Beyond The Screen Emerging Cinema And Engaging Audiences:

Beyond the Screen Sarah Atkinson, 2014-04-17 Runner up for the British Association of Film Television and Screen Studies Best Book Prize 2015 Beyond the Screen presents an expanded conceptualization of cinema which encompasses the myriad ways film can be experienced in a digitally networked society where the auditorium is now just one location amongst many in which audiences can encounter and engage with films The book includes considerations of mobile web social media and live cinema through numerous examples and case studies of recent and near future developments Through analyses of narrative text process apparatus and audience this book traces the metamorphosis of an emerging cinema and maps the new spaces of spectatorship which are currently challenging what it means to be cinematic in a digitally networked era

Ephemeral Cinema Spaces Maria Vélez-Serna, 2025-10-01 With changing technologies and social habits the communal cinema experience would seem to be a legacy from another era However the 2010s saw a surge in interest for screening films in other temporary public settings This desire to turn ruins pubs galleries parks village halls and even boats into ephemeral cinema spaces is a search for ways of being and working together using cinema as a framework for social encounter This book documents contemporary practices of pop up and sitespecific cinema exhibition in the UK with a focus on Scotland tracing their links with historical forms of non theatrical exhibition such as public hall cinema and fairground bioscopes Through archival research observation and interviews with film exhibitors and programmers the book explores how exhibitors create ephemeral social spaces how they negotiate the various uses and configurations of films and venues and how they reinvent cinemagoing from its margins

Audience Genre Expectations in the Age of Digital Media Leo W. Jeffres, David J. Atkin, Kimberly A. Neuendorf, 2022-12-05 This volume bridges the divide between film and media studies scholarship by exploring audience expectations of film and TV genre in the age of digital streaming using qualitative thematic and quantitative data driven analyses Through four ground breaking surveys of audience members and content creators the authors have empirically determined what audiences expect of various genres the extent to which these definitions match those of scholars and critics and the overall variation and complexity of audience expectations in the age of media abundance They also examine audience habits and preferences drawing from both theory and original empirical analyses with a view toward the implications for the moving image in a rapidly changing media environment The book draws from the data to develop a number of new concepts including genre repertoire genre hybridity audience interest maximization and variety seeking and a new stage of genre development genre bending It is an ideal resource for students and scholars interested in the symbiotic relationship between audiences and the moving image products they consume as well as the way the current digital media environment has impacted our understanding of film and TV genres

Practices of Projection Gabriel Menotti, Virginia Crisp, 2020 To many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction For example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure The history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension During Hollywood's economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium Most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility These examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology Projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media's technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski's definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture From this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies Thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies

Screen Space Reconfigured Susanne Saether, Synne Tollerud
Bull, 2025-10-01 Screen Space Reconfigured is the first edited volume that critically and theoretically examines the many novel renderings of space brought to us by 21st century screens Exploring key cases such as post-perspectival space 3D vertical framing haptics and layering this volume takes stock of emerging forms of screen space and spatialities as they move from the margins to the centre of contemporary media practice Recent years have seen a marked scholarly interest in spatial dimensions and conceptions of moving image culture with some theorists claiming that a spatial turn has taken place in media studies and screen practices alike Yet this is the first book-length study dedicated to on-screen spatiality as such Spanning mainstream cinema experimental film video art mobile screens and stadium entertainment the volume includes contributions from such acclaimed authors as Giuliana Bruno and Tom Gunning as well as a younger generation of scholars

Philippine Cinema and the Cultural Economy of Distribution Michael Kho Lim, 2018-12-18 This book explores the complex interplay of culture and economics in the context of Philippine cinema It delves into the tension interaction and shifting movements between mainstream and independent filmmaking examines the film distribution and exhibition systems and investigates how existing business practices affect the sustainability of the independent sector This book addresses the lack or absence of Asian representation in film distribution literature by supplying the much-needed Asian context and case study It also advances the discourse of film distribution economy by expounding on the formal and semi-formal film distribution practices in a developing Asian country like the Philippines where the thriving piracy culture is considered as normal and which is commonly depicted and discussed in existing literature As such this will be the first book that looks into the specifics of the Philippine film distribution and exhibition system and provides a historical grounding of its practices

The Politics of Serial Television Fiction Sebastian Naumann,2025-02-08 Fictional TV politics played a pivotal role in the popular imaginaries of the 2010s across cultures Examining this curious phenomenon Sebastian Naumann provides a wide ranging analysis of the rapidly evolving landscape of contemporary polit series Proposing a novel structural model of serial television he offers an innovative methodological framework for comparative textual analysis that integrates sociocultural economic sociotechnical narratological and aesthetic perspectives This study furthermore explores how the changing affordances of nonlinear television impact serial storytelling and identifies key narrative trends and recurring themes in contemporary TV polit fiction Handbook of Research on the Impact of Culture and Society on the Entertainment Industry Ozturk, R. Gulay,2014-06-30 This reference provides a review of the academic and popular literature on the relationship between communications and media studies cinema advertising public relations religion food tourism art sports technology culture marketing and entertainment practices Provided by publisher The Palgrave Handbook of Asian Cinema Aaron Han Joon Magnan-Park,Gina Marchetti,See Kam Tan,2018-11-04 This collection offers new approaches to theorizing Asian film in relation to the history culture geopolitics and economics of the continent Bringing together original essays written by established and emerging scholars this anthology transcends the limitations of national borders to do justice to the diverse ways in which the cinema shapes Asia geographically and imaginatively in the world today From the revival of the Silk Road as the belt and road of a rising China to historical ruminations on the legacy of colonialism across the continent the authors argue that the category of Asian cinema from Turkey to the edges of the Pacific continues to play a vital role in cutting edge film research This handbook will serve as an essential guide for committed scholars students and all those interested in the past present and possible future of Asian cinema in the 21st century A History of Three-Dimensional Cinema David A. Cook,2021-09-14 A History of Three Dimensional Cinema chronicles 3 D cinema as a single continuous and coherent medium proceeding from 19th century experiments in stereoscopic photography and lantern projection 1839 1892 to stereoscopic cinema s long novelty period 1893 1952 It proceeds to examine the first Hollywood boom in anaglyphic stereo 1953 1955 when the mainstream industry produced 69 features in 3 D mostly action films that could exploit the depth illusion but also a handful of big budget films for example Kiss Me Kate George Sidney 1953 and Dial M for Murder Alfred Hitchcock 1954 until audiences tired of the process the anaglyphic revival of 1970 1985 when 3 D was sustained as a novelty feature in sensational genres like soft core pornography and horror the age of IMAX 3 D 1986 2008 the current era of digital 3 D cinema which began in 2009 when James Cameron s Avatar became the highest grossing feature of all time and the studios once again stampeded into 3 D production and finally the future promise of Virtual Reality

Live Cinema Sarah Atkinson,Helen W. Kennedy,2017-12-28 Live Cinema is a term used to capture a diverse range of experiences that incorporate a live element in relation to a film's exhibition. The live augmentation of cinema screenings is not a new phenomenon; indeed, this tendency is present throughout the entire history of cinema in the form of live musical accompaniments to silent screenings, showmanship practices, and cult film audience behaviours. The contemporary revival of experiential cinema captured within this volume presents instances where the live transcends the mediated and escapes beyond the boundaries of the auditorium. Our contributors investigate film exhibition practices that include synchronous live performance, site-specific screenings, technological intervention, social media engagement, and all manner of simultaneous interactive moments including singing, dancing, eating, and drinking. These investigations reveal new cultures of reception and practice, new experiential aesthetics, and emergent economies of engagement. This collection brings together fifteen contributions that together trace the emergence of a vivid new area of study. Drawing on rich, diverse, and interdisciplinary fields of enquiry, this volume encapsulates a broad range of innovative methodological approaches, offers new conceptual frameworks, and new critical vocabularies through which to describe and analyse the emergent phenomena of Live Cinema.

The Routledge Companion to Literary Media Astrid Ensslin, Julia Round, Bronwen Thomas, 2023-08-30. The Routledge Companion to Literary Media examines the fast-moving present and future of a media ecosystem in which the literary continues to play a vital role. The term literary media challenges the tendency to hold the two terms distinct and broadens accepted usage of the literary to include popular cultural forms, emerging technologies, and taste cultures, genres, and platforms, as well as traditions and audiences, all too often excluded from literary histories and canons. Featuring contributions from leading international scholars and practitioners, the Companion provides a comprehensive guide to existing terms and theories that address the alignment of literature and a variety of media forms. It situates the concept in relation to existing theories and historiographies, considers emerging genres and forms such as locative narratives and autofiction, and expands discussion beyond the boundaries by which literary authorship is conventionally defined. Contributors also examine specific production and publishing contexts to provide in-depth analysis of the promotion of literary media materials. The volume further considers reading and other aspects of situated audience engagement, such as Indigenous and oral storytelling, prize and review cultures, book clubs, children, and young adults. This authoritative collection is an invaluable resource for scholars and students working at the intersection of literary and media studies.

The Afterlives of Narratives Uğur Ada, 2025-09-04. This book presents a critical analysis of processes through which narratives are reinterpreted across media genres and cultural frameworks within the context of British theatre and performance. Discussing case studies from classical and contemporary texts to verbatim and digital theatre, this interdisciplinary volume interrogates the concepts of adaptation and appropriation as both aesthetic strategies and cultural practices. Contributors engage with literary works by Zadie Smith, William Shakespeare, and others to explore how theatre and performance recreates narratives within the context of contemporary issues, techniques, and practices. Considering adaptation and appropriation within broader theatrical and socio political discourses the volume promotes the dialogic relationship between source texts and their reimaginings This edited volume is an essential resource for performers and researchers in theatre and performance studies adaptation theory and cultural studies offering authentic perspectives on the afterlives of narrative in contemporary British theatre and performance

The Post-Screen Through Virtual Reality, Holograms and Light Projections Jenna Ng,2025-10-01 Screens are ubiquitous today Yet contemporary screen media eliminate the presence of the screen and diminish the visibility of its boundaries As the image becomes indistinguishable from the viewer s surroundings this unsettling prompts re examination of how screen boundaries demarcate Through readings of three media forms Virtual Reality holograms and light projections this book develops new theories of the surfaces on and spaces in which images are displayed Interrogating contemporary contestations of reality against illusion it argues that the disappearance of difference reflects shifted conditions of actuality and virtuality in understanding the human condition These shifts further connect to the current state of politics by way of their distorted truth values corrupted terms of information and internalizations of difference The Post Screen Through Virtual Reality Holograms and Light Projections thus thinks anew the image s borders and delineations evoking the screen boundary as an instrumentation of today s intense virtualizations which do not tell the truth In the process a new imagination for images emerges for a gluttony of the virtual for new conceptualizations of object and representation materiality and energies media and histories real and unreal for new understandings of appearances dis appearances replacement and replacement the post screen

Experiencing Cinema Emma Pett,2021-01-28 Film is often conceived as a medium that is watched rather than experienced Existing studies of film audiences and of media reception more broadly have revealed the complexity of viewing practices and cultures surrounding cinema going and its exhibition spaces Experiencing Cinema offers the first in depth study of participant engagement with a range of experiential media forms derived from cinema culture From sing a long screenings to theatrical extravaganzas a broad spectrum of alternative film going practices and immersive spaces are explored and analysed in this original audience study Moving from intimate community gatherings to blockbuster urban venues from isolated farmhouses to Olympic stadia Experiencing Cinema considers the lure and value of these popular events Often attracting a diverse intergenerational range of participants from early adopter urban hipsters to DIY rural communities the growing demand for participatory cinema within the contemporary marketplace is analysed alongside broader debates circulating around the move away from traditional tiered seating and increased audience mobility and the de centring of the film text

Indie Cinema Online Sarah E.S. Sinwell,2020-08-14 Indie Cinema Online investigates the changing nature of contemporary American independent cinema in an era of media convergence Focusing on the ways in which modes of production distribution and exhibition are shifting with the advent of online streaming simultaneous release strategies and web series this book analyzes sites such as SundanceTV YouTube Netflix Hulu and other online spaces as a means of redefining independent cinema in a digital era Analyzing the intersections among cinema studies cultural studies and new media studies within contemporary convergence culture author Sarah E S Sinwell looks at sites of media convergence that are often ignored within most studies of digital media Emphasizing the ways in which the forms and technologies of media culture have changed during the age of convergence this book analyzes contemporary production distribution and exhibition practices as a means of examining the changing meanings of independent cinema within digital culture

DVD, Blu-ray and Beyond Jonathan Wroot, Andy Willis, 2017-11-03 This book demonstrates in contrast to statistics that show declining consumption of physical formats that there has not been a mass shift towards purely digital media Physical releases such as special editions DVD box sets and Blu Rays are frequently promoted and sought out by consumers And that past formats such as VHS Laserdisc and HD DVD make for sought after collectible items These trends are also found within particular genres and niche categories such as documentary education and independent film distribution Through its case studies this collection makes a distinctive and significant intervention in highlighting the ways in which the film industry has responded to rapidly changing markets This volume global in scope will prove useful to those studying the distribution and exhibition of films and the economics of the film industry around the world
