The Longest Memory By Fred Daguiar:

The Longest Memory Fred D'aguiar, 2017-11-16 Written in taut poetic language THE LONGEST MEMORY is set on a Virginian plantation in the 19th century and tells the tragic story of a rebellious fiercely intelligent young slave who breaks all the rules in learning to read and write in falling in love with a white girl the daughter of his owner and finally in trying to escape and join her in the free North For his attempt to flee he is whipped to death in front of his family and this brutal event is the pivot around which the story evolves Commonwealth Fiction Rajeshwar Mittapalli, Alessandro Monti, 2002

Commonwealth Literature Continues To Retain A Separate Identity In The Twenty First Century Even Though Some Of Its Creators Do Not Favour The Term Any Longer Our Identity Stems From Our History English Was A Historical Accident That Gave An Overwhelming Majority Of The Commonwealth Countries The First Opportunity For Creative Expression English Is Now The Chief Marker Of Identity For Commonwealth Fiction Which Owes Its Current High Visibility In The International Arena To English In This Light Stimulating Answers May Be Found To The Questions Concerning The Relevance Of Commonwealth As A Literary Category The Common Characteristics Of The Literatures Produced In The Former British Colonies And The Role Of Academia In Keeping Alive The Idea Of Commonwealth Literature In This Anthology Scholars From At Least Three Continents Analyse Some Important Works Of Fiction Originating From The Former British Colonies Deal With Major Topics In The Current Postcolonial Debate And Put Commonwealth Fiction Itself Into Perspective Fred

D'Aguiar and Caribbean Literature Leo Courbot, 2019-02-26 With Fred D Aguiar and Caribbean Literature Metaphor Myth Memory Leo Courbot offers the first research monograph entirely dedicated to a comprehensive reading of the verse and prose works of Fred D Aguiar prized American author of Anglo Guyanese origin Postcolonial criticism when related to the history of the African diaspora regularly inscribes itself in the wake of Sartrean philosophy However Fred D Aguiar s both typical and untypical Caribbean background in addition to the singularity of his diction call for a different approach which Leo Courbot convincingly carries out by reading literature in the light of Jacques Derrida and douard Glissant s less conventional sense of the intrinsically metaphorical and cross cultural nature of language A History of Literature in the Caribbean: English- and Dutch-speaking countries Albert James Arnold, Julio Rodríguez-Luis, J. Michael Dash, 2001-01-01 For the first time the Dutch speaking regions of the Caribbean and Suriname are brought into fruitful dialogue with another major American literature that of the anglophone Caribbean The results are as stimulating as they are unexpected The editors have coordinated the work of a distinguished international team of specialists Read separately or as a set of three volumes the History of Literature in the Caribbean is designed to serve as the primary reference book in this area The reader can follow the comparative evolution of a literary genre or plot the development of a set of historical problems under the appropriate heading for the English or Dutch speaking region An extensive index to names and dates of authors and significant historical figures completes the volume The subeditors bring to their respective specialty areas a wealth of

The British Slave Trade and Public Memory Elizabeth Kowaleski Wallace, 2006-01-11 How does a contemporary society restore to its public memory a momentous event like its own participation in transatlantic slavery What are the stakes of once more restoring the slave trade to public memory What can be learned from this history Elizabeth Kowaleski Wallace explores these questions in her study of depictions and remembrances of British involvement in the slave trade Skillfully incorporating a range of material Wallace discusses and analyzes how museum exhibits novels television shows movies and a play created and produced in Britain from 1990 to 2000 grappled with the subject of slavery Topics discussed include a walking tour in the former slave trading port of Bristol novels by Caryl Phillips and Barry Unsworth a television adaptation of Jane Austen's Mansfield Park and a revival of Aphra Behn's Oroonoko for the Royal Shakespeare Company In each case Wallace reveals how these works and performances illuminate and obscure the history of the slave trade and its legacy While Wallace focuses on Britain her work also speaks to questions of how the United States and other nations remember inglorious chapters from their past

Facing Diasporic Trauma Fatim Boutros, 2015-11-09 Fictional writing has an important mnemonic function for the Afro Carib bean community It facilitates an encounter between contemporary societies and their historical origins The representation of diasporic trauma in the novels of Fred D Aguiar John Hearne and Caryl Phillips challenges territorial under standings of nationality and raises awareness of the eurocentric basis of Western historiography Slavery is a recurring motif of the nine novels analysed in this study They narrate the fates of silenced victims who all share the traumatic experience of racial violence even if otherwise separated through time space gender and age These charismatic fictional characters facilitate an empathic access to the history of slavery that goes beyond the anonymity of traditional historical sources Their most private and intimate sorrows make the traumatic conditions of slavery appear much less remote and reveal their suffering The euphemistic and distorting selection of the events that has been passed down by the dominant culture is thus countered by a relentless display of historical violence These literary images establish an important symbolic repertoire and introduce powerful founding myths of the diaspora In spite of the traumatic foundations of the community the nine novels display considerable optimism about the possibility of a convivial future that transcends racial boundaries The capacity and willingness to improvise and adapt to new environments and to do so even in face of a traumatic heritage can be regarded as the most important precondition for positive future developments within the matrix of a rapidly transforming global environment Post-Colonial Literatures Deborah L. Madsen, 1999-06-20 The book explores what characterises a good life and how this idea has been affected by globalisation and neoliberalism Teaching American Literature in Spanish Universities Carme Manuel Cuenca, 2002 Uno de los aspectos más valiosos de este libro es que comienza enlazando a través de los dos primeros artículos la educación universitaria con su nivel inmediatamente anterior la escuela de secundaria una conexión que a menudo se olvida con serios resultados para ambos En este sentido Benito Camacho Martín el autor de uno de los artículos realiza un análisis lúcido y en cierto modo dogmático sobre el declive de la enseñanza de literatura en las escuelas de secundaria tanto en horas dedicadas como en conocimientos adquiridos Los otros artículos algunos en inglés y otros en castellano tratan distintos aspectos de la enseñanza de literatura norteamericana con un énfasis manifiesto en materiales del siglo XX y sobre todo en la literatura afroamericana de hecho el libro resultará particularmente útil para los profesores de esto último Talk Yuh Talk Kwame Senu Neville Dawes, 2001 In the past 30 years most Caribbean poetry written in English has come to the US in the lyrics of reggae music but that is only one aspect of a tradition characterized by continuing tension within a diverse heritage Interviews in this collection reflect a range of Caribbean voices from several generations from those poets influenced by a dynamic interplay between the popular culture of reggae music and yard theater to those whose work is closer to classical forms of literature and oral narrative Dawes teaches English at the University of South Carolina Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. continuing legacies of the UK's largely forgotten slave past. In this highly original study of contemporary postcolonial literature, Abigail Ward explores a range of novels, poetry, and non-fictional works by these authors in order to investigate their creative responses to the slave past. This is the first study to focus exclusively on British literary representations of slavery and thoughtfully engages with such notions as the ethics of exploring slavery, the memory and trauma of this past, and the problems of taking a purely historical approach to Britain's involvement in slavery or Indian indenture. Although all three authors are concerned with the problem of how to commence representing slavery, their approaches to this problem vary immensely, and this book investigates these differences.

Authority and Displacement in the English-Speaking World (Volume II), Florence Labaune-Demeule, 2016-01-14. Whether one thinks of the modern world or of more remote times, both seem to have been affected, if not moulded, by the interaction between the concepts of authority and displacement. Indeed, political and social sources of authority have often been the causes of major geographical displacements, as can be illustrated by the numerous waves of migration which have been observed in the past and which are still present today, such as the transportation of slaves from African to American coasts in colonial times. If displacement can often be understood as spatial displacement, it can also be synonymous with psychological, social, and even aesthetic displacement, for instance through different artistic means or through the use of stylistic discursive devices. Displacement also entails displacement, dislocation, as well as dislocation or chaos. This suggests that the etymological meaning of the term authority, auctoritas, has to be highlighted, thus referring to the author of a particular work and to the different manifestations of the authorial persona in a work of art. This collection of essays in two volumes examines the relationships between the concepts of authority and displacement in the English speaking world without restricting the analysis to a particular area or to the field of literature Some essays do indeed deal with literature from different spatial areas and temporal eras while others look into these concepts from a more cultural or aesthetic point of view Volume Two Exploring American Shores includes essays on the place of famous fugitives in American culture notably through the story of Bonnie and Clyde as well as on the links between displacement authority and sculpture on the one hand Placing and Replacing the Capitol Sculptures and on the links between displacement and photography on the other through a study of Joel Sternfeld s Walking the High Line In addition to investigations of Louise Erdrich s novel Books and Islands in Ojibwe Country Canadian landscapes in transit will be studied to highlight the displacement of the Western landscape tradition in English Canada The volume concludes with a study of some literary works by several writers of Guyanese origin first with an essay comparing Martin Carter s and L on Gontran Damas s literary productions and then with an essay devoted to Fred D Aguiar s novel The Longest Memory 1994

Narrative Projections of a Black British History Eva Ulrike Pirker, 2012-03-29 This book analyses narratives that center on construct or comment on black British history Outlining the emergence of black history in Britain and shifts in the politics of history it principally focuses on recent narratives that engage critically with the historical culture surrounding black Britain

A History of British, Irish and American Literature Hans-Peter Wagner, 2021-10-04 The third revised and enlarged edition contains discussions of British Irish and American literary works up to 2020 Focussing on outstanding writings in prose poetry drama and non fiction the book covers the time from the Anglo Saxon period to the 21st century The feature that makes this literary history unique among its rivals is the coverage of television web series as a particular form of postmodern drama The chapters on recent drama now contain detailed analyses of the development of TV and web series from Britain Ireland and America with extensive discussions of those series now considered classics In addition there are several major innovative features To begin with each century is introduced by a survey of the socio political and cultural backgrounds in which the literary works are embedded Furthermore extensive visual material more than 160 engravings cartoons and paintings has been integrated This visual aspect as well as the introductory sections on art for each century give the reader an excellent idea of the symbiosis between visual and literary representations Further innovative aspects include discussions of non fictional works from literary criticism and theory travel writing historiography and the social sciences analyses of such popular genres as crime fiction science fiction fantasy the Western horror fiction and children s literature footnotes explaining technical and historical terms and events a detailed glossary of literary terms chronological tables for British Anglo Irish and American literatures an updated cut off date 2020 extensive bibliography containing suggestions for further reading

Across the Lines , 2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries

Epic Performances from the Middle Ages Into the Twenty-first Century Fiona Macintosh, Justine McConnell, Stephen Harrison, Claire Kenward, 2018 Greek and Roman epic poetry has always provided creative artists with a rich storehouse of themes this volume is the first systematic attempt to chart its afterlife across a range of diverse performance traditions with analysis ranging widely across time place genre and academic and creative disciplines

Critical Voicings of Black Liberation Kimberley Louise Phillips, 2003 The contributions to Critical Voices of Black Liberation in the Americas originated from the 1999 CAAR Conference in Munster and from conferences held in the US in 2000 and 2001 More than half of the eleven essays consider black performances on stage in sound and on film the remaining essays explore slavery African American literature and nineteenth century black educators These exciting essays creatively examine artistic and or political articulation of black liberation as the construction of a new critical and signifying voice This liberated and critical voice asserts itself as much as a communal expression of black subjectivities as it is an articulation of the black self
