

The background of the cover is a stylized illustration. In the upper right, there are several large, rounded, orange-red structures that look like futuristic buildings or parts of a machine. Beams of light or energy emanate from these structures, extending across the sky. The sky is a mix of dark red and teal. In the foreground, there are rolling hills in shades of yellow and green. On the left, a small figure of a person in a red suit is lying face down on a light blue, angular, block-like surface.
