

The background of the entire slide is a sepia-toned photograph of a coastal scene. In the foreground, there is a body of water with gentle ripples. In the middle ground, a long wooden pier or dock extends from the left towards the center. To the right of the pier, there is a small, simple wooden building with a gabled roof. The background is filled with dense, dark foliage, likely trees. The overall tone is nostalgic and serene.

Time Tide and History Eleanor Dark's Fiction is the first book length edited collection of scholarly essays to treat the full span of Eleanor Dark's fiction advancing a recent revival of critical and scholarly interest in Dark's writing This volume not only establishes a new view of Dark's fiction as a whole but also reflects on the ways in which her fiction speaks to our present moment in the context of a globally fraught post pandemic Anthropocene era Above all the revisiting of Dark's fiction is mandated by a desire to recognise the ways in which it anticipates vital debates in Australian literary and national culture today about settler colonialism and its legacies and with regard to the histories condition and status of Australia's First Nations people This volume interweaves varied topical themes from formal debates about modernism historical realism and melodrama to questions about modernity's time and space about gender and cultural difference and about the specifics of built and natural environments Time Tide and History intentionally loosens the conventions of literary scholarship by including other kinds of work alongside critical and scholarly readings a written dialogue between two contemporary historians about Dark's legacy and a biographical piece on the life and role of Eleanor Dark's husband Eric Payten Dark Bringing together the interwar fiction's feminist and modernist dimensions with the historical turn of The Timeless Land trilogy the essays in Time Tide and History collectively pursue ethical and political questions while teasing out the distinctive thematic formal and aesthetic features of Dark's fiction

Eccentric Visions Gaile McGregor, 1994-05-03 What this book represents is quite literally a slice of white Australian life By noting the patterns and parallels that emerge in a random sampling of social phenomena of widely varying types from soap operas to political behaviour Gaile McGregor has constructed a model that in its challenge to uniformitarianism is a test case in ethnographic theory Using methods ranging from the hermeneutic through the structuralist to the psychoanalytic McGregor deploys the self evidence of communal life and language to establish not only that all cultural phenomena are patterned but that this patterning is unique to and consistent across the entire system Further it not only influences but constrains the way the Australian conceptualizes codifies and expresses his her existential position Hence the Australian predilection for icons of intermediacy the verandah in architecture the bush in literature the beach in folk culture the middle ground in landscape painting the pub in everyday life This identification with buffer zones between inside and outside not only mimics the Australian's real bracketing between desert and ocean but embodies his her sense of disablement vis vis both culture and nature art and techne super ego and id all of which are coded as feminine

'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901 1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter war years Born with the twentieth century a Federation baby she published ten novels amongst them one of the best loved Australian stories of all time The Timeless Land Her life spanned successive global crises two world wars the economic depression of the 1930s the Cold War each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be By far the most privileged writer of her generation her ultimate challenge was a personal one to unlock the gates of her world proof life to a society and a world in crisis The first cross cultural biography of this famous Australian writer Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives

A Career in Writing David John Carter, 1993 This thesis examines the literary career of Judah Waten 1911-1985 in order to focus on a series of issues in Australian cultural history and theory The purpose is not to discover a single key to Waten's writing across the oeuvre but rather to plot the specific occasions of this writing in the context of the structure of a career and the cultural institutions within which it was formed

Emperors in Lilliput Jim Davidson, 2022-10-05 Lilliput in this dual biography is the world of literary magazines in Australia between the 1940s and the 1980s Here Clem Christesen and Stephen Murray Smith of the journals Meanjin and Overland were determined driven visionaries Both were very human and occasionally bruised believers in and workers for a better nation The book ranges from before the Menzies era and the Cold War through the Whitlam period and beyond to the challenges of the 1980s It shows how the editors constantly aimed for a culture more liberal diverse and developed than the one then prevailing Their publications may have lacked resources and economic return but they nonetheless possessed authority regularly providing stimulation for their readers and for the nation In finely wrought detail Jim Davidson the second editor of Meanjin traces the commitment of Christesen and Murray Smith to this ambitious cultural project and how it attracted many of the key writers and thinkers of those years There are pen portraits of many of them as the reader is taken behind the scenes Emperors in Lilliput exhibits the enlightened creative spirit animating these journals at their best It is at once captivating biography and rich social history

By the Book Belinda McKay, Patrick Buckridge, 2011-05-14 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia's playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutinised in Queensland literature for 150 years and writers today maintain that complicated imaginative relationship with the idea of Queensland as both different and paradoxical By the Book looks at Queensland literature in terms of its regional cultures while also devoting chapters to Indigenous writing writing for children and travel writing In the process it rediscovers lost literary traditions and forgotten writers to stir the imagination Re evaluations of early writers like Rosa Praed and George Essex Evans set contemporary writers like David Malouf Janette Turner Hospital and Venero Armano in a new context
