We are All Made of Glue by Marina Lewycka Melanie Joosten, 2010 We Are All Made of Glue Marina Lewycka, 2010

Georgie Sinclair's life is coming unstuck. Her husband's left her. Her son's obsessed with the End of the World. And now her elderly neighbour Mrs Shapiro has decided they are related. Or so the hospital informs her when Mrs Shapiro has an accident and names Georgie next of kin. This however is not a case of a quick ward visit. Mrs Shapiro has a large rickety house full of stinky cats that needs looking after that a pair of estate agents seem intent on swindling from her. Plus there are the Uselesses trying to repair it uselessly. Then there's the social worker who wants to put her in a nursing home. Not to mention some letters that point to a mysterious painful past. As Georgie tries her best to put Mrs Shapiro's life back together somehow she must stop her own from falling apart.

Reimagining Israel and Palestine in Contemporary British and German Culture Isabelle Hesse, 2024-03-05. Isabelle Hesse identifies an important relational turn in British and German literature, TV drama and film published and produced since the First Palestinian Intifada 1987-1993. This turn manifests itself on two levels: one in representing Israeli and Palestinian histories and narratives as connected rather than separate and two by emphasising the links between the current situation in Israel and the Occupied Palestinian Territories and the roles that the United Kingdom and Germany have played historically and continue to play in the region. This relational turn constitutes a significant shift in representations of Israel and Palestine in British and German culture as these depictions move beyond an engagement with the Holocaust and Jewish suffering at the expense of Palestinian suffering and indicate a willingness to represent and acknowledge British and German involvement in Israeli and Palestinian politics. This book offers new ways of thinking about how Israel and Palestine are imagined and reimagined as topics of cultural and political interest in two countries that have had complicated histories with both Israel and Palestine histories which are marked by each country's memories of the Holocaust and colonialism.

Facing the East in the West Barbara Korte, Eva Ulrike Pirker, Sissy Helff, 2010. Over the last decade migration flows from Central and Eastern Europe have become an issue in political debates about human rights, social integration, multiculturalism and citizenship in Great Britain. The increasing number of Eastern Europeans living in Britain has provoked ambivalent and diverse responses including representations in film and literature that range from travel writing, humorous fiction, mockumentaries, musicals, drama and children's literature to the thriller. The present volume discusses a wide range of representations of Eastern and Central Europe and its people as reflected in British literature, film and culture. The book offers new readings of authors who have influenced the cultural imagination since the nineteenth century such as Bram Stoker, George Bernard Shaw, Joseph Conrad and Arthur Koestler. It also discusses the work of more contemporary writers and film directors including Sacha Baron Cohen, David Cronenberg, Vesna Goldsworthy, Kapka Kassabova, Marina Lewycka, Ken Loach, Mike Phillips, Joanne K Rowling and Rose Tremain. With its focus on post-Wall Europe, Facing the East in the West goes beyond discussions of migration to Britain from an established postcolonial perspective and contributes to the current exploration of new European identities Mining the Meaning Katy Shaw,2012-03-15 This innovative study provides an exciting challenging and accessible critical introduction to cultural representations of 1984 5 and analyses the ways in which these representations articulate an essential dialogic exchange of issues central to both the coal dispute and the development of literary and cultural studies over the past twenty five years Focusing closely on the politics of form the study interrogates the significance of the mode means and function of strikers writings as well as alternative representations of the conflict offered by established writers musicians artists and film makers in the wake of the coal dispute These representations are worthy of study due to the critical interventions they offer their evidence of the cultural pressures and forces of not only the strike period but the post strike years of industrial and labour change and their remarkable contribution to existing social political and literary histories Engaging with these works many of which have never been subject to previous academic analysis the study enables twenty first century readers to re conceptualise paradigms of received wisdom concerning 1984 5 The significance of the competing representations offered by these very different cultural modes as they engage in a wider battle to author the conflict is central to this study Through a detailed analysis of these representations as well as the socio cultural contexts of their production and dissemination this book explores a range of attempts to capture the sensibilities of late twentieth century society and contributes to an ongoing debate regarding cultural representations of this period in British history Influenced by critical theory the text is the first secondary resource concerning cultural representations of the 1984 5 UK miners strike available to the reading public the world over The Literary Review ,2009 New Statesman ,2009-07 Poems That Make Grown Women Cry
