Acrostic Poem Example Ecosystem:

E.E. Cummings: Poetry and Ecology Etienne Terblanche, 2012-01-01 By employing the modernist devices of fragmentation recombination and accentuated blank space E E Cummings engages singularly with being on earth This ecological achievement was largely ignored by the New Critics and the subsequent semiotic spirit which has been holding that the sign hardly has to do with concrete existence on earth ironically perpetuated the neglect In this book Etienne Terblanche shows that Cummings s ecology relocates his oeuvre and status in contemporary discourse For the poet follows mimes and connects with the unfolding changes of earthly existence and growth what he views as the Tao of being in his lyricism sex poems satire and visual verbal poems This is true especially of the elusive manner or how of his poetry overall Careful ecocritical reading of this active culture nature integrity in his poetry brings about an imperative new understanding and placement of his project It further serves to show that in their different ways T S Eliot and Ezra Pound engage with nature in a similar way thus again accentuating the importance of Cummings s poetic project to the neglected and vital ecocritical perception of modernism in poetry

Geopoetry Dale Enggass, 2025-06-17 At its core geopoetics proposes that a connection between language and geology has become a significant development in post World War II poetics In Geopoetry Dale Enggass argues that certain literary works enact geologic processes such as erosion and deposition and thereby suggest that language itself is a geologic and not a solely human based process Elements of language extend past human control and open onto an inhuman dimension which raises the question of how literary works approach the representation of nonhuman realms Enggass examines the work of Clark Coolidge Robert Smithson Ed Dorn Maggie O Sullivan Jeremy Prynne Jen Bervin Christian B k and Steve McCaffery and he finds that while many of these authors are not traditionally connected to ecocritical writing their innovations are central to ecocritical concerns In treating language as a geological material these authors interrogate the boundary between human and nonhuman realms and offer a model for a complex literary engagement with the Anthropocene Environmental Liberation Education Micaela Rubalcava, 2024-08-19 Environmental Liberation Education offers an easy to use culturally responsive and student centered teaching approach to academic engagement and systemic change It explains social emotional tools and inquiry practices to discuss reflect and act for superdiverse student success happiness and global citizenship in a challenging biodiverse world The book presents three Transformative Tools Diversity Circles to organize Multicultural Mindfulness to process and Approach in Dimension to assess The Tools show educators at all levels across disciplines how to reduce bias and make sustainability decisions daily They empower teachers to develop peace for academic concentration in busy classrooms through a holistic understanding of body mind culture and environment The book offers a range of classroom based and professional development exercises for critical consciousness including mindfulness practices transformative journal worksheets cultural actions and a self survey to establish a baseline for hands on diversity well being and sustainability competencies Synthesizing multicultural and environmental education through mindfulness practices Environmental Liberation Education is an invaluable resource for educators in training and practicing teachers The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Engaging with Environmental Education through the Language Arts Nicholas McGuinn, Amanda Naylor, 2024-11-04 This creative volume demonstrates the urgent importance of engaging students cognitively and affectively with the climate crisis and environmental education underpinning the vital role the language arts play in expanding this engagement for a better future Moving beyond the basic modalities of English chapters written by an internationally diverse group of contributors advocate for the integration of language arts with environmental education through broad representation of creative subdisciplines drama visual literacy philosophy poetry student voice and more These subdisciplines are explored to suggest the context in which environmental degradation forest ecologies carbon literacy and indigenous knowledges are taught further helping students to develop a comprehensive view of how they can effect change Ultimately the book makes a compelling argument by emphasising the significance of interdisciplinary learning in fostering a holistic understanding of environmental issues This volume will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the field of environmental and sustainability education English and literacy language arts and teacher education more broadly Undergraduate students policymakers environmental educators and curriculum designers may also benefit from this volume

Anthropocene Joshua Trey Barnett, 2022-08-01 Enormous ecological losses and profound planetary transformations mean that ours is a time to grieve beyond the human Yet Joshua Trey Barnett argues in this eloquent and urgent book our capacity to grieve for more than human others is neither natural nor inevitable Weaving together personal narratives theoretical meditations and insightful readings of cultural artifacts he suggests that ecological grief is best understood as a rhetorical achievement As a collection of worldmaking practices rhetoric makes things matter bestows value directs attention generates knowledge and foments feelings By dwelling on three rhetorical practices naming archiving and making visible Barnett shows how they prepare us to grieve past present and future ecological losses Simultaneously diagnostic and prescriptive this book reveals rhetorical practices that set our ecological grief into motion and illuminates pathways to more connected caring earthly coexistence

Anthropocene Poetics

David Farrier, 2019-02-19 How poetry can help us think about and live in the Anthropocene by reframing our intimate relationship with geological time The Anthropocene describes how humanity has radically intruded into deep time the vast timescales that shape the Earth system and all life forms that it supports The challenge it poses how to live in our present moment alongside deep pasts and futures brings into sharp focus the importance of grasping the nature of our intimate relationship with geological time In Anthropocene Poetics David Farrier shows how contemporary poetry by Elizabeth Bishop Seamus Heaney Evelyn Reilly and Christian B k among others provides us with frameworks for thinking about this uncanny sense of time Looking at a diverse array of lyric and avant garde poetry from three interrelated perspectives the Anthropocene and the material turn in environmental philosophy the Plantationocene and the role of global capitalism in environmental crisis and the emergence of multispecies ethics and extinction studies Farrier rethinks the environmental humanities from a literary critical perspective Anthropocene Poetics puts a concern with deep time at the center defining a new poetics for thinking through humanity s role as geological agents the devastation caused by resource extraction and the looming extinction crisis
