White Nights By Fyodor Dostoyevsky:

White Nights and Other Stories Fyodor Dostoyevsky, Constance Garnett, 2008-11-24 A collection of compelling tales steeped in Dostoyevsky's characteristic themes of spiritual and psychological conflict evokes life in Czarist Russia. Includes The Dream of a Ridiculous Man, An Honest Thief, Bobok, and 7 more.

White Nights by Fyodor Dostoyevsky Hardcover Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1848 White Nights is a short story by Fyodor Dostoyevsky originally published in 1848 early in the writer's career. Like many of Dostoyevsky's stories, White Nights is told in the first person by a nameless narrator. The narrator is a young man living in Saint Petersburg who suffers from loneliness. He gets to know and falls in love with a young woman, but the love remains unrequited as the woman misses her lover with whom she is finally reunited.

White Nights by Fyodor Dostoyevsky Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1848 White Nights is a short story by Fyodor Dostoyevsky originally published in 1848 early in the writer's career. Like many of Dostoyevsky's stories, White Nights is told in the first person by a nameless narrator. The narrator is a young man living in Saint Petersburg who suffers from loneliness. He gets to know and falls in love with a young woman, but the love remains unrequited as the woman misses her lover with whom she is finally reunited.

White Nights Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1999 In the stories in this volume, Dostoyevsky explores both the figure of the dreamer divorced from reality and also his own ambiguous attitude to utopianism, themes central to many of his great novels. In White Nights, the apparent idyll of the dreamer's romantic fantasies disguises profound loneliness and estrangement from living life. Despite his sentimental friendship with Nastenka, his final withdrawal into the world of the imagination anticipates the retreat into the underground of many of Dostoyevsky's later intellectual heroes. A Gentle Creature and The Dream of a Ridiculous Man show how such withdrawal from reality can end in spiritual desolation and moral indifference, and how in Dostoyevsky's view the tragedy of the alienated individual can be resolved only by the rediscovery of a sense of compassion and responsibility towards fellow human beings. This new translation captures the power and lyricism of Dostoyevsky's writing, while the introduction examines the stories in relation to one another and to his novels.

White Nights Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 2017-07-25 How is this book unique? The narrator is living in Saint Petersburg and suffers from loneliness. He gets to know and falls in love with a young woman, but the love remains unrequited as the woman misses her lover with whom she is finally reunited. The story is divided into six sections. First Night: The story opens with a quotation from the poem The Flower by Ivan Turgenev: "And was it his destined part / Only one moment in his life / To be close to your heart / Or was he fated from the start / To live for just one fleeting instant / Within the purlieus of your heart." The narrator describes his experience walking in the streets of St. Petersburg. He loves the city at night, time in which he feels comfortable. He no longer feels comfortable during the day because all of the people he was used to seeing are not there. He drew his emotions from there. If they were happy, he was happy. If they were despondent, he was despondent. He felt alone when seeing new faces. He also knew the houses. As he strolled down the streets, they would talk to him and tell him how they were being renovated or painted a new color or being torn down He lives alone in a small apartment in Saint Petersburg with only his older non social maid Matryona to keep him company He tells the story of his relationship with a young girl called Nastenka a diminutive of the name Anastasia He first sees her standing against a railing while crying He becomes concerned and considers asking what s wrong but eventually steels himself to continue walking There is something special about her and he is very curious When he hears her scream he intervenes and saves her from a man who is harassing her White Nights Fyodor Dostoevsky,2018-11-22 In the stories in this volume Dostoevsky explores both the figure of the dreamer divorced from reality and also his own ambiguous attitude to utopianism themes central to many of his great novels In White Nights the apparent idyll of the dreamer s romantic fantasies disguises profound loneliness and estrangement from living life Despite his sentimental friendship with Nastenka his final withdrawal into the world of the imagination anticipates the retreat into the underground of many of Dostoevsky s later intellectual heroes A Gentle Creature and The Dream of a Ridiculous Man show how such withdrawal from reality can end in spiritual desolation and moral indifference and how in Dostoevsky s view the tragedy of the alienated individual can be resolved only by the rediscovery of a sense of compassion and responsibility towards fellow human beings White Nights and Other Stories Fyodor Dostoevsky,2025-10-21 Feeling alone and abandoned by everyone a young man and self confessed dreamer decides to take to the streets of St Petersburg during one of its long summer nights As he roams around the empty city he chances on a weeping girl whom he approaches and rescues from the unwanted attentions of an importunate gentleman The two agree to meet again the following night on the same spot and as they start revealing their life story to each other the young man cannot resist falling in love with his new acquaintance A quintessential tale of urban solitude and the desperate need for human contact White Nights a novella written in 1848 soon after The Double is accompanied in this volume by the rest of Dostoevsky s shorter fiction including famous stories such as Mr Prokharchin The Dream of a Ridiculous Man A Gentle Creature and The Crocodile all presented in sparkling new translations by Roger Cockrell List of Stories The Landlady Mr Prokharchin A Novel in Nine Letters Another Man s Wife and a Husband Under the Bed A Weak Heart Polzunkov An Honest Thief A Christmas Tree and a Wedding White Nights A Little Hero A Nasty Story Bobok The Heavenly Christmas Tree The Peasant Marei A Gentle Creature The Dream of a Ridiculous Man White Nights Fyodor Dostoyevsky,2015-08-25 A young lonely man strolls the streets of St Petersburg contemplating his solitude when he happens upon a young woman in tears While escorting her home the two strike up a conversation and soon become friends meeting up at night to share their stories When the young woman Nastenka explains that she was crying because she had been waiting for her fianc who promised he would be back to marry her the young man despite his growing feelings toward her promises to help her locate her beloved White Nights is considered to be one of Fyodor Dostoevsky s best short stories and has been adapted numerous times for film in various languages HarperPerennial Classics brings great works of literature to life in digital format upholding the highest standards in ebook production and
