cosmic whole making this being the way in which everything that exists becomes whole in Christ This book does not offer gems of wisdom Instead it seeks to facilitate the awakening of your heart and transformation of your consciousness that will allow wisdom to flow your from depths
