Beyond Writing Culture Current Intersections Of Epistemologies And Representational Practices:

Beyond Writing Culture Olaf Zenker, Karsten Kumoll, 2010-05-01 Two decades after the publication of Clifford and Marcus volume Writing Culture this collection provides a fresh and diverse reassessment of the debates that this pioneering volume unleashed At the same time Beyond Writing Culture moves the debate on by embracing the more fundamental challenge as to how to conceptualise the intricate relationship between epistemology and representational practices rather than maintaining the original narrow focus on textual analysis It thus offers a thought provoking tapestry of new ideas relevant for scholars not only concerned with the ethnographic Other but with representation in general the latest writings in Social and Cultural Anthropology this is a superb reference resource for anyone studying or teaching in this area Letters Without Capitals: Text and Practice in Kim Mun (Yao) Culture Jacob Cawthorne, 2020-12-29

Letters without Capitals Texts and Practices in Kim Mun Yao Culture examines the writing culture of Kim Mun communities in Southeast Asia and China The Kim Mun who belong to the Yao ethnic group are renowned for their Daoist religious practices and religious texts written in Chinese script This work takes an unpublished Kim Mun letter that was composed in Laos and sent to Vietnam as its centrepiece Through an analysis of the letter one which uses ethnographic accounts of Kim Mun communities and studies of Kim Mun literary and religious texts it demonstrates that writing is a cultural technology that primarily serves the purposes of the Kim Mun themselves rather than being an artefact of historical and cultural relationships of dependency on external state institutions or religious constituencies This has broad implications regarding our understanding of how writing can be adapted and deployed by minority communities on and beyond the margins of the state and of the underlying relationships between writing identity and power Irish/ness Is All Around Us Olaf

Zenker, 2013-04-01 Focusing on Irish speakers in Catholic West Belfast this ethnography on Irish language and identity explores the complexities of changing and contradictory senses of Irishness and shifting practices of Irish culture in the domains of language music dance and sports The author's theoretical approach to ethnicity and ethnic revivals presents an expanded explanatory framework for the social re production of ethnicity theorizing the mutual interrelations between representations and cultural practices regarding their combined capacity to engender ethnic revivals Relevant not only to readers with an interest in the intricacies of the Northern Irish situation this book also appeals to a broader readership in anthropology sociology cultural studies history and political science concerned with the mechanisms behind ethnonational conflict and the politics of culture and identity in general Fact and Fiction Albrecht Koschorke, 2018-04-23 How can we develop a cultural theory starting with the basic insight that human beings are storytelling animals Within literary studies narratology is a highly developed field However literary historians have not paid much attention to the large and small stories abounding in everyday discourse guiding all kinds of social activity and providing common ground for whole societies but also fueling controversies and hostilities Moreover narrative is not only a scholarly category but has come into use in many fields of social activity as a tool for cultural self fashioning This book is based on the assumption that to a large extent social dynamics is modeled in an aesthetic manner via narratives It explores the narrative organization of cultural spaces and time frames the mythological shaping of communities and adversaries and the co production of narratives and institutions aimed at stabilizing social life In this framework the epistemological problem looms large of how an instrument as unreliable as narrative can participate in the creation of a social consensus regarding truth This problem endows the general topics explored in this book with a particularly contemporary dimension Writing in the Field Ivo Strecker, Shauna LaTosky, 2013

This festschrift is situated within the contexts of the Writing Culture debate the Rhetoric Culture project and the legacy of anthropologist Stephen Tyler's work on language and representation While Writing Culture 1986 alerted readers to the power of ethnographers over their field Writing in the Field alerts readers to the power of the field over its ethnographers Rather than reprise familiar debates about writing and representation the book's individual chapters elucidate how anthropological fieldwork is a highly fraught provisional and incomplete practice enmeshed in the gaps between self and the other The book's emphasis on the concepts of pathos epiphany and dissociation is developed through essays that are personal yet not merely subjective for they draw on and contribute to deep traditions of thinking about culture and rhetoric Series Ethnologie Forschung und Wissenschaft Vol 24 This fine collection of essays is a fitting tribute to the positive influence of Stephen Tyler an original and influential anthropologist of protean gifts E Douglas Lewis School of Social and Political Sciences U of Melbourne Intercultural Spaces of Law Mario Ricca, 2023-04-03 This book proposes an interdisciplinary methodology for developing an intercultural use of law so as to include cultural differences and their protection within legal discourse this is based on an analysis of the sensory grammar tacitly included in categorizations This is achieved by combining the theoretical insights provided by legal theory anthropology and semiotics with a reading of human rights as translational interfaces among the different cultural spaces in which people live To support this use of human rights semantic and normative potential a specific cultural geographic view dubbed legal chorology is employed Its primary purpose is to show the extant continuity between categories and spaces of experience and more specifically between legal meanings and the spatial dimensions of people's lives Through the lens of legal chorology and the intercultural translational use of human rights the book provides a methodology that shows how to make space and law reciprocally transformative so as to create an inclusive legal grammar that is equidistant from social cultural differences The analysis includes a critical view on opportunities for intercultural secularization the possibility of construing a legal grammar of quotidian life that leads to an inclusive equidistance from differences rather than an unachievable neutrality or an all encompassing universal legal ontology an interdisciplinary methodology for legal intercultural translation a chorological reading of the relationships between human rights protection and lived spaces and an intercultural and geo semiotic examination of a series of legal cases and current issues such as indigenous peoples rights and the international protection of sacred places Handbook of Feminist Research Methodologies in Management and Organization Studies Saija Katila, Susan Meriläinen, Emma Bell, 2023-11-03 The Handbook of Feminist Research Methodologies in Management and Organization Studies focuses on the interlinkages between feminist theories methodologies and research methods and their practical implementation in business and management research Featuring contributions from leading scholars in the field of management and organization studies this groundbreaking Handbook analyses key theoretical texts and their methodological implications as well as topical approaches including postcolonial feminism and critical race theory This title contains one or more Open Access chapters Subject Lessons John Forrest, 2024-09-01 Life histories are a class of oral data distinct from memoirs autobiography and conventional history in multiple ways It is a way to lay out the felt experience of events in people's everyday lives and not simply the statement of historical facts As narrated pieces of life histories possess the unique voice of the individuals Collecting data through life histories enables the interviewer interviewee to develop a special bond that has the capacity to empower both in different ways Subject Lessons examines the use of and value in using one's life history as research within the social sciences

Research in the Islamic Context M Ilias,2022-07-01 This book explores some of the political and methodological directions that collectively lead to the repositioning of Islam in social science research as both an epistemic ontological category and as a method Chapters by experts in the field explore research in the Islamic context vis vis these two distinct yet somehow interrelated frames The question being raised here is how Islam as socio religious notion is related to Islam as a theoretical methodological framework Taking cues from the experience of contributors this book also examines the question if current methodologies or frames of references are pluralized enough to accommodate the question of Muslims or could the scholars themselves create alternative directions around the dominant spaces The book offers ethnographic studies of Muslim communities mostly in minority settings and engages with a number of issues researchers encounter when dealing with the lived or everyday Islam This book is essential reading for anyone engaged in the study of Muslims in the contemporary world It will appeal to scholars of religious studies studies of Islam in the West anthropology sociology cultural studies human geography and research methods

The Monologic Imagination Matt Tomlinson, Julian Millie, 2017 The pioneering and hugely influential work of Mikhail Bakhtin has led scholars in recent decades to see all discourse and social life as inherently dialogical No speaker speaks alone because our words are always partly shaped by our interactions with others past and future Moreover we never fashion ourselves entirely by ourselves but always do so in concert with others Bakhtin thus decisively reshaped modern understandings of language and subjectivity And yet the contributors to this volume argue that something is potentially overlooked with too close a focus on dialogism many speakers especially in charged political and religious contexts work energetically at crafting monologues single voiced statements to which the only expected response is agreement or faithful replication Drawing on ethnographic case studies from the United States Iran Cuba Indonesia Algeria and Papua New Guinea the authors argue that a focus on the monologic imagination gives us new insights into languages political design and religious force and deepens our understandings of the necessary interplay between monological and dialogical tendencies
