

A romantic couple is shown from behind, embracing on a beach. The man is wearing a light-colored jacket, and the woman is wearing a dark dress. They are standing close together, looking out at the ocean. The sky is a mix of orange, pink, and purple, indicating a sunset or sunrise. The water is calm, and the overall mood is intimate and serene.

Aumer,2016-06-23 Social psychology has made great advancements in understanding how our romantic relationships function and to some extent dissolve However the social and behavioral sciences in much of western scholarship often focus exclusively on the more positive aspects of intimate relationships and less so on more controversial or unconventional aspects The goal of this volume is to explore and illuminate some of these underrepresented aspects aspects such as non monogamy female orgasm sadism and hate that often function alongside love in intimate relationships Ultimately by looking at intimate relationships in this way the volume contributes to and advocates for a more holistic and comprehensive view of intimate relationships Throughout the volume contributors from social clinical and evolutionary psychology cover love and hate from a variety of sometimes opposing perspectives The first section covers love and the changing landscape of intimate relationships Its chapters review the current literature and research of understudied topics like non monogamy female orgasm sexual fantasies and the viewpoint of love as something other than positive The second section explores hate and how hate can operate in intimate relationships for example the appearance of sadistic behavior and debates the nature of hate as either a motivation or emotion The volume concludes by looking at ways in which the appearance of hate in relationships can be dealt with and overcome successfully Taken together these two sections reflect the full variety of experiences within intimate relationships With the aim of exploring how love and hate can and frequently do work together The Psychology of Love and Hate in Intimate Relationships is a fascinating psychological exploration of intimate relationships in modern times It is an invaluable resource to academics and students specializing in psychology gender and sociology including clinicians and therapists and all those interested in increasing our knowledge of intimate relationships A Phenomenology of Love and

Our Original Scenes Tomas Geyskens, 2005 Freud s ideas on infantile sexuality can only be understood as constructions that are necessary to understand the psychopathological formations of adults These constructions of infantile sexuality therefore must not be considered to be speculations about infant behaviour as such because in infancy sexuality is obviously a rather marginal problem and because consequently only their nachtr glich effects reveal the significance of our infantile sexual experiences In the psychoanalytic cure these infantile experiences are never remembered as such The idea that what is repressed in adults can be observed in infants does not take into account this notion of Nachtr glichkeit while Freud s theory cannot be understood without it The relation between the pathological and the infantile bridges the gap between pathology and normality because pathology is caused by universally human problems or weak points infantile sexuality and following our interpretation of the death instinct the infant s radical Hilflosigkeit In psychoanalysis therefore the analysis of the different pathologies has inevitably an anthropological claim To understand what it means to be human says Freud we must analyse the extreme paradigmatic answers to this problem that we all are ourselves The analysis of different pathologies will highlight the different aspects of our infantile experience and its nachtr glich effects In this perspective the difference between normality and pathology can only be a quantitative not a qualitative difference In this way Freud transformed the study of psychopathology into a clinical anthropology i e a clarification of the specifically human in human nature by analysing its pathological manifestations
