A Voice for Nonprofits Jeffrey M. Berry, 2023-07-31 Nonprofit organizations are playing an increasingly important role in delivering basic government services Yet they are discouraged by federal law from participating in legislative lobbying efforts even on issues that affect their clients directly Without the involvement of nonprofits in the governmental process the vulnerable populations they serve are left without effective representation in the political system A Voice for Nonprofits analyzes the effect of government restrictions on the participation of nonprofits in the policymaking process and suggests ways to address the problems The relationship between nonprofits and the government is ideal in many respects according to Jeffrey M Berry and David F Arons By underwriting operating budgets and subcontracting the administration of programs to nonprofits governments at all levels are able to take advantage of nonprofits dedication imagination and private fund raising skills However as nonprofits assume greater responsibility for delivering services traditionally provided by government that responsibility is not matched by a congruous increase in policy influence Berry and Arons believe the lobbying restrictions should be eased so that nonprofits may become more involved in public policymaking Their recommendations are designed to ensure that nonprofit organizations and the constituencies they serve are effectively represented in the American political system
