The Postcolonial Low Countries Elleke Boehmer,Sarah De Mul,2012-06-01 The Postcolonial Low Countries is the first book to bring together critical and comparative approaches to the emergent field of neerlandophone postcolonial studies The collection of essays ranges across the cultures and literatures of the Netherlands and Belgium and establishes an encounter between postcolonial theoretical discourses from both within and without the region Each one of the contributions puts under pressure the definitive concepts of postcolonial studies in its more conventional anglophone or francophone formation as well as perceptions of the Low Countries Belgium and the Netherlands as lying outside or to the side of the postcolonial domain In the Low Countries local and regional issues concerning multiculturalism and colonial belatedness have raised important questions about the possible grounds on which postcolonial critical concepts might be not only translated but also generated afresh to suit these paradoxically new contexts As The Postcolonial Low Countries incisively demonstrates the Low Countries demand a careful rearticulation of such postcolonial readymades as hybridity accommodation and creolization Gathering together contributions from both internationally renowned scholars and newly established researchers in the field The Postcolonial Low Countries maps previously underexplored national and transnational literary critical trajectories The book challenges in boundary shifting ways current readings of the so described multicultural and postcolonial Netherlands and Belgium Negras in Brazil Kia Caldwell,2007-01-05 For most of the twentieth century Brazil was widely regarded as a racial democracy a country untainted by the scourge of racism and prejudice In recent decades however this image has been severely critiqued with a growing number of studies highlighting persistent and deep seated patterns of racial discrimination and inequality Yet recent work on race and racism has rarely considered gender as part of its analysis In Negras in Brazil Kia

Lilly Caldwell examines the life experiences of Afro Brazilian women whose stories have until now been largely untold This pathbreaking study analyzes the links between race and gender and broader processes of social economic and political exclusion Drawing on ethnographic research with social movement organizations and thirty five life history interviews Caldwell explores the everyday struggles Afro Brazilian women face in their efforts to achieve equal rights and full citizenship She also shows how the black women s movement which has emerged in recent decades has sought to challenge racial and gender discrimination in Brazil While proposing a broader view of citizenship that includes domains such as popular culture and the body Negras in Brazil highlights the continuing relevance of identity politics for members of racially marginalized communities Providing new insights into black women s social activism and a gendered perspective on Brazilian racial dynamics this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Latin American Studies African diaspora studies women s studies politics and cultural anthropology

The Archaeology of Colonialism Barbara L. Voss, Eleanor Conlin Casella, 2011-10-31 This volume examines human sexuality as an intrinsic element in the interpretation of complex colonial societies While archaeological studies of the historic past have explored the dynamics of European colonialism such work has largely ignored broader issues of sexuality embodiment commemoration reproduction and sensuality Recently however scholars have begun to recognize these issues as essential components of colonization and imperialism This book explores a variety of case studies revealing the multifaceted intersections of colonialism and sexuality Incorporating work that ranges from Phoenician diasporic communities of the eighth century to Britain s nineteenth century Australian penal colonies to the contemporary Maroon community of Brazil this volume changes the way we understand the relationship between sexuality and colonial history
