and Graphic Novels Mathijs Peters, Yasco Horsman, 2025-10-01 This book offers philosophical and psychoanalytical reflections on the selfhood shaped in autobiographical graphic narratives or autographics. These reflections revolve around the autographic gesture. This gesture refers to firstly the leaving of graphic traces of an embodied self which secondly transform into a drawn figure that represents this self and acquires a certain autonomy as a character and which thirdly are embedded in a narrative that tells all or part of this self's life story. By combining the semiotic logics of trace, image and narrative the book argues autographics perform this gesture and shape a specific form of selfhood. The book studies this process by turning to theories about selfhood constructed primarily within the following three intellectual traditions: existential hermeneutics as developed by Paul Ricoeur, existential phenomenology as embodied by Jean Paul Sartre and psychoanalysis through the lenses of Jacques Lacan, Marion Milner and Donald Winnicott. The ideas of these authors as well as Paul de Man's and Johann Gottlieb Fichte's analyses of subject constitution are brought into dialogue with autobiographical graphic narratives by Zoe Thorogood, Katie Green, Peter Pontiac, Alison Bechdel, Yoshihiro Tatsumi, Marjane Satrapi, Riad Sattouf, Keiji Nakazawa, Lynda Barry and others. The Comics Journal, 2009 Class, Please Open Your Comics Matthew L. Miller, 2015-05-07 Comics and sequential art are increasingly in use in college classrooms. Multimodal multimedia and often collaborative the graphic narrative format has entered all kinds of subject areas and its potential as a teaching tool is still being realized. This collection of new essays presents best practices for using comics in various educational settings beginning with the basics. Contributors explain the need for teachers to embrace graphic novels. Multimodal composition is demonstrated by the use of comics. Strategies are offered for teachers who have struggled with weak visual literacy skills among students. Student generated comics are discussed with several examples. The teaching of postmodern theories and practices through comics is covered. An appendix features assignment sheets so teachers can jump right in with proven exercises. Comics and Language Hannah Miodrag, 2013-07-29 It has become an axiom in comic studies that comics is a language not a genre. But what exactly does that mean and how is discourse on the form both aided and hindered by thinking of it in linguistic terms. In Comics and Language Hannah Miodrag challenges many of the key assumptions about the grammar and formal characteristics of comics and offers a more nuanced theoretical framework that she argues will better serve the field by offering a consistent means for communicating critical theory in the scholarship. Through engaging close readings and an accessible use of theory this book exposes the problems embedded in the ways critics have used ideas of language, literature, structuralism and semiotics and sets out a new and more theoretically sound way of understanding how comics communicate. Comics and Language argues against the critical tendency to flatten the distinctions between language and images and to discuss literature purely in terms of story content. It closely examines the original critical theories that such arguments purport to draw on and shows how they in fact point away from the conclusions they are commonly used to prove. The book improves the use the field makes of existing scholarly disciplines and furthers the ongoing sophistication of the field It provides animated and insightful analyses of a range of different texts and takes an interdisciplinary approach Comics and Language will appeal to the general comics reader and will prove crucial for specialized scholars in the fields of comics literature cultural studies art history and visual studies It also provides a valuable summary of the current state of formalist criticism within comics studies and so presents the ideal text for those interested in exploring this growing area of research

Graphic Girlhoods Elizabeth Marshall, 2018-02-01 Drawing on a dynamic set of graphic texts of girlhood Elizabeth Marshall identifies the locations cultural practices and representational strategies through which schoolgirls experience real and metaphorical violence How is the schoolgirl made legible through violence in graphic texts of girlhood What knowledge about girlhood and violence are under erasure within mainstream images and scripts about the schoolgirl In what ways has the schoolgirl been pictured in graphic narratives to communicate feminist knowledge represent trauma and or testify about social violence Graphic Girlhoods focuses on these questions to make visible and ultimately question how sexism racism and other forms of structural violence inform education and girlhood From picture books about mean girls like The Recess Queen or graphic novels like Jane the Fox and Me to Ronald Searle's ghastly pupils in the St Trinian's cartoons to graphic memoirs about schooling by adult women such as Ruby Bridges's Through My Eyes and Lynda Barry's One Hundred Demons texts for and about the schoolgirl stake a claim in ongoing debates about gender and education
