Rhetoric, History, and Women's Oratorical Education David Gold, Catherine L. Hobbs, 2013-05-02 Historians of rhetoric have long worked to recover women's education in reading and writing but have only recently begun to explore women's speaking practices from the parlor to the platform to the varied types of institutions where women learned elocutionary and oratorical skills in preparation for professional and public life This book fills an important gap in the history of rhetoric and suggests new paths for the way histories may be told in the future tracing the shifting arc of women's oratorical training as it develops from forms of eighteenth century rhetoric into institutional and extrainstitutional settings at the end of the nineteenth century and diverges into several distinct streams of community embodied theory and practice in the twentieth Treating key rhetors genres settings and movements from the early republic to the present these essays collectively challenge and complicate many previous claims made about the stability and development of gendered public and private spheres the decline of oratorical culture and the limits of women's oratorical forms such as elocution and parlor rhetorics and women's responses to rhetorical constraints on their public speaking Enriching our understanding of women's oratorical education and practice this cutting edge work makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetoric and communication Sit at His Feet: Choose What Is Better Erin

Olson, 2015-11-18 In early 2015 author Erin Olson felt the Spirit calling her to a closer walk with the Lord As she wrestled with what this meant she was led to revisit the concept of Lent Sit at His Feet Choose What is Better is a result of what Erin was consequently led to write Although many churches observe Lent some have removed this practice altogether and people have missed out on the opportunity to experience and understand this reverent season While it is true that followers of Jesus Christ should have a daily personal relationship with their Savior certain seasons should cause believers to draw even closer to Him as they prepare to celebrate Him with the world especially with the unbelieving world From reading these daily devotionals interlaced with Scripture and personal stories Erin hopes the desire to sit at His feet and choose Him increases Sit at His Feet Choose What is Better is intended to be a timeless devotional that may be reached for every Lenten season as well as any season the reader may simply need to sit at His feet Praying God's Word Beth Moore, 2009-08 Moore's topical prayer guide encourages Christians to overcome spiritual strongholds by incorporating key Scriptures into daily prayer
