We Need To Talk About Kevin Lionel Shriver, 2010-07-09 WINNER OF THE WOMEN S PRIZE FOR FICTION 2010 ONE MILLION COPIES SOLD Eva never really wanted to be a mother certainly not the mother of a boy named Kevin who murdered seven of his fellow high school students a cafeteria worker and a teacher who had tried to befriend him Now two years after her son s horrific rampage Eva comes to terms with her role as Kevin s mother in a series of startlingly direct correspondences with her absent husband Franklyn about their son s upbringing Fearing that her own shortcomings may have shaped what her son has become she confesses to a deep long standing ambivalence about motherhood How much is her fault In Lionel Shriver s hands this sensational chilling and memorable story of a woman who raised a monster becomes a metaphor for the larger tragedy the tragedy of a country where everything works nobody starves and anything can be bought but a sense of purpose

We Need to Talk about Kevin by Lionel Shriver Kevin Brophy, 2007 We Need to Talk about Kevin Lionel Shriver, 2005 WINNER OF THE ORANGE PRIZE read more Interactive online message board now live visit here Reading group questions here but don t spoil the plot Read an extract Two years ago Eva Khatchadourian s son Kevin murdered seven of his fellow high school students a cafeteria worker and a popular algebra teacher Because he was only fifteen at the time of the killings he received a lenient sentence and is now in a prison for young offenders in upstate New York Telling the story of Kevin s upbringing Eva addresses herself to her estranged husband through a series of letters Fearing that her own shortcomings may have shaped what her son has become she confesses to a deep long standing ambivalence about both motherhood in general and Kevin in particular How much is her fault Lionel Shriver tells a compelling absorbing and resonant story while framing these horrifying tableaux of teenage carnage as metaphors for the larger tragedy the tragedy of a country where everything works nobody starves and anything can be bought but a sense of purpose

The Death of the Poet N Quentin Woolf, 2014-04-04 John Knox falls passionately and irrevocably in love with Rachel McAllistair the first time they meet He interviews her for his radio show and afterwards when he tells her how impressive she was she hits him square on the jaw Undeterred he pursues her promising to love her and never to leave her This promise becomes his burden as her behaviour whirls out of control She is abusive and cruel And yet he stays Even when she does something so awful that his life is changed forever And that point on which his life turns leads him to an unexpected connection with a man who suffered a terrible injury in the first world war The Death of the Poet is a daringly honest transfixing story about being in thrall to someone being a victim and a protector and how early promise can turn into an utterly unrecognisable life An exploration of violence and what it means to be a man in the modern world it s controversial devastating and in a complicated way romantic too

They Shoot Horses, Don't They? Horace McCoy, 2011-05-26 During the Depression Gloria and Robert enter a dance marathon in return for three square meals a day and a chance at winning the big money prize Under the intense scrutiny of the media corporate sponsors and obsessive fans the competing couples are put through a series of gruelling and humiliating feats of endurance until they begin to fight among themselves and betray each other As days and weeks go by the tension reaches boiling point and this pitch black tale of desire and desperation heads towards a violent conclusion Voices and Silence in the Contemporary Novel in English Vanessa

Guignery,2009-10-02 This volume examines the various processes at work in expressing silence and excessive speech in contemporary novels in English covering the whole spectrum from effusiveness to muteness Even if in the postmodern episteme language is deemed inadequate for speaking the unspeakable contemporary authors still rely on voice as a mode of representation and a performative tool and exploit silence not only as a sign of absence block or withdrawal but also as a token of presence and resistance Logorrhoea and reticence are not necessarily antithetical as compulsive verbosity may work as a smokescreen to sidestep the real issues while silences and gaps may reveal more than they hide By submitting their texts to both expansion and retention hypertrophy and aphasia writers persistently test the limits of language and its ability to make sense of individual and collective stories The present volume analyses the complex poetics of silence and speech in fiction from the 1960 s to the present with special focus on Will Self Graham Swift John Fowles Kazuo Ishiguro Jenny Diski Lionel Shriver Mich le Roberts Margaret Atwood Jonathan Safran Foer Salman Rushdie Arundhati Roy Zadie Smith Jamaica Kincaid Ryhaan Shah and J M Coetzee Cruel Children in Popular Texts and Cultures Monica Flegel,Christopher

Parkes,2018-04-19 This book explores how alarmist social discourses about cruel young people fail to recognize the complexity of cruelty and the role it plays in child agency Examining representations of cruel young people in popular texts and popular culture the collected essays demonstrate how gender race and class influence who gets labeled cruel and which actions are viewed as negative aggressive and disruptive It shows how representations of cruel young people negotiate the violence that shadows polite society and how narratives of cruelty and aggression are used to affirm or to deny young people s agency Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts Elizabeth Podnieks,Andrea O'Reilly,2011-04-07 Textual Mothers Maternal

Texts focuses on mothers as subjects and as writers who produce auto biography fiction and poetry about maternity International contributors examine the mother without child with child and in her multiple identities as grandmother mother and daughter The collection examines how authors use textual spaces to accept negotiate resist or challenge traditional conceptions of mothering and maternal roles and how these texts offer alternative practices and visions for mothers Further it illuminates how textual representations both reflect and help to define or re shape the realities of women and families by examining how mothering and being a mother are political personal and creative narratives unfolding within both the pages of a book and the spaces of a life The range of chapters maps a shift from the daughter centric stories that have dominated the maternal tradition to the matrilineal and matrifocal perspectives that have emerged over the last few decades as the mother s voice moved from silence to speech Contributors make aesthetic cultural and political claims and critiques about mothering and motherhood illuminating in new and diverse ways how authors and the protagonists of the texts read their own maternal identities as well as the maternal scripts of their families cultures and nations in their quest for self knowledge agency and artistic expression

Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities Julie Kelso,Marie Porter,2009-05-05 Maternal research is a rapidly expanding multi disciplinary form of scholarship Prior to second wave feminism most motherhood literature was written from a male perspective This literature focused on telling mothers how to practice mothering without acknowledging the expertise of the mothers themselves Research on motherhood as it is experienced in all its facets by mothers has only emerged in recent decades This book is aimed at expanding academic knowledge of motherhood from a feminist perspective looking particularly at how maternal subjectivities can be represented and theorised When mothers themselves academic or not are responsible for theorisation and representation of maternal realities dominant theories and representations of motherhood are radically challenged In Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities the contributors argue that it is no longer acceptable to regard mothers as mere objects of knowledge and research They are primarily the subjects of knowledge and research The Green Bookshop John Salinsky,Iona Heath,Matthew Walters,2018-04-19 This collection that was first published in 2009 and is recommended reading for doctors and others includes The Green Bookshop opens its doors Books that won prizes Great books that should have won prizes Two books by one writer A handful of classic novels Short stories and essays Books and the cinema Biography and memoirs Classic books about general practice Best new books about general practice Consultation and communication Education for primary care Psychiatry psychology and a bit of philosophy and Reading for pleasure Of Mothers and Death Élisabeth Lamothe,Pascale Sardin,Julie Sauvage,2008 Ethics at the Beginning of Life James Mumford,2013-06-13 Many declare the debate about abortion to be hopelessly polarised between conservatives and liberals between forces religious and secular In this book Mumford upends this received wisdom and challenges consensus arguing that many dominant attitudes and argument fail to take into account the particular way human beings emerge in the world

Will Spook You For Real Christina Maria Huber,2018 Popular fiction can be more than feel good diversion Stories which are intended to entertain are uniquely suited to affect their recipients feelings or moods and tend to leave a more sustained impression than lectures or lists of facts It is hardly surprising therefore that story telling keeps on thriving in the 21st century with ever new media providing ever new space for narratives In Will Spook You For Real Huber examines a wide range of strategies used in fiction to trigger a specific emotion in the readers anxiety regarding the social constructs they live in and their specific positions within these constructs Can we trust our neighbours Can we rely on our governments What do big corporations have in mind And what happens if I cannot conform to the role which has been assigned to me
