Between Vengeance And Forgiveness Facing History After Genocide And Mass Violence:

Between Vengeance and Forgiveness Martha Minow, 2001-01-17 The rise of collective violence and genocide is the twentieth century's most terrible legacy Martha Minow a Harvard law professor and one of our most brilliant and humane legal minds offers a landmark book on our attempts to heal after such large scale tragedy Writing with informed searching prose of the extraordinary drama of the truth commissions in Argentina East Germany and most notably South Africa war crime prosecutions in Nuremberg and Bosnia and reparations in America Minow looks at the strategies and results of these riveting national experiments in justice and healing

Research Handbook on Law and Emotion Susan A. Bandes, Jody L. Madeira, Kathryn D. Temple, Emily Kidd White, 2021-04-30 This illuminating Research Handbook analyses the role that emotions play and ought to play in legal reasoning and practice rejecting the simplistic distinction between reason and emotion

Leading Works in International Law Donna Lyons, 2023-11-23 This volume provides an innovative and engaging way of assessing the development of international law scholarship and practice to date and its potential future development by focusing upon the leading works of the discipline International law has established itself as an important area of academic study and legal practice Given its academic legal and everyday significance and its prolific role within law school teaching and research it is important to question and analyse the development of international law exploring the complex and shifting interplay between law policy theory and culture and the role of international and national actors within a diverse and dynamic community of nations This collection presents contributions from leading scholars of public international law across the globe and the works chosen by the editor represent a diverse range of subjects within the broader discipline Each chapter analyses the importance and legacy of a specific work with a view to reflecting upon how that publication has contributed to shaping the broader literature in the field of international law and how it may continue to have an influence on both scholarship and practice in the future Taken as a whole the chapters included in this collection provide an original exploration of a variety of important themes about how the discipline has evolved over time The Prologue and Epilogue critically assess the development of international law in light of the reflections by contributors The book will be a valuable resource for lawyers international law practitioners students and academics alike

Social Psychology in Action Kai Sassenberg, Michael L.W. Vliek, 2019-07-01 This timely and applied textbook brings together leading scientists to illustrate how key theories and concepts in social psychology help to predict and explain behavior and can be successfully applied to benefit social and practical problems It focuses on robust theories and models known for their successful applications and covers a diverse range of settings spanning classroom interventions health behavior financial decision making climate change and much more Each chapter comprises of a theoretical section to define the key concepts and summarize the theory providing evidence for its reliability and limitations from basic research as well as an application section that summarizes research in an applied context and provides details about a particular study including the respective application setting The textbook expertly shows how theory can make meaningful predictions for real world contexts and isn't afraid to explain the potential hurdles and pitfalls when applying a theory and its underlying set of concepts in a certain context. Crucially, this format moves towards theory testing in applied contexts, enabling a closer examination of why and under what circumstances interventions may be successful in obtaining a desired behavioral or psychological end state. Among the topics explored: Mindset theory of action phases and if-then planning; Quality of motivation in self-determination theory; The focus theory of normative conduct; Social identity theory and intergroup contact theory; Intergroup forgiveness; Social Psychology in Action is a critical resource for advanced undergraduate and graduate students in social and cultural psychology as well as students of behavioral economics seeking to develop a deeper understanding of major theories and applications of the fields. Practitioners working in the areas of organizational behavior and management, health communication, social work, and educational science and pedagogy will also find the volume pertinent to their work.

Transitional Justice Theories Susanne Buckley-Zistel, Teresa Koloma Beck, Christian Braun, Friederike Mieth, 2013-10-30 Transitional Justice Theories is the first volume to approach the politically sensitive subject of post-conflict or post-authoritarian justice from a theoretical perspective. It combines contributions from distinguished scholars and practitioners as well as from emerging academics from different disciplines and provides an overview of conceptual approaches to the field. The volume seeks to refine our understanding of transitional justice by exploring often unarticulated assumptions that guide discourse and practice. To this end, it offers a wide selection of approaches from various theoretical traditions ranging from normative theory to critical theory. In their individual chapters, the authors explore the concept of transitional justice itself and its foundations such as reconciliation, memory, and truth, as well as intersections such as reparations, peace building, and norm compliance. This book will be of particular interest for scholars and students of law, peace and conflict studies, and human rights studies. Even though highly theoretical, the chapters provide an easy read for a wide audience including readers not familiar with theoretical investigations.

Imagining Law: Dale Stephens, Paul Babie, 2016-10-24 By any measure, Judith Gardam has accomplished much in her professional life and is rightly acknowledged by scholars throughout the world as an expert in her many fields of diverse interest, including international law, energy law, and feminist theory. This book celebrates her academic life and work with twelve essays from leading scholars in Gardam's fields of expertise.

Breaking the Cycles of Hatred Martha Minow, 2009-01-10 Violence so often begets violence. Victims respond with revenge only to inspire seemingly endless cycles of retaliation. Conflicts between nations, between ethnic groups, between strangers, and between family members differ in so many ways, and yet often share this dynamic. In this powerful and timely book, Martha Minow and others ask: What explains these cycles, and what can break them? What lessons can we draw from one form of violence that might be relevant to other forms? Can legal responses to violence provide accountability but avoid escalating vengeance? If so, what kinds of legal institutions and practices can make a difference? What kinds risk failure? Breaking the Cycles of Hatred represents a unique blend of political and legal theory one that focuses on the double edged role of memory in fueling cycles of hatred and maintaining justice and personal integrity Its centerpiece comprises three penetrating essays by Minow She argues that innovative legal institutions and practices such as truth commissions and civil damage actions against groups that sponsor hate often work better than more conventional criminal proceedings and sanctions Minow also calls for more sustained attention to the underlying dynamics of violence the connections between intergroup and intrafamily violence and the wide range of possible responses to violence beyond criminalization A vibrant set of freestanding responses from experts in political theory psychology history and law examines past and potential avenues for breaking cycles of violence and for deepening our capacity to avoid becoming what we hate The topics include hate crimes and hate crimes legislation child sexual abuse and the statute of limitations and the American kidnapping and internment of Japanese Latin Americans during World War II Commissioned by Nancy Rosenblum the essays are by Ross E Cheit Marc Galanter Fredrick C Harris Judith Lewis Herman Carey Jaros Frederick M Lawrence Austin Sarat Ayelet Shachar Eric K Yamamoto and Iris Marion Young

The Ashgate Research Companion to Ethics and International Relations Patrick Hayden, 2016-04-01 While skepticism about the role of moral considerations in international politics has been influential within the discipline of international relations IR those writing on topics such as war peace rights and trade up until the twentieth century took seriously the importance of ethical values and moral debates The 1990s and 2000s have seen a substantial growth of attention to the ways in which IR conceives and analyzes themes of an ethical nature and how issues problems and policies involving ethics are addressed by a variety of actors within the international system This indispensable research companion widens the perspective from ethics and international relations to ethics in international relations redressing the misperception that ethical concepts principles norms and rules are not in part constitutive of the international system and the agents acting within that system Necessarily cross disciplinary expertise is drawn from IR and also philosophy political theory religious studies history and law making this an ideal volume for any library reference collection

Domestic Violence at the Margins Natalie J. Sokoloff, Christina Pratt, 2005 Reprints of the most influential recent work in the field as well as more than a dozen newly commissioned essays explore theoretical issues current research service provision and activism among Latinos African Americans Asian Americans Jewish Americans and lesbians The volume rejects simplistic analyses of the role of culture in domestic violence by elucidating the support systems available to battered women within different cultures while at the same time addressing the distinct problems generated by that culture Together the essays pose a compelling challenge to stereotypical images of battered women that are racist homophobic and xenophobic

Debating Otherness with Richard Kearney: Perspectives from South Africa Daniël P. Veldsman, Yolande Steenkamp, 2018-12-31 Richard Kearney is one of the leading global thinkers in both Continental philosophy and post metaphysical philosophy of religion as well as an esteemed Irish professor in philosophy currently teaching at Boston College

Massachusetts USA Professor Kearney first visited South Africa in May as joint visiting academic of the Universities of Stellenbosch Pretoria and North West The visit prompted the publication of this scholarly collected work authored by South African and international scholars These specialists in philosophy and religious studies analysed Kearney's influential work and brought his scholarly perspectives into dialogue with other leading thinkers in the field both from Africa and abroad This publication will be the first collective attempt to engage his work from the perspective of the African continent This collected work contributes significantly in an interdisciplinary way to Ricoeurian studies The target audience of the book is peers and specialists in the field of Continental philosophy and philosophy of religion

Just Peace Fernando Enns, Annette Mosher, 2013-09-17 Christian theology and ethics have wrestled with the challenge to apply Jesus's central message of nonviolence to the injustices of this world Is it not right to defend the persecuted by using violence Is it unjust if the oppressed defend themselves if necessary by the use of violence in order to liberate themselves and to create a more just society Can we leave the doctrine of the just war behind and shift all our attention toward the way of a just peace In 2011 the World Council of Churches brought to a close the Decade to Overcome Violence to which the churches committed themselves at the beginning of the century Just peace has evolved as the new ecumenical paradigm for contemporary Christian ethics Just peace signals a realistic vision of holistic peace with justice which in the concept of shalom is central in the Hebrew Bible as well as in the gospel message of the New Testament This paradigm needs further elaboration VU University gathered peacebuilding practitioners and experts from different parts of the world Africa Latin America North America Asia and Europe and from different disciplines anthropology psychology social sciences law and theology voices from across generations and Christian traditions to promote discussion about the different dimensions of building peace with justice

Justice for Victims before the International Criminal Court Luke Moffett, 2014-06-27 Many prosecutors and commentators have praised the victim provisions at the International Criminal Court ICC as justice for victims which for the first time include participation protection and reparations This book critically examines the role of victims in international criminal justice drawing from human rights victimology and best practices in transitional justice Drawing on field research in Northern Uganda Luke Moffett explores the nature of international crimes and assesses the role of victims in the proceedings of the ICC paying particular attention to their recognition participation reparations and protection The book argues that because of the criminal nature and structural limitations of the ICC justice for victims is symbolic requiring State Parties to complement the work of the Court to address victims' needs In advancing an innovative theory of justice for victims and in offering solutions to current challenges the book will be of great interest and use to academics practitioners and students engaged in victimology the ICC transitional justice or reparations

Ahiṃsā, Anekānta and Jainism Tara Sethia, 2004 Essays in this volume offer fresh insights into Jain principles of Ahimsa and Anekanta by examining their meaning and historical significance and demonstrate their relevance and role in addressing contemporary issues of intolerance conflict violence and war Contributors to this book bring perspectives from the disciplines of philosophy religious studies history and art history

Restorative Justice, Reconciliation, and Peacebuilding Jennifer J. Llewellyn, Daniel Philpott, 2014 This book develops the twin concepts of restorative justice and reconciliation as frameworks for peacebuilding that contain great potential for addressing common dilemmas peace versus justice religious versus secular approaches individual versus structural justice reconciliation versus retribution and the harmonization of the sheer multiplicity of practices involved in repairing past harms

Imagining the International Nesam McMillan, 2020-09-08 International crime and justice are powerful ideas associated with a vivid imagery of heinous atrocities injured humanity and an international community seized by the need to act Through an analysis of archival and contemporary data Imagining the International provides a detailed picture of how ideas of international crime crimes against all of humanity and global justice are given content foregrounding their ethical limits and potentials Nesam McMillan argues that dominant approaches to these ideas problematically disconnect them from the lived and the specific and foster distance between those who have experienced international crime and those who have not McMillan draws on interdisciplinary work spanning law criminology humanitarianism socio legal studies cultural studies and human geography to show how understandings of international crime and justice hierarchize spectacularize and appropriate the suffering of others and promote an ideal of justice fundamentally disconnected from life as it is lived McMillan critiques the mode of global interconnection they offer one which bears resemblance to past colonial global approaches and which seeks to foster community through the image of crime and the practice of punitive justice This book powerfully underscores the importance of the ideas of international crime and justice and their significant limits cautioning against their continued valorization

Building a Future on Peace and Justice Kai Ambos, Judith Large, Marieke Wierda, 2008-12-04 Results of the 2007 Nuremberg Conference on Peace and Justice Tensions between peace and justice have long been debated by scholars practitioners and agencies including the United Nations and both theory and policy must be refined for very practical application in situations emerging from violent conflict or political repression Specific contexts demand concrete decisions and approaches aimed at redress of grievance and creation of conditions of social justice for a non violent future There has been definitive progress in a world in which blanket amnesties were granted at times with little hesitation There is a growing understanding that accountability has pragmatic as well as principled arguments in its favour Practical arguments as much as shifts in the norms have created a situation in which the choice is increasingly seen as which forms of accountability rather than a stark choice between peace and justice It is socio political transformation not just an end to violence that is needed to build sustainable peace This book addresses these dilemmas through a thorough overview of the current state of legal obligations discussion of the need for a holistic approach including development analysis of the implications of the coming into force of the ICC and a series of hard case studies on internationalized and local approaches devised to navigate the tensions between peace and justice

Security,

Reconstruction, and Reconciliation Muna Ndulo, 2007-01-24 This key text brings together a team of leading contributors to address the complex issues of security reconciliation and reconstruction in post conflict societies Security Reconstruction and Reconciliation is organized into four main sections the social political and economic dimensions of conflict the impact of conflict on women and children reconstruction and past human rights violations disarmament demobilization reintegration post war reconstruction and the building of a capable state and the role of the international community in the peace process The chapters offer a detailed and succinct exposition of the challenges facing post conflict societies by articulating the vision of a new society With a foreword by Francis Deng the UN Secretary General s Special Representative on Internally Displaced Persons the authors discuss the issues in the context of possible solutions and lessons learnt in the field This new book is a valuable resource for researchers policy makers and students in the fields of conflict resolution security studies law and development

Peace Education from the Grassroots Ian Harris, 2013-09-01 Historians often ignore the day to day struggles of ordinary people to improve their lives They tend to focus on the accomplishments of illustrious leaders Peace Education from the Grassroots tells the stories of concerned citizens teachers and grassroots peace activists who have struggled to counteract high levels of violence by teaching about the sources for violence and strategies for peace The stories told here come from the grass roots meaning the educators are close to the forms of violence they are addressing This collection of essays tells how citizens at the grassroots level developed peace education initiatives in thirteen different nations Belgium Canada El Salvador Germany India Jamaica Japan Mexico the Philippines South Korea Spain Uganda and the United States A fourteenth article describes the efforts of the International Red Cross to implement a human rights curriculum to teachers on the ground in the Balkans Iran Senegal and the United States These chapters describe a variety of schools colleges peace movement organizations community based organizations and international nongovernmental organizations engaged in peace education

The Theory of Collective Reconciliation Vahagn Avedian, 2024-09-09 What does reconciliation mean and entail Is collective reconciliation for entire societies or nations possible This book aims to present it as a highly achievable albeit difficult and complex goal requiring political and collective commitment resources and most importantly the will to change Reconciliation is the synthesis and an overarching process consisting of a trinity of recognition responsibility and reparation Through comparative case studies where these different aspects have been implemented in a variety of degrees and combinations the book illustrates how these constituent parts relate to each other and how they can enhance and complement one another It also investigates whether there are scenarios where the omission of a certain part can in fact have a positive impact on the reconciliatory process in the short and long terms the extent to which the order in which different measures are implemented matters and how national cases differ from international ones This volume is aimed at postgraduates researchers and academics of peace and conflict studies as well as history social sciences political sciences and legal studies

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has

fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining
