 Researchers have increasingly acknowledged the influence of biology in person perception and considerably more research has been published on this topic in humans over the last three decades Evidence suggests that how we perceive others is not only influenced by our environment but by chemical messengers found within the body including endogenous i e natural and exogenous i e synthetic hormones Yet the putative relationship between hormones and human behavior remains both controversial and disputed and the methods across studies have been inconsistent For example several studies have demonstrated increases in women s preferences for men s traits including masculine face and body shape masculine vocal characteristics facial symmetry greater height and the odor of dominant symmetrical and genetically compatible men but the methods across these studies vary considerably and the results do not always replicate ULTRA CUTE 03 Nami Akimoto, A
