O'Brien, Ronald Pepin, Ronald E. Pepin, 2014 This volume offers translations of the twelfth century Latin vitae of four monks of the Monastery of Savigny Abbot Vitalis Abbot Godfrey Peter of Avranches and Blessed Hamo Founded in 1113 by Vitalis of Mortain an influential hermit preacher Savigny expanded to a congregation of thirty monasteries under his successor Godfrey 1122 1138 In 1147 the entire congregation

joined the Cistercian Order Around 1172 two monks of Savigny Peter of Avranches and Hamo friends but very different personalities died Their stories were told in two further vitae The vitae of these four men exemplify the variety of people and movements found in the monastic ferment of the twelfth century The beauties of Baden-Baden and its environs Charles Francis Coghlan,1858 The Heart of Mid-Lothian ; Castle Dangerous Sir Walter Scott,1880 The Heart of Revolution Kathy Cantley Ackerman,2004 Despite the timeless themes of Olive Tilford Dargan s work and the acclaim she earned with her novels Call Home the Heart 1932 and A Stone Came Rolling 1935 the author who published her best known works under the pseudonym Fielding Burke has been largely forgotten by the American literary establishment In this first book length study of Dargan s life and work Kathy Cantley Ackerman poses these questions Why did Dargan s proletarian and feminist writings fall out of public favor when the literary climate changed in the 1940s and what are the issues raised in and by her work that today s readers should reconsider The Heart of Revolution combines biography and history with a critical reading of Dargan s work Ackerman pays close attention to the proletarian feminist and racial issues in the novels she then examines the ways these issues intersect in the southern Appalachian and Piedmont regions Dargan s aesthetic articulated in her depiction of the southern textile mill strikes of 1929 and the early 1930s defies the party line of the period that privileged the struggle of white working men over the concerns of women and minorities Unlike her male and many of her female counterparts in the proletarian movement Dargan envisions a world in which romantic love can coexist with the fight for socioeconomic revolution a world in which the activist does not have to surrender her individuality Through strong female characters she reconstructs the paternalistic capitalistic marriage and mother myth replacing it with a model based on egalitarian principles an ideology that has only gained relevance over time Ackerman s exploration of class race and gender in Dargan s novels individually and her consideration of Dargan s work as a whole reveal the complicated reasons for the novelist s neglect and present a compelling argument for reevaluation of her fiction A published poet Kathy Cantley Ackerman is Writer in Residence at Isothermal Community College in Spindale North Carolina She lives in Charlotte
